69 Perish In Sahara Plane Crash

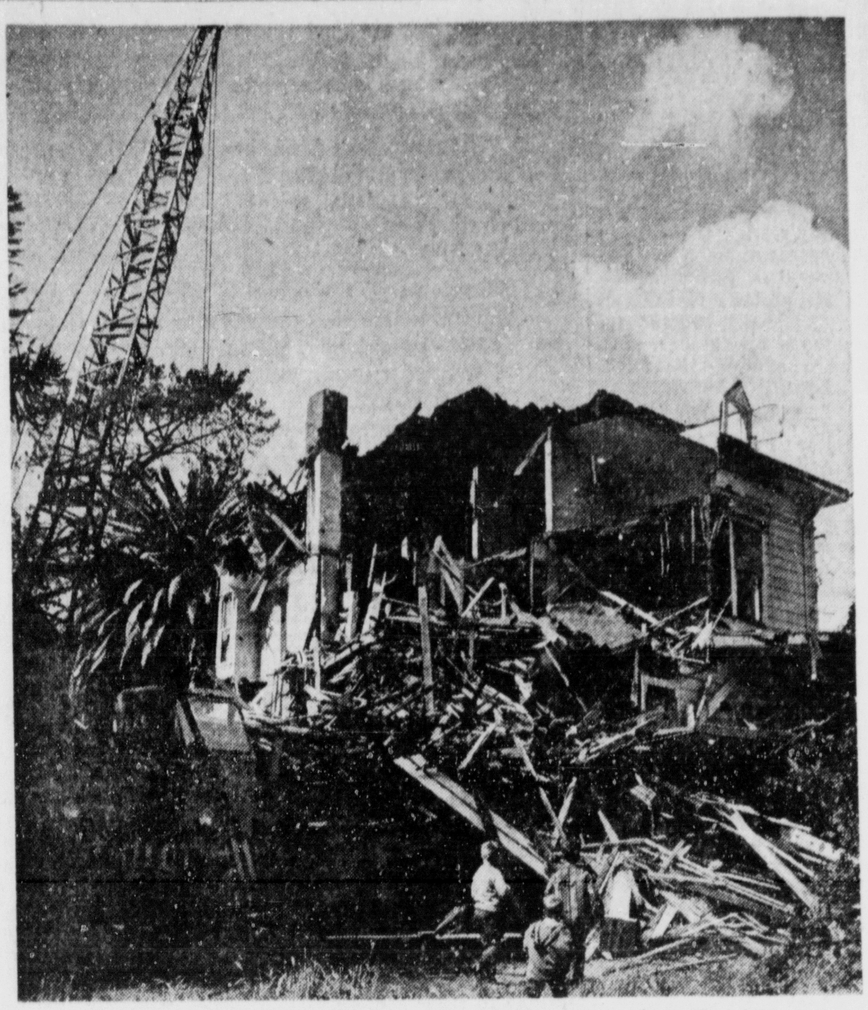
ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—An Air France Super-Starliner, with a veteran pilot at the controls, crashed in darkness in the heart of the desolate Sahara today, killing all 69 persons aboard. Five Americans were among the dead.

The wreckage was spotted from the air a few miles from the oasis village of Rhamades—also known as Ghamades—just across the Algerian border in Libya. Cause of the crash was not known.

Among the dead was the whole family of Alan Lukens, of Philadelphia, U. S. charge d'affaires at Bangui, capital of the Central African Republic (formerly French Congo). They were his wife Mary Ann, 34, who was expecting another baby in a month; three children—Elizabeth, 6, Edward C., 5, and Alan Jr., almost 3—and his mother, Mrs. Edward C. Lukens, also of Philadelphia.

The plane, with pilot Robert Boucher, 39, in command, was on a long 2,500-mile flight from Fort Lamy, in Chad, to Marseilles, when it disappeared and crashed in an area that is littered with the hulks of shot-down World War II aircraft. The regularly scheduled flight originated in Brazzaville, and was due to end in Paris.

From Brazzaille, the plane flew about 350 miles over jungle forests to Bangui, where Lukens put his family aboard and remained behind at his post. Then it made another 300 miles to Fort Lamy, last big city on the southern fringe of the Sahara.



CHURCH TO REPLACE HISTORIC HOME

The old Freitas Home Ranch home in Terra Linda, a landmark in Marin since pioneer days, went down under the blows of a Ghilotti Brothers wrecker today—to make way for future building of a church for new St. Isabella's Catholic Parish. Rev. Edward Dingberg, priest of the new parish, said construction will start this summer on the 10-acre property given to the Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco by the Freitas estate. Father Dingberg has temporary offices in the Louis Freitas cottage near the old home. (Independent-Journal photo)

Survey Of Hub's Books Locked Up

By WAT TAKESHITA

A survey report on bookkeeping procedures in the City of San Anselmo was sealed and locked in the city's vaults last night as "highly confidential and not in the public interest" to reveal.

At the same time, City Administrator Douglas Flautt reported that a mixup still exists in the city's books, and he needs more help to straighten it out. He said he cannot find the source of transfer of funds in a "couple of entries" in the city's books. The council asked Flautt to present specifics on May 23.

City councilmen decided to seal all six copies of a report made in March by the San Francisco accounting firm of Lindquist, Von Heusen and Joyce. Although the survey was paid for by public funds and deals with accounting of public funds, City Atty. John G. Buresh declared "the report is a special report and not a public record." He recommended that "for the best interest of the city," the report be sealed and filed away.

The council voted to keep the report secret over the objections of taxpayer Hans E. Fischel of 107 Brookside Drive. Fischel said his demand was not motivated by any animosity, "since I actively campaigned for some of you." But he said he feels the city is on shaky legal ground and subject to criticism by hushing up an accounting report made to see what was causing confusion in the city's books.

"The report was paid for from taxpayers' funds $500 is my understanding), and the taxpayer should be entitled to know exactly what he paid for," Fischel declared.

Following the report, the city council demoted City Controller Ann Grant and released secretary-stenographer Katherine Wolcott from the controller's office.

Fischel's statement continues:

"While originally just interested in the reasons for the long-standing difficulties in the city's accounting procedures, you must realize that your unsolicited emphasis that no misuse of funds is involved and your vague statement that publication would not be in the best interests of the city can only lead to suspicion such as neglect of duty by more than one party, etc.

"Suppressing of the report seems in conflict with the public disclosure laws and violates our principle of good government when you set yourself up as judge and jury deciding what is good for John Q. Public to know."

Fischel indicated he may not let the matter rest, and is con-

Recreation Bond Issue Approved In Terra Linda

Terra Linda voters yesterday approved a $233,000 bond issue for development of recreational facilities, by a a vote of 724 for and 286 against.

Two-thirds favorable vote was necessary. The bonds received 71.6 per cent.

"We're pleased with the results," said Walter J. Fairweather, chairman of the board of the Terra Linda Recreational District. "We are particularly pleased with the large turnout of voters."

(At the March 7 annexation election, 1,495 people in Terra Linda voted, compared to 1,010 in yesterday's election.)

The first steps will be to meet with the architects to start working drawings for the entire project, Fairweather said.

"We have asked a representative of Rolston, Hannamoto and Mayes, San Francisco architects, to meet with the board next Wednesday," he announced.

Pre-election plans of the board called for constructing a swimming pool, purchasing the community center building, making an addition to the community center building, adding a patio to the community center, constructing playgrounds, landscaping the two parks and building parking areas.

"Bids are the only determining factor now," Fairweather said. "We feel they should run under our estimates. We should get all of the projects under simultaneously."

Fairweather said that it would take 60 to 90 days to get the bonds sold, so he felt that there was very little chance on completing the swimming pool this season.

Defense Plans To Put Aldeguer On The Stand

Luis S. Aldeguer, 37, Mill Valley murder suspect, will take the witness stand himself in the battle for his life, his attorney Peter Allen Smith declared today.

Public Defender Smith opened the defense this morning with a parade of character witnesses in an effort to show the jury that Aldeguer is basically a non-violent man.

The defense also planned to call a psychiatrist to testify as to Aldeguer's intent and his awareness of what he was doing when he stabbed his estranged wife about 27 times and fatally stabbed her boy friend, James Roger Collins Jr., 38.

The slaying occurred at Mrs. Ruth S. Aldeguer's home at 10 Plymouth Circle last Jan. 21.

Aldeguer has never denied the stabbings. However, he has maintained from the outset that it was intense jealousy of his love rival that drove him to strike out blindly at Collins and Mrs. Aldeguer.

He was expected to pour out his account of the stabbings before a jury of four men and eight women, hearing the case before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety wound up his case yesterday with a picture of Aldeguer reenacting the crime at the Mill Valley home. Former police officer Carl Mead of Mill Valley testified that Aldeguer got the knife from a shelf in the back of the family garage before breaking in on Collins and Mrs. Aldeguer in the kitchen.

Deputy Quits; Under Fire In Attack Case

Douglas Gledhill, 43, Marin deputy sheriff for almost four years, suddenly resigned today under fire.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos's only comment was he would accept Gledhill's resignation.

Gledhill's letter said he enjoyed his work with the sheriff's office but is resigning for personal reasons.

In an interview in the sheriff's office, Gledhill said he was notified he would be dismissed, and so he asked to resign instead.

As Gledhill explained it, he was patrolling in the Santa Venetia area last Friday when he came upon a youth suspected of statutory rape of a 16-year-old girl. He did not arrest the youth on the spot but talked to the girl's parents the next day. He did not make out a report.

"As I look back, I probably should have made out a report right away," said Gledhill. "But I judged it with my heart instead of with my badge."

Bill To Extend Daylight Time Wins Key Test

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A bill to extend daylight savings time in California for another month won a key test in the State Senate this morning.

The bill by Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley won a "do pass" recommendation from the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee and moves to the floor of the Senate for final approval. In recent years, all attempts to extend summer time from the last Sunday in September to the last Sunday in October to conform with eastern states, have died in committee.

The change in attitude was expressed by Hugh Burns (D-Fresno): "I've been opposed to daylight saving time all my life, but the people feel otherwise. They like it. I've decided if I can't whip 'em, I'll join 'em."

Bagley made only a brief presentation. He was opposed by the State Grange and a railroad union.

If approved by the full Senate, it already has Assembly approval, the proposal would be placed on the November 1962 ballot for ratification by the voters.

'Poison Pen Letter' On Waterfront Plan

Sausalito city councilmen expressed shock last night upon receipt of a communication from the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce which Councilman Michael Harris termed a "poison pen letter."

The letter was delivered by Alan H. Scurfield and signed by Russell H. Papenhausen, chamber president.

It demanded the council make an immediate investigation of Charles E. Finney's minority report of the Citizens Central Waterfront Committee, issued Aug. 12, 1960.

The letter raised five questions:

"1. Was Finney's so-called minority report plan for the Civic Center area truly an official minority action of the committee?

"2. Was his "report" a personal, private scheme which was submitted unilaterally by him to the press and to the city council?

"3. Did any member of the committee see Mr. Finney's plan at an official session of the committee, or was a vote of the committee asked for on his plan?

"4. Has Mr. Finney flagrantly and unethically usurped his position as chairman of the council - appointed committee by this misrepresentation for self-service?

"5. Was Mr. Finney subsequently "rewarded" by appointment to the planning commission?"

The letter said, if these statements truly reflect the situation, "it appears Finney's appointment as planning commissioner should be terminated forthwith."

At a special meeting Monday, the chamber adopted a resolution recommending to the city council that the majority report

Fish Research Center Slated For Net Depot

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — The now idle Tiburon Naval Net Depot will become a Pacific Coast research center to help improve sports fishing, Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) announced today.

The Fish and Wildlife Service has applied to the Navy for use of the unoccupied new depot buildings and dock facilities. Preliminary Navy response has been favorable, Miller said.

"This center will become Pacific Coast headquarters for research and coordination of research on migratory species of salt water sport fish," he declared.

The new facility, to be known as the Pacific Marine Game Fish Research Center, will be a counterpart of a center established last year at Fort Hancock, Sandy Hook, N. J. They are financed under a bill sponsored by Miller and five other congressmen in the 1959 congressional session. Last year $150,000 was appropriated for the research program's budget.

$168,000 ASKED

For the next budget year, starting July 1, $168,000 is being requested, although Miller told the House Appropriatons Committee last month "a program of about $850,000 is the practical amount that will permit an orderly stepping up of this program toward the authorized scope."

With the lower budget appropriation, the project at Tiburon would start out with just two men. James L. Squire Jr., a Fish and Wildlife Service fishery biologist now assigned to the University of California at Los Angeles, will be one. The director of the center, who will be the other, has not yet been appointed.

Eventually, a staff of 12 is planned.

Parents Ask Freshman Curriculum Changes

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

A delegation of parents last night asked the San Rafael Board of Education to delete freshman orientation, exploratory language and life adjustment courses from the schools' curriculum.

They presented a petition bearing 90 signatures—all obtained within 24 hours, spokesman William Connolly said.

The board decided to meet as a committee of the whole next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building to give the parents an opportunity to present their case more fully.

In their petition the parents said they felt the curriculum should be strengthened at all levels by alloting more time to "basic academic subjects, with greater emphasis being placed on better performance on the part of the students."

They suggested that, beginning at the junior high level, greater emphasis be placed on "student ethics, with a standard as to discipline, manners and mode of dress. Improvement in this area is vitally important."

The petitioners said they were not criticizing either the past or present board of education. They observed there are "many fine things" about the present curriculum, but wanted a re-evaluation considering both parents' and educators' views.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas had two reports prepared, on exploratory language and freshman social studies, which includes orientation. Both had been requested previously by the two newly elected board members, Mrs. Bella Aaron and John M. Bagshaw.

The superintendent said there has to be a careful study involving a representative group of people before changes can be proposed, and this

Rapid Transit Voting Bill Gets A Boost

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The State Senate gave tentative approval yesterday to a reduction of voting requirements for passage of a Bay Area Rapid Transit District bond issue from 66⅔ to 60 per cent.

The approval came in form of an amendment to a bill by Assemblyman Jerome Waldie (D-Antioch). Waldie's bill would permit appointment of local governmental officials to the transit district board.

Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy, who had been unable to get his own bill calling for the voting reduction out of the Senate Transportation Committee, proposed the amendment. It was passed unanimously after McCarthy agreed to get a legislative counsel's opinion on whether the amendment would affect any district other than the rapid transit district. McCarthy said it would not.

The Senate will vote on it again when it considers passage of the Waldie bill. Then it would return to the Assembly for consideration of the Senate amendments.

The rapid transit district is hoping to have a construction bond issue, possibly as high as a billion dollars, on the June 1962 primary election ballot.

Parents Ask Freshman Curriculum Changes

In their petition the parents said they felt the curriculum should be strengthened at all levels by alloting more time to "basic academic subjects, with greater emphasis being placed on better performance on the part of the students."

They suggested that, beginning at the junior high level, greater emphasis be placed on "student ethics, with a standard as to discipline, manners and mode of dress. Improvement in this area is vitally important."

The petitioners said they were not criticizing either the past or present board of education. They observed there are "many fine things" about the present curriculum, but wanted a re-evaluation considering both parents' and educators' views.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas had two reports prepared, on exploratory language and freshman social studies, which includes orientation. Both had been requested previously by the two newly elected board members, Mrs. Bella Aaron and John M. Bagshaw.

The superintendent said there has to be a careful study involving a representative group of people before changes can be proposed, and this

Rapid Transit Voting Bill Gets A Boost

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The State Senate gave tentative approval yesterday to a reduction of voting requirements for passage of a Bay Area Rapid Transit District bond issue from 66⅔ to 60 per cent.

The approval came in form of an amendment to a bill by Assemblyman Jerome Waldie (D-Antioch). Waldie's bill would permit appointment of local governmental officials to the transit district board.

Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy, who had been unable to get his own bill calling for the voting reduction out of the Senate Transportation Committee, proposed the amendment. It was passed unanimously after McCarthy agreed to get a legislative counsel's opinion on whether the amendment would affect any district other than the rapid transit district. McCarthy said it would not.

The Senate will vote on it again when it considers passage of the Waldie bill. Then it would return to the Assembly for consideration of the Senate amendments.

The rapid transit district is hoping to have a construction bond issue, possibly as high as a billion dollars, on the June 1962 primary election ballot.

Fulbright's 'Peeved' Over U.S. Ambassador Rotation

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy is on notice that there is some potentially annoying friction in the relations of his State Department with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

If Kennedy needed any new evidence of this, he got it yesterday with the denunciation by Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of what the senator called the "idiotic policy" of shifting ambassadors around.

The system of rotating diplomats from one post to another long has peeved Fulbright and other members of the committee. They have complained that an ambassador hardly gets settled down to his job before he is sent packing in a couple of years to a new and possibly unfamiliar assignment.

Since Kennedy took over the presidency there has been a seemingly endless stream of nominees parading before the committee.

About 40 ambassadors appointed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower are still on the job. While some of them will stay put, others obviously will hop the diplomatic merry-go-round.

While Fulbright's complaint against these transfers is not new, its sharply worded form seemed to indicate there is more irritation with State Department policies involved than meets the eye.

For instance, Fulbright was said to have had another appointee in mind for the ambassadorship to Iran that went to Julius C. Holmes, a veteran of about 35 years in the Foreign Service.

The committee chairman voted for Holmes when the latter was confirmed by the Senate Monday on a 63-17 count but let others carry the ball in the fight over confirmation.

While he said little about it publicly, Fulbright was irked that the committee was not consulted in advance about the decision to let the ill-fated Cuban invasion go ahead.

Fulbright obviously wants to go along with the administration where he can—and he usually resolves his doubts in the president's favor. But colleagues know from past experience that the Arkansan is a spirited fellow not inclined to endure in silence the ignoring of views he regards as vital.

NOT SO GRIM

The Changing Face Of Richard Nixon

DETROIT (AP)—There is a new Richard M. Nixon politicking about the land.

It's a Nixon most people never saw, a Nixon relaxed and quick with the wisecrack.

Nixon moves on to Columbus, Ohio, to wind up his week-long tour tonight. Although he will continue to whack away at Democrats, he may occasionally drop the deadly seriousness that has become almost a Nixon trademark.

You will remember the tone of the last presidential campaign. Grim was the word for John F. Kennedy, even grimmer were the words for Richard M. Nixon.

What jesting there was usually came in set jokes or comments that were repeated over and over in town after town.

Nixon still follows that pattern. But the former vice president shows he also has unrehearsed flashes of humor.

Yesterday at a Detroit news conference Nixon was asked the inevitable question: Has he closed the door on running for governor of California in 1962?

"The answer is yes," Nixon said with a grin, "but many people in California are saying, 'Open the door, Richard.'"

This is the title of a vaudeville song popular a dozen or more years ago. It brought an appreciative laugh.

Nixon is fresh from defeat. He says he isn't running for anything. The next presidential race is far off.

There are no bands for Nixon, few banners, no parades.

But the crowds have been large, and the talks sound like midseason campaign talk.

Nixon drew 550 persons to a Detroit luncheon, and last night, at a combination stage spectacular and Republican fund raising spree, 12,500 tickets were sold, at from $5 to $50 apiece.

Parochial School Aid Gets Backer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Herbert Zelenko (D-N. Y.) armed with the endorsement of Francis Cardinal Spellman, today expressed cautious optimism for his plan to give direct federal aid to parochial schools.

Zelenko's bill would combine President John F. Kennedy's public school aid plan with a proposal for limited federal grants to private and church-operated elementary and secondary schools.

Kennedy has said many times he regards any direct grants to non-public schools unconstitutional. He particularly opposes any attempt to the public and private schools together in an aid bill.

But Zelenko went ahead with plans to offer his bill as a substitute for the 3.3 billion dollar Kennedy measure when it is taken up by the house education and labor committee.

"I think we have possibilities," Zelenko said. "I don't believe in doing something I know is futile, and I don't think this is futile."

U.S. Floods

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Damaging spring floods poured across lowlands of the nation's midsection today, bringing more misery and discomfort to thousands.

To many in the river towns, it was the seasonal back-breaking job of fighting the rampaging waters.

The worst flooding appeared in southern Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Kansas and Kentucky. Thousands were homeless. Some communities were isolated. There was fear in some areas of typhoid fever from contaminated water.

But there were a few bright spots in the murky water picture. No rain splashed across the drenched flood belt and fair weather was the immediate outlook for most areas. The worst appeared over in some sections.

Laos Protest

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The government of Laos formally complained to the International Control Commission that Pathet Lao rebels have continued to attack anti-communist Meo Tribesmen at Padong in defiance of the cease fire, informed sources said today.

The sources said Deputy Premier Phoumi Nosavan lodged the protest with the three-nation peace team yesterday, less than 24 hours after it had arrived.

The ICC announced it had received an invitation to go to the rebel stronghold at Xieng Khouang. Presumably the protest will be taken up there.

Turkey Plot Smashed

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkey's ruling military junta claims it has smashed a plot by supporters of deposed Premier Adnan Menderes to topple President Gemal Gursel's government. About 80 persons were reported under arrest.

Latin American Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate passed and sent back to the House last night a bill to provide 600 million dollars for President John F. Kennedy's Latin American aid program.

The money bill, designed to help Latin American nations help themselves, included 500 million dollars for general aid and 100 million dollars for earthquake rehabilitation in Chile.

The House, which originally passed a slightly different version, was expected to refer the Senate-approved measure to a conference committee to work out a compromise.

Astronaut Relaxes

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. planned to spend a quiet day with his family today.

Shepard and his wife Louise returned to their brick and wood-trimmed home yesterday after "recuperating" at nearby Langley Air Force Base.

Accompanying the pair here were Shepard's parents, his sister, and Mrs. Shepard's parents.

It is estimated that West Virginia hunters annually bag around one million cottontail rabbits.

Eichmann Hate Called Worse Than Hitler's

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann was a more rabid anti-Semite than Adolf Hitler, the prosecution charged today.

A document was introduced purporting to prove that Eichmann urged the extermination of Jews at a time when Hitler and the German Army opposed it.

Going into the fifth week of Eichmann's trial, the prosecution began forging a chain of evidence that Eichmann, despite his protests to the contrary, personally ordered the execution of Jews and even was willing to go beyond his authority to bring it about.

HITLER SOFT

Today evidence was offered that Eichmann considered Hitler to be too soft toward the Dutch Jews. The issue was whether children of mixed marriages — half Aryan and half Jew—should be sent to extermination camps.

The document was a letter to Artur Seyssinquart, Nazi governor of occupied Holland, from one of his subordinates. It referred to a ruling (apparently made without consulting Hitler) that Dutch Jews of mixed ancestry should be killed along with full blooded Jews.

The letter noted that Hitler and the German Army were opposed to this on the grounds that many one-quarter Jews were in the German Army and would have to be discharged under the new regulations. But Eichmann was in favor of the rule, the letter said.

CALLED PROOF

"This document," said Israeli Solicitor General Gavriel Back, "is one of the many cases in which Eichmann proved to be even more extreme than the Fuehrer himself."

An earlier document charged that Belgian Jews were forced to march ahead of the corpse singing a special anthem whenever one of their number was executed at the Breendock Concentration Camp. The title of the anthem was: "Never Shall We Forget Breendock, The Jewish Paradise."

IT'S ALL A GAG, GAGARIN —THE WORLD'S A DISC

LONDON (UPI)—The Flat Earth Society said today that Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., the first United States astronaut, will never go into orbit—because there isn't any such thing.

And if Maj. Yuri Gagarin thought the world was round on his satellite trip last month, he was simply repeating an error mankind has been making ever since the days of Christopher Columbus.

"Humanity has been brain-washed by scientists into the round earth theory," said Samuel Shenton, secretary of the society. "But our members will continue to proclaim the truth—that it's shaped like a disc."

Shenton said the group is "firm in our resistance to the fiction that the world is round. Gagarin may have thought he went in a circle around the earth, but actually he was travelling in an eliipse paralel to the earth."

'U.S. Sub Watched As Rebels Invaded Cuba'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U. S. submarine was within watching distance when Cuban rebels launched their ill-fated invasion of Cuba, it was reported today.

The Navy said it had no comment.

Reliable sources said the USS Spikefish observed some of the first barges landing and then was ordered to leave the area immediately.

The submarine, which sank two Japanese ships during World War II, later showed up at the Guantanamo Naval Base at the other end of the island, according to these sources.

It was not learned whether the submarine was acting as an escort or keeping an undetected eye on the rebel ships as part of the Navy's general surveillance of Cuban waters.

The rebels landed simultaneously on three beaches at the Bay of Pigs on Cuba's southern coast shortly after midnight April 17. The area is 90 miles southeast of Havana.

In the fighting which followed, the rebels soon were crushed by Premier Fidel Castro's forces. Some of their ships were sunk offshore from the invasion beaches. The U. S. submarine was not believed to have been in the area when this happened.

Later, hundreds of rebel prisoners were questioned over Castro's national television network. Some said they saw at least one U. S. destroyer while en route to the invasion site. But no mention was made of any submarines.

The new report came as pressure continued to grow for a closer congressional watch on U. S. intelligence activities, including the military as well as the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Novato Council Hopes Planner Will Stay On

William G. Schneeflock last night resigned from the Novato Planning Commission—but city councilmen declined to accept the resignation hoping he can find a way to remain on the commission.

Schneeflock plans to study for a master's degree in adult education and agricultural economics at University of California at Davis. He will take a year's leave from his post of 4-H Club specialist, advising 16 coast region counties for the University of California at Berkeley. The resignation is to take effect July 1.

City councilmen expressed hope that Schneeflock would find a way to attend commission meetings while studying at Davis. Schneeflock said today he hopes to rent his Novato home and move to Davis temporarily, but if he cannot, he probably would spend weekdays at Davis.

He has been on the planning commission since its seven members were first appointed in mid-February, 1960, a month and one-half after incorporation of Novato.

If he, his wife and two daughters move to Davis, Mrs. Schneeflock also will return to school to complete work for a bachelor's degree in elementary education.

Citizens Committee Looks Into Future Of An Enlarging Novato

(This is another of a series of articles on the reports of Novato citizen committees formed to assist in preparing a Novato master plan.)

By ELLEN BRY

A Novato citizen group has looked ahead and seen the day when the vastly enlarged city will need a government center, including a court room and judges' chambers.

The governmental center envisioned for the future Novato should contain room for a police department of at least 35 men, an office for a deputy district attorney for North Marin, a courtroom and chambers for a municipal court judge, jail facilities for at least 20 persons, and facilities for a sheriff's substation, a citizen report says.

The farseeing report is one of eight being submitted to the Novato planning commission as citizens' advice on what is needed and wanted in the future. Sydney Hammill is head of the Public Facilties Committee.

The seven persons comprising the committee declined to propose a specific site for this government center because of lack of time for a study of cost and other factors, the report says.

Possibilities the committee considered:

1. The present site of the Novato Community Club, 906 Machin Street, plus the adjoining site of the Novato Presbyterian Church and adjacent home sites. Neither the clubhouse nor the church is an adequate building for government offices, though either might serve for temporary quarters, later to be razed for a permanent building.

(The city is attempting to gain control of the community club property through court action. City offices now are located in rented quarters at 826 Grant Avenue.)

2. The site suggested in the present advisory county master plan is north of Olive Street on the west side of Highway 101 and has between 10 and 15 acres. Purchase of the land could be financed by the city and construction of a building might be financed through a bond issue or capital improvement program.

3. A government center as part of a large park-recreation-cultural center of about 1,500 acres as suggested in the report of a citizen committee on parks and recreation. A suggested site is the Freitas "C" Ranch.

4. Land bordered by Highway 101 and South Novato Boulevard, west and south of Lynwood School, with the possibility of a gift site. But there is a flood problem.

"The committee feels the city council should take action on this matter as soon as possible," the report says.

5. Until a permanent site is found the city may need to rent larger offices and police facilities.

Some other committee recommendations:

Schools—Noting an "enrollment explosion," committee members placed most emphasis on holding sites after they have been acquired.

"Obviously it is absolutely worthless to work out a plan and then negate that plan every time some builder decides he wants to build in the area designed for a school," said the report.

The solution? "Laying out an excellent school site plan" and "refusing to alter the plan except under the most extraordinary conditions."

Other school suggestions: Insist that large subdivisions have sites set aside for schools. "Complete denial" of commercial construction on sites planned for schools. Assessment of each unit of multiple dwellings and each trailer plot.

Police—There should be 1.5 policemen to every 1,000 population.

Fire—The ratio of firemen to population should be the same as for the police.

Cultural—The city will need one or more libraries. Also needed will be an auditorium, concert hall, museum and/or art gallery.

The committee recommended their placement in a large park, perhaps the Freitas "C" Ranch, with the possibility of a government center, high school or junior college in the same area.

Hospital — The committee "strongly recommended" that the city consider setting aside land for a hospital which could grow with the city.

Committee members signing the report were R. J. Baldi Jr., Lee Cole, Mrs. Robert Merritt, Mrs. David Patterson, Robert Rankin, Alan Swabacker and Chairman Hammill.

Youth Swerves To Avoid Cat, Truck Ditched

A wandering Point Reyes cat dashing across the road caused a Redwood High School youth to ditch a truck yesterday with minor injuries to himself. A girl companion escaped unscathed.

Arnold William Porter, 17, of 3 Alta Terrace, Corte Madera, was driving 17-year-old Cindy Young of San Francisco west on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near the turnoff to Drake's Beach at 11:45 a.m.

A cat ran across the road, Porter related. Porter swerved onto the grass, where the wheels slipped. The truck took out two sections of barbed wire fence before halting in a shallow ditch.

Marin General Hospital treated Porter for cuts and a wrenched shoulder and back.

Hub Planner Quits, Protests Clerk Dismissal

A member of the San Anselmo Planning Commission resigned and the commission chairman sent a letter of protest to the city council last night over the dismissal of a stenographer-clerk who was acting as planning commission secretary.

Planning Commissioner Eugene Robinson sent in his letter of resignation with this brief comment: "After the action taken by the city council in regard to the present secretary to the planning commission, I do not care to remain on the planning commission any longer."

R. H. Spatz, commission chairman, protested the release of Katharine Wolcott, commission secretary. With her release, the secretarial and clerical work of the planners will be handled by the city engineer's department.

Spatz said that the clerical work includes taking minutes and transcribing, handling counter inquiries from the public and communications and processed drawings and maps, and other paper work.

"We feel strongly that this contemplated move will hamper the work and efficiency of the commission," said Spatz.

Councilmen, however, decided to give the new setup a try. City Administrator Douglas Flautt said he feels the job can be done by the city engineer's office.

City Ready To Complain Over Telephone Service

Novato city councilmen last night promised to file a formal complaint with the State Public Utilities Commission if agreement is not reached by the city's two telephone companies over service to Novato.

Councilmen agreed to invite representatives of the companies to next Tuesday's council meeting.

The city is served in the north by the Western California Telephone Co. and in the south by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. A call between the two exchanges costs 10 cents and means a call to the operator. A call to San Rafael or south from either exchange means a 15-cent toll and a call to the operator.

The city and its residents have been asking since 1956 that the companies come to an agreement which would eliminate the toll and make possible direct dialing between exchanges and to other parts of the county.

A letter from the commission read at last night's council meeting said Western could furnish no toll-dial service by early 1962; PT&T wants to delay until it can wind up a similar request for extended service in south Marin exchanges. The final decision is made by the commission.

"We do not see the need for delaying the Novato-Ignacio extended service pending filing of an application by Pacific" for the southern Marin service, wrote PUC secretary R. J. Pajalich to the city council.

If required, Pajalich wrote, Pacific has stated that it could furnish extended service whenever Western is ready. Pajalich advised the city of its right to file a formal complaint.

In other business last night, the council:

1. Approved a study of the old Novato cemetery for consideration of prohibiting any future burials because of poor conditions there and vandalism which is hard to control.

2. Accepted from Hamilton Air Force Base a gift of two jail cells and a maximum security cell, no longer used at the base but planned for city jail cells when a larger police station is obtained.

3. Approved a raise of $1 weekly for Arthur Alberelli, city street sweeper. The pay hike was requested by Alberelli who must pay that much to dump street sweepings.

4. Approved an agreement with the State Division of Highways on the extension of Alameda Del Prado south to tie into the frontage road at Dusel Court, all part of a larger freeway agreement previously signed.

Rancho School Principal Named

Rex Rolle, sixth grade teacher at West Novato school, last night was appointed principal of Rancho School, now being built in the Novato Unified School District.

Rolle has been a teacher in the district since 1955 and last year was summer school principal for elementary classes. He has a bachelor's degree from Western Washington College of Education and a master's degree in elementary school administration from San Francisco State College.

Rolle and his family reside at 20 Lomba Vista, Novato.

Novato Council Hopes Planner Will Stay On

William G. Schneeflock last night resigned from the Novato Planning Commission—but city councilmen declined to accept the resignation hoping he can find a way to remain on the commission.

Schneeflock plans to study for a master's degree in adult education and agricultural economics at University of California at Davis. He will take a year's leave from his post of 4-H Club specialist, advising 16 coast region counties for the University of California at Berkeley. The resignation is to take effect July 1.

City councilmen expressed hope that Schneeflock would find a way to attend commission meetings while studying at Davis. Schneeflock said today he hopes to rent his Novato home and move to Davis temporarily, but if he cannot, he probably would spend weekdays at Davis.

He has been on the planning commission since its seven members were first appointed in mid-February, 1960, a month and one-half after incorporation of Novato.

If he, his wife and two daughters move to Davis, Mrs. Schneeflock also will return to school to complete work for a bachelor's degree in elementary education.

Citizens Committee Looks Into Future Of An Enlarging Novato

By ELLEN BRY

A Novato citizen group has looked ahead and seen the day when the vastly enlarged city will need a government center, including a court room and judges' chambers.

The governmental center envisioned for the future Novato should contain room for a police department of at least 35 men, an office for a deputy district attorney for North Marin, a courtroom and chambers for a municipal court judge, jail facilities for at least 20 persons, and facilities for a sheriff's substation, a citizen report says.

The farseeing report is one of eight being submitted to the Novato planning commission as citizens' advice on what is needed and wanted in the future. Sydney Hammill is head of the Public Facilties Committee.

The seven persons comprising the committee declined to propose a specific site for this government center because of lack of time for a study of cost and other factors, the report says.

Possibilities the committee considered:

1. The present site of the Novato Community Club, 906 Machin Street, plus the adjoining site of the Novato Presbyterian Church and adjacent home sites. Neither the clubhouse nor the church is an adequate building for government offices, though either might serve for temporary quarters, later to be razed for a permanent building.

(The city is attempting to gain control of the community club property through court action. City offices now are located in rented quarters at 826 Grant Avenue.)

2. The site suggested in the present advisory county master plan is north of Olive Street on the west side of Highway 101 and has between 10 and 15 acres. Purchase of the land could be financed by the city and construction of a building might be financed through a bond issue or capital improvement program.

3. A government center as part of a large park-recreation-cultural center of about 1,500 acres as suggested in the report of a citizen committee on parks and recreation. A suggested site is the Freitas "C" Ranch.

4. Land bordered by Highway 101 and South Novato Boulevard, west and south of Lynwood School, with the possibility of a gift site. But there is a flood problem.

"The committee feels the city council should take action on this matter as soon as possible," the report says.

5. Until a permanent site is found the city may need to rent larger offices and police facilities.

Some other committee recommendations:

Schools—Noting an "enrollment explosion," committee members placed most emphasis on holding sites after they have been acquired.

"Obviously it is absolutely worthless to work out a plan and then negate that plan every time some builder decides he wants to build in the area designed for a school," said the report.

The solution? "Laying out an excellent school site plan" and "refusing to alter the plan except under the most extraordinary conditions."

Other school suggestions: Insist that large subdivisions have sites set aside for schools. "Complete denial" of commercial construction on sites planned for schools. Assessment of each unit of multiple dwellings and each trailer plot.

Police—There should be 1.5 policemen to every 1,000 population.

Fire—The ratio of firemen to population should be the same as for the police.

Cultural—The city will need one or more libraries. Also needed will be an auditorium, concert hall, museum and/or art gallery.

The committee recommended their placement in a large park, perhaps the Freitas "C" Ranch, with the possibility of a government center, high school or junior college in the same area.

Hospital — The committee "strongly recommended" that the city consider setting aside land for a hospital which could grow with the city.

Committee members signing the report were R. J. Baldi Jr., Lee Cole, Mrs. Robert Merritt, Mrs. David Patterson, Robert Rankin, Alan Swabacker and Chairman Hammill.

Youth Swerves To Avoid Cat, Truck Ditched

A wandering Point Reyes cat dashing across the road caused a Redwood High School youth to ditch a truck yesterday with minor injuries to himself. A girl companion escaped unscathed.

Arnold William Porter, 17, of 3 Alta Terrace, Corte Madera, was driving 17-year-old Cindy Young of San Francisco west on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near the turnoff to Drake's Beach at 11:45 a.m.

A cat ran across the road, Porter related. Porter swerved onto the grass, where the wheels slipped. The truck took out two sections of barbed wire fence before halting in a shallow ditch.

Marin General Hospital treated Porter for cuts and a wrenched shoulder and back.

Hub Planner Quits, Protests Clerk Dismissal

A member of the San Anselmo Planning Commission resigned and the commission chairman sent a letter of protest to the city council last night over the dismissal of a stenographer-clerk who was acting as planning commission secretary.

Planning Commissioner Eugene Robinson sent in his letter of resignation with this brief comment: "After the action taken by the city council in regard to the present secretary to the planning commission, I do not care to remain on the planning commission any longer."

R. H. Spatz, commission chairman, protested the release of Katharine Wolcott, commission secretary. With her release, the secretarial and clerical work of the planners will be handled by the city engineer's department.

Spatz said that the clerical work includes taking minutes and transcribing, handling counter inquiries from the public and communications and processed drawings and maps, and other paper work.

"We feel strongly that this contemplated move will hamper the work and efficiency of the commission," said Spatz.

Councilmen, however, decided to give the new setup a try. City Administrator Douglas Flautt said he feels the job can be done by the city engineer's office.

City Ready To Complain Over Telephone Service

Novato city councilmen last night promised to file a formal complaint with the State Public Utilities Commission if agreement is not reached by the city's two telephone companies over service to Novato.

Councilmen agreed to invite representatives of the companies to next Tuesday's council meeting.

The city is served in the north by the Western California Telephone Co. and in the south by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. A call between the two exchanges costs 10 cents and means a call to the operator. A call to San Rafael or south from either exchange means a 15-cent toll and a call to the operator.

The city and its residents have been asking since 1956 that the companies come to an agreement which would eliminate the toll and make possible direct dialing between exchanges and to other parts of the county.

A letter from the commission read at last night's council meeting said Western could furnish no toll-dial service by early 1962; PT&T wants to delay until it can wind up a similar request for extended service in south Marin exchanges. The final decision is made by the commission.

"We do not see the need for delaying the Novato-Ignacio extended service pending filing of an application by Pacific" for the southern Marin service, wrote PUC secretary R. J. Pajalich to the city council.

If required, Pajalich wrote, Pacific has stated that it could furnish extended service whenever Western is ready. Pajalich advised the city of its right to file a formal complaint.

In other business last night, the council:

1. Approved a study of the old Novato cemetery for consideration of prohibiting any future burials because of poor conditions there and vandalism which is hard to control.

Cummins School Separating In Two

Beginning in September, Corte Madera's Neil Cummins School will become two schools —complete with two principals, two sets of teachers and two student bodies.

The doubling operation is necessary because the Larkspur School District has been unable to rent classroom space for children who will attend San Clemente School, due for completion early in 1962.

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel, told district trustees last night that about 12 classes will be added to Neil Cummins School, which will operate on double sessions. Principals Catherine Burch of Neil Cummins and Robert Johnson of San Clemente will each head a school under the same roof.

Architect John Lyon Reid told the trustees a call for bids in San Clemente construction should be ready by June 1.

Approval was given, pending concurrence by the state Department of Education, for construction of a field house by Little League on Larkspur-Corte Madera school property.

The trustees renewed a request to the City of Larkspur for a school crossing guard at Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive.

A report on curriculum was given the trustees by teachers from the three schools.

In other business last night, the trustees:

1. Accepted the resignation of Jewell Trimble, fourth grade teacher at Neil Cummins School and granted leaves of absence to Helen Wagner, first grade teacher at Neil Cummins School, and Judith Davis, second grade teacher at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

2. Offered a contract to Barbara Jo Carcione of San Francisco to teach kindergarten at the San Clemente School. Miss Carcione will graduate from Dominican College next month.

3. Were informed that over 400 pupils had registered for summer school.

4. Appointed Trustees Jack L. Mengel, Pauline Secor and John W. Boyd to draw up a preliminary budget with the superintendent.

Peninsula 'Cat Burglar' Linked Here

An infamous "cat burglar," caught yesterday in San Mateo County, may clear up 15 to 20 burglaries in Marin County, Inspector William Bradley of the sheriff's office disclosed today.

The suspect is Albert Manual DePonte, 29, an ex-convict roofer, who was caught with blonde Christine Darlene Bee, 21. According to Inspector Bradley, DePonte is suspected of committing about 300 burglaries from San Jose to Sonoma County since he went on the prowl a year ago.

Bradley will question DePonte next Wednesday regarding burglaries of the homes of Dr. Richard H. Albert at 15 Fairway Drive, Novato, and Harold D. McFarland at 456 Calle de La Mesa, Loma Verde. Both break-ins occurred in February.

Camera equipment and silver dollars were stolen from Dr. Albert. Gold coins, transistor radio, rifle, shotgun, and ammunition were taken from the McFarland home.

Inspector Bradley said DePonte admits other burglaries in Marin but does not remember the exact locations.

DePonte earned the nickname "cat burglar" because he would use lipstick to scrawl the word "cat" on bedroom mirrors at homes he entered.

of the waterfront plan committee be adopted.

Finney's minority plan was adopted in principle by the council March 22, and has been sent back to the Planning Commission for further study.

Councilman Michael Harris described the chamber letter as libelous and said it challenged the integrity of Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich.

New York Boy, 14, Stabbed To Death 'For Being Snotty'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two teenage members of a Brooklyn gang were charged with homicide today for stabbing to death a 14-year-old model youth because "he got snotty."

Members of the "F & P" gang killed John Panico in the middle of the street in a quiet Queens neighborhood last night just because he happened to be around when they went on the warpath.

Police rounded up eight "F & P" members this morning Dist. Atty. Frank D. O'Connor said the stabber was Dennis Lubchuk, 15, one of three children of a deaf-mute Brooklyn couple.

Lubchuk and Paul (Bongo) Pope, 16, were charged with homicide, riot and conspiracy to commit riot and Lubchuk also was charged with illicit possession of a weapon.

AMERICANS DRANK, SMOKED MORE IN '60 THAN EVER BEFORE

CHICAGO (UPI)—Americans drank, smoked and bet more in 1960 than ever before in history, a business and tax reporting firm reported today.

The vignette of American life was revealed by Commerce Clearing House in an early report of federal tax collections.

Among early disclosures, the report listed the following:

Individual efforts produced income which returned about 58-billion-dollars in taxes, about 1 per cent above 1959.

Americans smoked, drank, bet, watched television and traveled more in 1960 as tobacco, alcohol, watering, television and luggage taxes climbed to new highs.

Americans must have been more music-minded because a greater number of musical instruments were purchased.

Americans dolled themselves up more, based on toilet preparation taxes.

Fewer people "rolled" their own cigarettes but a "chaw" or a pinch of snuff still appealed to many.

Alleged 'Fence' Jailed In Hub Burglary Case

A young San Rafael man—allegedly the "fence" in the $2,500 burglary of the Drake Medical Building in San Anselmo a year ago—was arrested yesterday by San Anselmo police.

Reynold Acevedo, 23, of 814 E Street, was charged with receiving stolen goods, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani reported.

Michael John Muir, 18, of 29 Oak Avenue, San Anselmo, and Daniel Patrick McDonnell, 19, of San Francisco, have been charged with the burglary. They waived preliminary hearing and must answer to the charge in superior court.

The chief said investigation proved Acevedo was involved in the case. The youth admitted he knew both Muir and McDonnell and that he bought several typewriters and adding machines, a tape recorder and camera from them for $100.

The sale allegedly took place at a Kentfield drive-in where Acevedo was working at the time, about two days after the burglary.

Acevedo said he asked if the items were stolen and was told they were not.

Acevedo told Buchignani he was not suspicious, and "not thinking straight" when he bought the items.

He paid $50 when he took the articles, went to New York City and sold them in Harlem, then mailed the two youths another $50, he said.

Acevedo was released on $1,050 bail for arraignment Friday in Marin Municipal Court. He is employed as a service station attendant in San Anselmo.

Marin Man Gets 90 Days —Suspended

A San Rafael youth who had a recent wild night "on the town" in San Francisco found his judge merciful yesterday.

Pleading guilty to two charges in San Francisco Municipal Court, Richard Skinner, 22, of 325 Fairhills Drive drew a 90-day suspended jail sentence on each charge.

Judge Albert A. Axelrod not only made the sentences concurrent, but if Skinner behaves in future he won't serve any time as he was put on probation to the court as a condition of suspended sentence.

With Michael Lumpy, 22, of San Francisco, Skinner registered at the Mark Hopkins Hotel under a fictitious name and the pair ran up a $137.43 bill, mostly for liquor. The charges were drunkenness and defrauding an innkeeper.

Wine, Cigarettes Stolen At Store

A thief broke into Tweedy's Store in Santa Venetia sometime last night and took off with more than a dozen bottles of wine and eight to 10 cartons of cigarettes.

John B. Tweedy, owner of the store at 290 North San Pedro Road, this morning found a rear window pried open.

Deputy Sheriff George Tsegeletos reported that 13 bottles of wine are definitely missing, and several bottles of another brand of wine are also gone. But the exact loss was not immediately determined.

Youth Award Medals Given To Marinites

James C. Hayes of 53 Meadow Avenue, San Rafael, and Mrs. Robert Manthey of 8 Cypress Court, Novato, were given Youth Award medals in San Francisco last night for activities on behalf of Catholic youth operations.

Hayes has given such aid to St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael and Mrs. Manthey's service was to Our Lady of Loretto in Novato. They were in a group of 11 so honored by Archbishop John J. Mitty award medals at a banquet in the Fairmont Hotel.

could not be accomplished in a few weeks.

Lucas said five weeks of a 36-week, two-semester course titled "freshman social studies" are devoted to orientation to high school. Twenty-five weeks are spent in a course in world geography, and six weeks on the required course in driver education. It is a "very substantial and quite academic program," Lucas commented.

Driver education is taught at the end of the course because it is closer to the time when students may take driver training in the sophomore year (an optional course), he said.

The superintendent said the "marginal" student is much more successful in first year foreign language when he has taken the exploratory language course. The course was set up in 1959 for college-bound students who found it difficult to maintain the pace required in the foreign language program, he said.

Mrs. Jessie Diffley of the San Rafael High foreign language department told the parents that a couple of years ago more than 20 per cent of the students were flunking after six weeks of foreign language. "What we are trying to do is get young people ready to learn . . . We try to teach them about communication . . . to arouse in them a new attitude toward their own language and others," she said.

In exploratory language they learn the "richness" of their own language, and are "unprejudiced by failure" when they take first year foreign language the next year, she said.

Safeway Plans Half Lease In New Store

Safeway Stores, Inc., will lease half of the 30,000-square-foot space under a Kaiser Aluminum Co. "geodesic dome" that will roof the Harbor Point Shopping Center.

The center, planned by developer Samuel R. Neider, will be on Marin's Strawberry Peninsula on a 10-acre site along Highway 101. The aluminum dome will be the largest ever built in the United States.

Safeway vice president Quentin Reynolds, manager of the San Francisco retail division, said the decision to locate a store in the dome presented the most challenging design problem the company has yet had in planning new stores.

Reynolds noted that fixtures and equipment must in many instances be designed especially for this particular building to take advantage of the "somewhat theatric setting" inside the large dome.

The 200-foot dome will mark the first use of a dome building as a shopping center.

Some 15,000 square feet will be reserved for other stores under the dome. Initial construction will include facilities for the supermarket and smaller shops and a parking area for 700 autos.

Drinking Party Ends In Arrest

A teen-age drinking party at Strawberry yesterday afternoon led to the arrest of a seaman, suspected of being AWOL from San Diego, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Jerome A. Collin, 18, of the Navy, stationed at San Diego, was turned over to the Navy shore patrol. He and about 15 or 20 other boys and girls were caught at a noisy party at 253 Ricardo Road, the home of Collin's mother. She was away at work.

Neighbors heard the commotion and called the sheriff. When deputies arrived, the youths scattered.

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only new COLONAID possesses its great moisturizing capacity plus its stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so gentle it has been hospital-proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Cummins School Separating In Two

Beginning in September, Corte Madera's Neil Cummins School will become two schools—complete with two principals, two sets of teachers and two student bodies.

The doubling operation is necessary because the Larkspur School District has been unable to rent classroom space for children who will attend San Clemente School, due for completion early in 1962.

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel, told district trustees last night that about 12 classes will be added to Neil Cummins School, which will operate on double sessions. Principals Catherine Burch of Neil Cummins and Robert Johnson of San Clemente will each head a school under the same roof.

Architect John Lyon Reid told the trustees a call for bids in San Clemente construction should be ready by June 1.

Approval was given, pending concurrence by the state Department of Education, for construction of a field house by Little League on Larkspur-Corte Madera school property.

The trustees renewed a request to the City of Larkspur for a school crossing guard at Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive.

A report on curriculum was given the trustees by teachers from the three schools.

In other business last night, the trustees:

1. Accepted the resignation of Jewell Trimble, fourth grade teacher at Neil Cummins School and granted leaves of absence to Helen Wagner, first grade teacher at Neil Cummins School, and Judith Davis, second grade teacher at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

2. Offered a contract to Barbara Jo Carcione of San Francisco to teach kindergarten at the San Clemente School. Miss Carcione will graduate from Dominican College next month.

3. Were informed that over 400 pupils had registered for summer school.

4. Appointed Trustees Jack L. Mengel, Pauline Secor and John W. Boyd to draw up a preliminary budget with the superintendent.

Peninsula 'Cat Burglar' Linked Here

An infamous "cat burglar," caught yesterday in San Mateo County, may clear up 15 to 20 burglaries in Marin County, Inspector William Bradley of the sheriff's office disclosed today.

The suspect is Albert Manual DePonte, 29, an ex-convict roofer, who was caught with blonde Christine Darlene Bee, 21. According to Inspector Bradley, DePonte is suspected of committing about 300 burglaries from San Jose to Sonoma County since he went on the prowl a year ago.

Bradley will question DePonte next Wednesday regarding burglaries of the homes of Dr. Richard H. Albert at 15 Fairway Drive, Novato, and Harold D. McFarland at 456 Calle de La Mesa, Loma Verde. Both break-ins occurred in February.

Camera equipment and silver dollars were stolen from Dr. Albert. Gold coins, transistor radio, rifle, shotgun, and ammunition were taken from the McFarland home.

Inspector Bradley said DePonte admits other burglaries in Marin but does not remember the exact locations.

DePonte earned the nickname "cat burglar" because he would use lipstick to scrawl the word "cat" on bedroom mirrors at homes he entered.

With Michael Lumpy, 22, of San Francisco, Skinner registered at the Mark Hopkins Hotel under a fictitious name and the pair ran up a $137.43 bill, mostly for liquor. The charges were drunkenness and defrauding an innkeeper.

Wine, Cigarettes Stolen At Store

A thief broke into Tweedy's Store in Santa Venetia sometime last night and took off with more than a dozen bottles of wine and eight to 10 cartons of cigarettes.

John B. Tweedy, owner of the store at 290 North San Pedro Road, this morning found a rear window pried open.

Deputy Sheriff George Tsegeletos reported that 13 bottles of wine are definitely missing, and several bottles of another brand of wine are also gone. But the exact loss was not immediately determined.

Hayes has given such aid to St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael and Mrs. Manthey's service was to Our Lady of Loretto in Novato. They were in a group of 11 so honored by Archbishop John J. Mitty award medals at a banquet in the Fairmont Hotel.

could not be accomplished in a few weeks.

Lucas said five weeks of a 36-week, two-semester course titled "freshman social studies" are devoted to orientation to high school. Twenty-five weeks are spent in a course in world geography, and six weeks on the required course in driver education. It is a "very substantial and quite academic program," Lucas commented.

Driver education is taught at the end of the course because it is closer to the time when students may take driver training in the sophomore year (an optional course), he said.

The superintendent said the "marginal" student is much more successful in first year foreign language when he has taken the exploratory language course. The course was set up in 1959 for college-bound students who found it difficult to maintain the pace required in the foreign language program, he said.

Mrs. Jessie Diffley of the San Rafael High foreign language department told the parents that a couple of years ago more than 20 per cent of the students were flunking after six weeks of foreign language. "What we are trying to do is get young people ready to learn . . . We try to teach them about communication . . . to arouse in them a new attitude toward their own language and others," she said.

In exploratory language they learn the "richness" of their own language, and are "unprejudiced by failure" when they take first year foreign language the next year, she said.

New Moisturizing Colonaid Stops

CONSTIPATION DUE TO DEHYDRATION

without gag, bloat or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only new COLONAID possesses its great moisturizing capacity plus its stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so gentle it has been hospital-proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation overnight. So, for positive relief from constipation, get amazing, moisturizing new COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Safeway Plans Half Lease In New Store

Safeway Stores, Inc., will lease half of the 30,000-square-foot space under a Kaiser Aluminum Co. "geodesic dome" that will roof the Harbor Point Shopping Center.

The center, planned by developer Samuel R. Neider, will be on Marin's Strawberry Peninsula on a 10-acre site along Highway 101. The aluminum dome will be the largest ever built in the United States.

Safeway vice president Quentin Reynolds, manager of the San Francisco retail division, said the decision to locate a store in the dome presented the most challenging design problem the company has yet had in planning new stores.

Reynolds noted that fixtures and equipment must in many instances be designed especially for this particular building to take advantage of the "somewhat theatric setting" inside the large dome.

The 200-foot dome will mark the first use of a dome building as a shopping center.

Some 15,000 square feet will be reserved for other stores under the dome. Initial construction will include facilities for the supermarket and smaller shops and a parking area for 700 autos.

Drinking Party Ends In Arrest

A teen-age drinking party at Strawberry yesterday afternoon led to the arrest of a seaman, suspected of being AWOL from San Diego, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Jerome A. Collin, 18, of the Navy, stationed at San Diego, was turned over to the Navy shore patrol. He and about 15 or 20 other boys and girls were caught at a noisy party at 253 Ricardo Road, the home of Collin's mother. She was away at work.

Neighbors heard the commotion and called the sheriff. When deputies arrived, the youths scattered.

Firemen from Homestead and Tamalpais Valley fire departments administered oxygen by resuscitator for 30 minutes last night in a vain effort to save the life of a six-month-old Mill Valley baby, believed to have smothered in his blankets.

The child, Keith Gotama Bainum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen M. Bainum of 11 Park Way, was pronounced dead at 10:55 p.m. by Dr. J. A. Freeman

Deputy Coroner Charles Minger said the baby was believed to be dead when found by his mother when she went to his room to give him his feading.

Dr. Kurt O. Schlesinger administered artificial respiration with his hands at the same time firemen gave oxygen.

School Trustees Due Dixie Plan On Expansion

Dixie School District trustees will consider a recommendation to expand Lucas Valley School at a meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office, 4775 Redwood Highway.

The proposal calls for adding to the school a kindergarten, three classrooms and a classroom for the mentally retarded. Mentally retarded in the district are now taught in other districts through a contract arrangement. With this addition, the library in the present building, now used as a kindergarten, would revert to library use.

The board also will consider a proposal to employ a full-time psychologist for 1961-62; hold a public hearing on the easement for a storm drain across Don Timoteo School site to be granted San Rafael; employ summer school personnel; offer contracts to teachers for next year.

Education Board Grants Tenure To 27

The San Rafael Board of Education last night granted tenure to 27 elementary and high school teachers and approved the re-appointments of 83 other teachers.

Vaughan, Vera Shevchuk, Beverly Diana Brown, Sandra Gordon, Barbara Redford, Ruth Reist, Frederick E. Goodwin, Cherie May Buoy, Jean Stevens, Patricia Dolan.

Also, high school teachers Prosper J. Boutet, Nancy Richardson, Robert L. Thomas, M. Charles Fesler, Adelaide Roberts, Peter Limm, Richard W. Grosser, George Starn, Philard McAtee, Audrey Kidd.

The board accepted resignations of Joyce Hart, academic teacher, Davidson; Mary Rigler, kindergarten, Coleman; Sophia Mara, sixth grade, Sun Valley; O. T. McAtee, social science, Davidson; Doris Patton, primary, Gallinas; Ernest Caillat, art; Marge Fulton, physical education; both of San Rafael High; Maridale Calhoon, foreign languages; Serena Spencer, home economics, both of Terra Linda High.

In other business last night, the board:

1. Set May 23 for a meeting requested by the San Rafael Teachers Assn. salary committee to discuss immediate salary needs and "long-range budgetary requirements."

2. Received a letter from the State Division of Highways reporting that a study of the proposed pedestrian overpass on Highway 101 near Coleman School is underway.

3. Was invited to a Terra Linda High School program at 8 p.m. May 24 that will review accomplishments of the school year.

5. Adopted a resolution of intention to convey to the City of San Rafael a drainage easement near San Rafael High and a strip along the school's southern border in exchange for the city deeding to the board the extension of Fourth Street from Union to High Street, closing High and deeding it also. A public hearing will be held on the matter May 23 at 7:30 p.m.

6. Approved the plan for location of the girls' locker-shower building at Terra Linda High, directly in front of the swimming pool.

9. Approved appointment of the accounting firm of Weiser, Dreiman and Weseman to audit all district funds.

3 San Rafael High School Boys Expelled

Three San Rafael High School boys were expelled by the Board of Education last night for drinking.

Two of the youths took liquor onto the school grounds Saturday night and drank it; the third boy arrived for a play practice under the influence of liquor, the board was told.

The expulsion is for the rest of the school year.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas reported the boy who came to the play practice was "quite a problem." A teacher discovered the boy had the odor of liquor on his breath and sent him home. The student went backstage instead, and got into a fight with another boy who tried to send him home.

He admitted to the teacher that he had been drinking, but now denies it, Lucas said.

The other two boys were picked up at the close of a school performance Saturday night.

The father of one pleaded for indulgence on the part of the board. His son is a senior, he said, who would graduate next month. His record to now has been perfect, the father said.

Board members pointed out that their policy has been definite: Automatic expulsion for infraction of the rules against drinking. They noted that the boy could make up the credits lost through summer school or other means.

Board member Rex Silvernale said the number of drinking violations has gone down considerably since the policy of automatic expulsion has been in effect.

Planner Wants 'Warm' Gas Station Design

Union Oil Co. can build a service station at the southeast corner of Belvedere Street and Medway Road in East San Rafael, but must change its building design, the San Rafael Planning Commission decided last night.

Joseph D. O'Neill of Parker Engineering Co., San Francisco, representing Union Oil Co., presented the company's latest service station design, complete with lounge, snack bar and inside rest rooms.

Planner Nicholas Dollwet didn't like it because it calls for construction of stainless steel.

"Can't you make it 'warm' like service stations in Greenbrae and Walnut Creek?" Dollwet asked.

Commissioner Eugene O'Connor suggested covering the stainless steel walls with ornamental concrete blocks.

O'Neill said that would be building two buildings instead of one.

Commissioner Charles J. Hendrickson, declaring "arguments for or against any building design are as different as tastes," voted against the motion to deny architectural approval, as did Commissioner Carl Brown. But approval was turned down by votes of Dollwet, O'Connor and Commissioner May Zappetini.

Lake Erie is the biggest fish-producing fresh water lake in the world. Twelve million pounds of blue pike were taken from the lake in 1956.

Summer Rec Program Dropped In Fairfax

There will be no summer recreation program in Fairfax this summer.

The reasons, according to Frank L. Lawrence, chairman of Fairfax Recreation Commission: No money and nobody to direct the program.

The commission barely mentioned dropping of the summer program in a letter to the Fairfax City Council, read Monday night, in which it asked a guarantee that there would be "no further encroachment whatsoever" by other city departments onto the city park. (A corporation yard building is to be erected in the park, and the city has paved a road through the park.)

The only council comment on dropping summer recreation consisted of five words by Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar: "If that's what they want . . ."

Queried by the Independent-Journal, chairman Lawrence said lack of money in the parks and recreation fund is the principal reason for dropping the program. Also, he said, no director has been found. Tom Kelly, who directed the program last year, will be too busy with his duties as a summer school teacher, Lawrence said.

City Clerk Alice Leonesio informed the council Monday night that $10,000 should be transferred from the general fund to the parks and recreation fund to cover a deficit. The parks-recreation fund was $3,834 in the red as of April 1, she reported.

Fairfax last year levied a 10-cent tax for parks and recreation. Budget for the department included $900 for the summer recreation program. Its cost last year totaled only $875, according to Mrs. Leonesio.

Bugs Don't Frighten

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Sixth grade girls at Murlin Heights School are pretty much immune to teasing with bugs and such things.

Mrs. Clifford Shank's class has already dissected, studied and stuffed a squirrel, a duck and a goose and collected a multitude of formaldehyde-soaked specimens. And not a weak stomach—boy or girl—in the lot, teacher says.

Education Board Grants Tenure To 27

The San Rafael Board of Education last night granted tenure to 27 elementary and high school teachers and approved the re-appointments of 83 other teachers.

Given tenure were elementary teachers Laura H. Beswick, Hugh L. Broyles, Liza M. Lazar, Evangeline H. Manning, Bethany Beckman, Frances E. Collins, Lawrence McArdell, Ethel L. Vaughan, Vera Shevchuk, Beverly Diana Brown, Sandra Gordon, Barbara Redford, Ruth Reist, Frederick E. Goodwin, Cherie May Buoy, Jean Stevens, Patricia Dolan.

Also, high school teachers Prosper J. Boutet, Nancy Richardson, Robert L. Thomas, M. Charles Fesler, Adelaide Roberts, Peter Limm, Richard W. Grosser, George Starn, Philard McAtee, Audrey Kidd.

The board accepted resignations of Joyce Hart, academic teacher, Davidson; Mary Rigler, kindergarten, Coleman; Sophia Mara, sixth grade, Sun Valley; O. T. McAtee, social science, Davidson; Doris Patton, primary, Gallinas; Ernest Caillat, art; Marge Fulton, physical education; both of San Rafael High; Maridale Calhoon, foreign languages; Serena Spencer, home economics, both of Terra Linda High.

In other business last night, the board:

1. Set May 23 for a meeting requested by the San Rafael Teachers Assn. salary committee to discuss immediate salary needs and "long-range budgetary requirements."

2. Received a letter from the State Division of Highways reporting that a study of the proposed pedestrian overpass on Highway 101 near Coleman School is underway.

3. Was invited to a Terra Linda High School program at 8 p.m. May 24 that will review accomplishments of the school year.

4. Accepted bids for classroom furniture for Terra Linda High, totaling $5,976.50. Estimated cost was $6,490.

5. Adopted a resolution of intention to convey to the City of San Rafael a drainage easement near San Rafael High and a strip along the school's southern border in exchange for the city deeding to the board the extension of Fourth Street from Union to High Street, closing High and deeding it also. A public hearing will be held on the matter May 23 at 7:30 p.m.

6. Approved the plan for location of the girls' locker-shower building at Terra Linda High, directly in front of the swimming pool.

7. Approved increasing the salary of John Cassidy, inspector on the Terra Linda High construction, to $700 per month, plus retirement pay. He has been receiving $650.

8. Heard a report of William Dresia, San Rafael High science teacher, on his trip to the National Science Teachers conference in Chicago in March.

9. Approved appointment of the accounting firm of Weiser, Dreiman and Weseman to audit all district funds.

3 San Rafael High School Boys Expelled

Three San Rafael High School boys were expelled by the Board of Education last night for drinking.

Two of the youths took liquor onto the school grounds Saturday night and drank it; the third boy arrived for a play practice under the influence of liquor, the board was told.

The expulsion is for the rest of the school year.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas reported the boy who came to the play practice was "quite a problem." A teacher discovered the boy had the odor of liquor on his breath and sent him home. The student went backstage instead, and got into a fight with another boy who tried to send him home.

He admitted to the teacher that he had been drinking, but now denies it, Lucas said.

The other two boys were picked up at the close of a school performance Saturday night.

The father of one pleaded for indulgence on the part of the board. His son is a senior, he said, who would graduate next month. His record to now has been perfect, the father said.

Board members pointed out that their policy has been definite: Automatic expulsion for infraction of the rules against drinking. They noted that the boy could make up the credits lost through summer school or other means.

Board member Rex Silvernale said the number of drinking violations has gone down considerably since the policy of automatic expulsion has been in effect.

THE 'EYES' HAVE IT

Astronauts are not the only ones to come face to face with heavenly bodies. This expression of "wow" was caught on the face of a student at Texas University in Austin as he watched a pretty coed soaking up a little sunshine. That's her reflected in the lad's sun glasses. (AP Wirephoto)

Reapportionment Bill 'Final' Draft Revealed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The "final" draft of the proposed reapportionment of California's Assembly and Congressional districts was disclosed today.

Two major changes were announced, and exact lines will be unveiled next week.

Chairman Robert W. Crown (D-Alameda) said he will recommend to the 17-member Assembly Committee on Elections and Reapportionment that:

1. San Francisco loses one assemblyman. Crown declined to specify, but its a good guess that Republican John A. Busterud will be shorn of his district, the 22nd.

2. Los Angeles County, which now has 12 of the state's 30 congressmen, retain its 31 assemblymen and be given 15½, a half more than anticipated, sharing the extra district with Ventura County.

The 1960 census entitled California to eight more congressmen for a total of 38.

To allow San Francisco to lose only one of its six assemblymen, Crown said two unidentified districts in north central California will be consolidated.

Crown outlined the proposed reapportionment outside of San Francisco and Los Angeles this way:

Alameda County loses one of six assemblymen.

Orange County gains one, for a total of three.

San Diego goes from four to five.

Santa Clara gains one, for a total of three. So does Sacramento.

Sacramento gets its own congressional district.

Orange gets its own district and share a second with San Diego. San Diego goes from 1½ to 2½ congressmen.

Santa Clara shares a second congressman with Alameda.

Crown gave no indication as to what his plans are regarding Marin County and the First Congressional District. The program apparently does not affect the Seventh Assembly District of Marin and Sonoma Counties.

Search Is Called Off For Body Of Dentist

The Coast Guard today abandoned search for the body of Dr. Keith Mann, Oakland dentist who disappeared from a burning cruiser near Angel Island last Saturday night.

The body of another victim of the accident, Mrs. Irene Winnie Dartt, was found on a beach Sunday.

Senate Passes D.A., Auditor Pay Increases

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The State Senate yesterday approved pay raises for Marin County's auditor and district attorney, giving the district attorney $1,150 more than previously approved by the Assembly.

The Senate gave unanimous consent to AB 687 by Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley. It already has been approved by the Assembly, but must go back there for reconsideration because of the amendments approved in the Senate.

Major amendment was the increase in the district attorney's salary. The Assembly had approved increasing his $13,750 salary to $15,500 per year. The Senate increased the sum to $16,650.

The auditor's salary is to go up from $11,500 to $12,075 per year both houses agreed.

The measure also provides fees and mileage for members of the county grand jury. It allows them $5 per day for attendance at grand jury meetings, committee meetings and for individual investigation on assignment by the chairman of the grand jury.

Assembly Unit Almost Kills Ban On Grocery 'Bargains'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The leader of the State Senate bumped into an Assembly committee yesterday and nearly lost a bill to eliminate grocery "bargains."

Sen. Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) president pro tempore of the Senate, had a bill to ban so-called limited "loss leader" sales in retail stores for two years.

It had the support of the California Grocers Assn., whose spokesman pointed out that the "day is just around the corner when competition in the market business will be gone."

He said there were 4,862 fewer groceries in business in the state now than 10 years ago. He said the ban would help small grocers compete against supermarkets.

However, representatives of the 5,000-member California Retailers Assn., opposed the bill because they said it would "hurt the consumer and harass retail stores."

A short-manned committee voted against passing the bill to the Assembly floor for final debate, but then told Burns that he could have the measure heard again when the full committee was present.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE SENATE

Amended bill to insert provision that San Francisco Bay Area Transit District will require approval of three-fifths rather than two-thirds of district voters to pass bond issues; Waldie (D-Antioch).

Assembly amendments refused:

Vote — Permits counties to use punch card voting systems; Regan (D-Weaverville).

Bills passed:

Aid—Subjects misuse of Aid to Needy Children funds to prosecution for theft; J. H. Williams (R-Porterville). Requires that state welfare laws be in conformity with federal statutes; Thompson (R-San Jose).

Land—Requires consent of board of supervisors before state can acquire beach or park land in particular area; Christensen (D-Eureka).

Salaries — Series of 22 bills raising salaries of various officers in 20 counties.

Resolution introduced:

Boundary — Asks Congress to extend seaward boundaries of coastal states; McBride (D-Ventura).

THE ASSEMBLY

Senate amendments concurred in:

Boats—Requests a state study of proposed harbors of refuge for small boats; Cunningham (D-Ventura).

Bills passed:

Conflict — Forbids legislators and state officers from engaging in business dealings that conflict with public duties; Lanterman (R-La Canada). Requires lawmakers to make a statement in their house journal if they vote on a matter in which they have a direct financial interest; Lanterman.

Colleges — Requires high school districts whose pupils attend a junior college in adjoining district to either annex to that district or form a separate one; Garrigus (D-Reedley).

New County Hospital Joint Meeting Planned

An early conference will be held between Marin County supervisors and the Marin County Hospital District board on possible cooperation for a county "chronic disease and rehabilitation facility," Chairman William D. Fusselman told his fellow supervisors yesterday.

He said Mrs. Marion C. Ibach, secretary of the hospital board, had promised to arrange an early joint meeting.

"She agreed in a broad way that there could be an interchange of services," said Fusselman.

"This would give a definitive answer as to how that million-dollar bond issue to be voted next month would be utilized."

Fusselman said his idea was for the county to finance and erect a structure close to Marin General Hospital, perhaps "tied in with a concourse"—a project in line, he explained, with recent recommendation of the Marin Medical Society.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair found merit, pointing out that connection with the hospital would obviate need for kitchen.

"I see various possibilities," said Blair. "For instance if we're not using all our beds, the hospital could rent them."

Supervisor Walter R. Castro, finally demanding "what are the roots of this?"

Fusselman heatedly retorted that there was nothing that didn't meet the eye. "This is in line with our theory of canvassing every possible avenue," he said.

Juvenile Hall About Ready For Occupancy

Two county juvenile hall buildings, for administration and the boys' residential unit, "are substantially complete and ready for occupancy," architect Rolland B. Hammond reported yesterday to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

He recommended that the board accept these and let the probation department take immediate occupancy as an aid to coordination in moving from older parts of the facility. This was promptly voted.

Hammond said he hoped next week to request that the county counsel be authorized to file completion of the whole job, adding that dedication ceremonies have been tentatively planned for May 21.

Supervisors Get 5-Year Plan For Fairgrounds Development

Recommendations for a revised five-year program for development of the Marin county fairgrounds site at the civic center were put before the Marin supervisors yesterday by Administrator Alan Bruce.

Accompanying the findings of the fair advisory committee, to be reviewed and transmitted to the state finance department before June 1, Bruce attached a letter from Finance Director John E. Carr on accumulation of funds.

Carr confirmed Bruce's understanding that "it is not the intention of the Public Works Board and Department of Finance to take the funds away at any time from the project set forth in the five-year building program," but "should you endeavor to divert the funds to another project, then it might be necessary to reconsider in light of total state needs and the statewide priority of such project."

The program, to be considered and probably finally approved next week according to yesterday's decision, is entirely aimed at accumulating a presumed annual $105,000 from the state until there are sufficient funds to complete an exhibit building and grandstand without breaking it down into wasteful stages of progressive construction.

Flood Funds Meeting Planned

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Action to increase funds available for flood control studies of streams emptying into Richardson Bay and five other California streams is scheduled Friday in Redding.

The California Water Commission is expected to approve recommendation to Congress for increased appropriations for the studies. At present $30,000 has been allocated. Due to transfer of some military construction from the San Francisco District, the Army Corps of Engineers finds it has manpower to step up the survey if funds are provided.

The water commission is expected to ask Congress to appropriate $80,000 for the six surveys.

She Caught Heel, Awarded $50,000

A Kentfield housewife won $50,000 damages from a Berkeley store yesterday because her heel caught in a cracked threshhold.

Mrs. Bernice Babow of 116 Laurel Grove Avenue said that in a resultant fall she broke her right hip as well as suffering a multitude of cuts, bruises and damage to nerves for which she asked $75,000.

A jury of three women and nine men returned a verdict against Louis Stores' market on Shattuck Avenue.

THE 'EYES' HAVE IT

Astronauts are not the only ones to come face to face with heavenly bodies. This expression of "wow" was caught on the face of a student at Texas University in Austin as he watched a pretty coed soaking up a little sunshine. That's her reflected in the lad's sun glasses. (AP Wirephoto)

Reapportionment Bill 'Final' Draft Revealed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The "final" draft of the proposed reapportionment of California's Assembly and Congressional districts was disclosed today.

Two major changes were announced, and exact lines will be unveiled next week.

Chairman Robert W. Crown (D-Alameda) said he will recommend to the 17-member Assembly Committee on Elections and Reapportionment that:

1. San Francisco loses one assemblyman. Crown declined to specify, but its a good guess that Republican John A. Busterud will be shorn of his district, the 22nd.

2. Los Angeles County, which now has 12 of the state's 30 congressmen, retain its 31 assemblymen and be given 15½, a half more than anticipated, sharing the extra district with Ventura County.

The 1960 census entitled California to eight more congressmen for a total of 38.

To allow San Francisco to lose only one of its six assemblymen, Crown said two unidentified districts in north central California will be consolidated.

Crown outlined the proposed reapportionment outside of San Francisco and Los Angeles this way:

Alameda County loses one of six assemblymen.

Orange County gains one, for a total of three.

San Diego goes from four to five.

Santa Clara gains one, for a total of three. So does Sacramento.

Sacramento gets its own congressional district.

Orange gets its own district and share a second with San Diego. San Diego goes from 1½ to 2½ congressmen.

Santa Clara shares a second congressman with Alameda.

Crown gave no indication as to what his plans are regarding Marin County and the First Congressional District. The program apparently does not affect the Seventh Assembly District of Marin and Sonoma Counties.

Search Is Called Off For Body Of Dentist

The Coast Guard today abandoned search for the body of Dr. Keith Mann, Oakland dentist who disappeared from a burning cruiser near Angel Island last Saturday night.

The body of another victim of the accident, Mrs. Irene Winnie Dartt, was found on a beach Sunday.

Senate Passes D.A., Auditor Pay Increases

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The State Senate yesterday approved pay raises for Marin County's auditor and district attorney, giving the district attorney $1,150 more than previously approved by the Assembly.

The Senate gave unanimous consent to AB 687 by Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley. It already has been approved by the Assembly, but must go back there for reconsideration because of the amendments approved in the Senate.

Major amendment was the increase in the district attorney's salary. The Assembly had approved increasing his $13,750 salary to $15,500 per year. The Senate increased the sum to $16,650.

The auditor's salary is to go up from $11,500 to $12,075 per year both houses agreed.

The measure also provides fees and mileage for members of the county grand jury. It allows them $5 per day for attendance at grand jury meetings, committee meetings and for individual investigation on assignment by the chairman of the grand jury.

Assembly Unit Almost Kills Ban On Grocery 'Bargains'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The leader of the State Senate bumped into an Assembly committee yesterday and nearly lost a bill to eliminate grocery "bargains."

Sen. Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) president pro tempore of the Senate, had a bill to ban so-called limited "loss leader" sales in retail stores for two years.

It had the support of the California Grocers Assn., whose spokesman pointed out that the "day is just around the corner when competition in the market business will be gone."

He said there were 4,862 fewer groceries in business in the state now than 10 years ago. He said the ban would help small grocers compete against supermarkets.

However, representatives of the 5,000-member California Retailers Assn., opposed the bill because they said it would "hurt the consumer and harass retail stores."

A short-manned committee voted against passing the bill to the Assembly floor for final debate, but then told Burns that he could have the measure heard again when the full committee was present.

New County Hospital Joint Meeting Planned

An early conference will be held between Marin County supervisors and the Marin County Hospital District board on possible cooperation for a county "chronic disease and rehabilitation facility," Chairman William D. Fusselman told his fellow supervisors yesterday.

He said Mrs. Marion C. Ibach, secretary of the hospital board, had promised to arrange an early joint meeting.

"She agreed in a broad way that there could be an interchange of services," said Fusselman.

"This would give a definitive answer as to how that million-dollar bond issue to be voted next month would be utilized."

Fusselman said his idea was for the county to finance and erect a structure close to Marin General Hospital, perhaps "tied in with a concourse"—a project in line, he explained, with recent recommendation of the Marin Medical Society.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair found merit, pointing out that connection with the hospital would obviate need for kitchen.

"I see various possibilities," said Blair. "For instance if we're not using all our beds, the hospital could rent them."

Supervisor Walter R. Castro, finally demanding "what are the roots of this?"

Fusselman heatedly retorted that there was nothing that didn't meet the eye. "This is in line with our theory of canvassing every possible avenue," he said.

Juvenile Hall About Ready For Occupancy

Two county juvenile hall buildings, for administration and the boys' residential unit, "are substantially complete and ready for occupancy," architect Rolland B. Hammond reported yesterday to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

He recommended that the board accept these and let the probation department take immediate occupancy as an aid to coordination in moving from older parts of the facility. This was promptly voted.

Hammond said he hoped next week to request that the county counsel be authorized to file completion of the whole job, adding that dedication ceremonies have been tentatively planned for May 21.

Supervisors Get 5-Year Plan For Fairgrounds Development

Recommendations for a revised five-year program for development of the Marin county fairgrounds site at the civic center were put before the Marin supervisors yesterday by Administrator Alan Bruce.

Accompanying the findings of the fair advisory committee, to be reviewed and transmitted to the state finance department before June 1, Bruce attached a letter from Finance Director John E. Carr on accumulation of funds.

Carr confirmed Bruce's understanding that "it is not the intention of the Public Works Board and Department of Finance to take the funds away at any time from the project set forth in the five-year building program," but "should you endeavor to divert the funds to another project, then it might be necessary to reconsider in light of total state needs and the statewide priority of such project."

The program, to be considered and probably finally approved next week according to yesterday's decision, is entirely aimed at accumulating a presumed annual $105,000 from the state until there are sufficient funds to complete an exhibit building and grandstand without breaking it down into wasteful stages of progressive construction.

Flood Funds Meeting Planned

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Action to increase funds available for flood control studies of streams emptying into Richardson Bay and five other California streams is scheduled Friday in Redding.

The California Water Commission is expected to approve recommendation to Congress for increased appropriations for the studies. At present $30,000 has been allocated. Due to transfer of some military construction from the San Francisco District, the Army Corps of Engineers finds it has manpower to step up the survey if funds are provided.

The water commission is expected to ask Congress to appropriate $80,000 for the six surveys.

She Caught Heel, Awarded $50,000

A Kentfield housewife won $50,000 damages from a Berkeley store yesterday because her heel caught in a cracked threshhold.

Mrs. Bernice Babow of 116 Laurel Grove Avenue said that in a resultant fall she broke her right hip as well as suffering a multitude of cuts, bruises and damage to nerves for which she asked $75,000.

A jury of three women and nine men returned a verdict against Louis Stores' market on Shattuck Avenue.

Council Hammered For Hotel Permit

The Sausalito City Council took a hammering by attorney Richard Gladstein at an adjourned meeting last night over a proposed ordinance which would halt issuing of use permits for hotel construction in certain areas for 120 days.

Gladstein, representing Marian Frick, said his client has "embryonic plans" to build a hotel on Princess Street near Bulkley Avenue.

"From a legal viewpoint, the ordinance is illegal. From a factual viewpoint, it is non-factual," declared Gladstein.

In his word battle with Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. (also an attorney) and Councilman Michael Harris, Gladstein said he might take the matter to court.

PUT OVER

Following discussion, the council put the matter over to next Tuesday.

The ordinance, which was up for adoption, states that no use permit shall be issued for construction of a hotel on Bulkley Avenue, Harrison Avenue, Princess Street, Atwood Avenue and Santa Rosa Avenue between the intersections of Santa Rosa with Bulkley and Harrison.

It gives reason for the ordinance urgency that "Sausalito is faced with the threat of immediate construction of large hotels which in the existing zones could cause traffic and parking problems productive of irreparable injury to the orderly development and growth of the city."

Gladstein told the council the ordinance is not legal because i selects a certain portion of the hotel zone and not all of it. Mrs. Frick, he said, is the only one considering building a hotel in that area; therefore, the ordinance is against his client.

'NO EMERGENCY'

"There is no emergency," he shouted. "Do I need to tell you that no one could proceed to construct a hotel in this area without a building permit?"

City Atty. John B. Ehlen said "if there is a factual basis, then it is within the council's power to take the stop-gap procedure."

Ehrlich said selection of streets had been made taking into consideration those portions of land that fronted essentially residential area.

After Gladstein said he might take the matter to court, Councilman Harris remarked: "I don't think it's worth anybody's while going to court for a dispute involving a 120-day waiting period."

Alan H. Surfield, Sausalito businessman and former councilman, said he felt Gladstein is correct. "I dare this council to put it up to a free suit to find out if it isn't so," said Surfield.

"We have enough ordinances . . . cannot build here . . . cannot build there," said Councilman George E Keeney. "I would vote 'no' tonight but Mr. Gladstein didn't sell me at all."

The council also continued to next week a request for variances and use permit by the Douglas Lange Corp. of Berkeley to build a 49-room hotel in the 700 block of Bridgeway. (This proposed hotel is not within the zone of the proposed stop-gap ordinance.)

The council decided to meet at 7 p.m. next Tuesday prior to its regular meeting, for a "work session" to discuss the matter.

Developer Robert D. Frazer of Tiburon, representing the corporation, told the council there is no requirement in any other city for more than one parking place per hotel room. He is providing 48 spaces; 74 are required under Sausalito's ordinance.

James W. Halley, attorney representing Marinship property owner Ellis Lando, told the council that the Planning Commission at its last meeting invalidated its vote on the Marinship Master Plan since the vote did not represent a majority of the commissioners.

Out of eight commissioners, three voted "yes," one "no" and two were absent. Halley said this defeats the motion.

Teachers Discuss Pay In Novato

Administration and trustees of the Novato Unified School District where in the middle last night as teachers talked about salaries for their administrators.

John Weston, chairman of the salary committee of the Novato Teachers Assn., read to the board an association letter and suggested an $18,000 yearly salary for Supt. W. J. J. Smith, now making $13,000 yearly.

Smith said such a figure was "out."

From E. K. Dortmund, a high school teacher, came a letter saying that salaries at the school were "increasingly and appallingly n o n-competitive" and that another administrators' schedule backed by the teachers association for principals would widen the gap between teacher and administration salaries.

EMPLOYMENT UP FOR APRIL, JOBLESS DOWN

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown reported today that California employment rose 67,000 and unemployment declined 81,000 during April.

"Only two other years since World War II have shown a larger decline in unemployment," he said. Brown said a report from Irving Perluss, director of employment, showed the unemployment level dropped from 8.3 per cent to 7 per cent last month.

"This is a heartening sign that our efforts to drive down unemployment in California are hitting home," Brown said. "We will continue to act on every front to bring this level down further."

State Asks Why Job Classification Delay

Three state officials served polite but firm notice on Marin County supervisors yesterday that Marin is last of all counties to give proper job classification in its welfare department and had better do something soon.

The supervisors winced and parried, but with indication they'd give in soon.

Marin County received kind words as to performance of the welfare department, with assurances that its efficiency under Betty L. Presley has attracted national notice.

Miss Presley, who escorted the officials, noted one instance particularly where her inability to classify and pay according to practice elsewhere through the state has caused dissatisfaction.

Five positions were cited as wrongly classified. Though this point wasn't brought out in more than an hour of discussion, with Supervisor William Gnoss finally blocking action at once, the matter involved a total of $116 monthly extra pay.

Gnoss's reason for holding up charge and causing Chairman William D. Fusselman to declare the matter now under advisement while we "try to work it out" was that he was chairman of the pertinent committee and wanted more details.

A. R. Albouze, personnel officer and merit system supervisor for the State Department of Social Welfare, described the state merit system which controls 44 counties including Marin.

All were audited between 1958 and June of 1960 to ascertain compliance with the rules, said Albouze, and "I was a little amazed when told that Marin County was the only remaining county to make necessary alterations . . . I must ask you to effect them as soon as possible. In general Marin has been very cooperative with us."

San Anselmo's Street Sweeper Blasted Again

San Anselmo's street sweeper took another slap last night from an irate citizen who described it as a "mechanical monster" that makes so much noise each morning that his family "almost suffers concussion."

A. R. Wessell of 54 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard asked the city for some relief. "What about the city's noise ordinance?" Wessell demanded.

City councilmen pointed out they have tried to correct the noise by changing the fan. Beyond that, there is nothing they can do short of changing the sweeper for another brand, they said. Mayor Carleton G. E. Little asked City Administrator Douglas Flautt to look into it once again.

Wessell conceded that changing the fan has eliminated the whine, "but it's brought out the rumble. It's a concussion!"

Here are the other actions taken last night:

1. Set for 8 p.m. May 18 a meeting with Supervisor William D. Fusselman to discuss the county's sharing its gasoline tax fund with the city. At the same meeting, city fathers will discuss candidates for the citizen's committee on downtown development.

2. Introduced an ordinance providing for city participation in the State Peace Officers Standards and Training program. Under this program, the state reimburses one-half the cost of training a police officer, if the city meets state standards.

3. Heard from the city administrator that it would be August or September before a new city controller can be hired to succeed Mrs. Anne Grant. In the meantime, Joseph Nolls, a student at Golden Gate Baptist seminary at Strawberry Point, is working at $2.50 per hour.

4. Referred to the planning commission a request by the school district to close Kensington Road between Ross Avenue and Woodland Avenue. Wade Thomas School needs land across the street to meet increasing enrollment, Robert W. Corlett explained.

SUPERVISORS ROUNDUP

Board Approves Private Plan For Richardson Bay Fill

Col. Tom E. Nowell won Marin County supervisors' approval yesterday of plans for a small amount of Richardson Bay fill despite imminent revision of the pier bulkhead line of the master plan.

This was in line with recommendation of Niels Schultz Jr. of the planning commission, who suggested Nowell might fill only on property south of Railroad Avenue and west of Perita Street, holding back on other action until after a June 5 planning meeting when master plan revisions will be made. Nowell expressed willingness to do so.

The supervisors also:

1. Approved an adjustment to permit D. M. Christensen to establish a pharmacy connected with an already approved medical building at 1123-25 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

2. Set for hearing at 2 p.m. May 23 Andre Brothers' petition to reclassify 15,000 square feet from two-family to apartment use north of Belvedere Drive 100 feet east of Reed Boulevard, Strawberry.

3. Decided to skip supervisor meetings May 29 and 30.

4. Approved sale of $110,000 worth of Kentfield School District bonds, with bids to be opened June 13.

5. Awarded a $62,586.40 contract to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael for 9,060 tons of plant mix overlay at $6.90 per ton, lowest of seven bids.

6. Asked public works director Marvin W. Brigham to look into request by Mrs. Grace Geist for more benches on courthouse grounds "and reserve certain ones for ladies only."

7. Set for discussion at 3 p.m. next Tuesday the question of extra payment to Dr. Rafael G. Duffey, county physician, and member of his staff for Nalline tests of former narcotics addicts.

8. Heard from the grand jury that a county public guardian should be appointed, noted confusion in this because the public defender was two years ago given this work on behalf of persons suffering from mental illness, asked more complete check as to what goes on.

Council Hammered For Hotel Permit

The Sausalito City Council took a hammering by attorney Richard Gladstein at an adjourned meeting last night over a proposed ordinance which would halt issuing of use permits for hotel construction in certain areas for 120 days.

Gladstein, representing Marian Frick, said his client has "embryonic plans" to build a hotel on Princess Street near Bulkley Avenue.

"From a legal viewpoint, the ordinance is illegal. From a factual viewpoint, it is nonfactual," declared Gladstein.

In his word battle with Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. (also an attorney) and Councilman Michael Harris, Gladstein said he might take the matter to court.

PUT OVER

Following discussion, the council put the matter over to next Tuesday.

The ordinance, which was up for adoption, states that no use permit shall be issued for construction of a hotel on Bulkley Avenue, Harrison Avenue, Princess Street, Atwood Avenue and Santa Rosa Avenue between the intersections of Santa Rosa with Bulkley and Harrison.

It gives reason for the ordinance urgency that "Sausalito is faced with the threat of immediate construction of large hotels which in the existing zones could cause traffic and parking problems productive of irreparable injury to the orderly development and growth of the city."

Gladstein told the council the ordinance is not legal because i. selects a certain portion of the hotel zone and not all of it. Mrs. Frick, he said, is the only one considering building a hotel in that area; therefore, the ordinance is against his client.

'NO EMERGENCY'

"There is no emergency," he shouted. "Do I need to tell you that no one could proceed to construct a hotel in this area without a building permit?"

City Atty. John B. Ehlen said "if there is a factual basis, then it is within the council's power to take the stop-gap procedure."

Ehrlich said selection of streets had been made taking into consideration those portions of land that fronted essentially residential area.

After Gladstein said he might take the matter to court, Councilman Harris remarked: "I don't think it's worth anybody's while going to court for a dispute involving a 120-day waiting period."

Alan H. Surfield, Sausalito businessman and former councilman, said he felt Gladstein is correct. "I dare this council to put it up to a free suit to find out if it isn't so," said Scurfield.

"We have enough ordinances . . . cannot build here . . . cannot build there," said Councilman George E Keeney. "I would vote 'no' tonight but Mr. Gladstein didn't sell me at all."

The council also continued to next week a request for variances and use permit by the Douglas Lange Corp. of Berkeley to build a 49-room hotel in the 700 block of Bridgeway. (This proposed hotel is not within the zone of the proposed stop-gap ordinance.)

The council decided to meet at 7 p.m. next Tuesday prior to its regular meeting, for a "work session" to discuss the matter.

Developer Robert D. Frazer of Tiburon, representing the corporation, told the council there is no requirement in any other city for more than one parking place per hotel room. He is providing 48 spaces; 74 are required under Sausalito's ordinance.

James W. Halley, attorney representing Marinship property owner Ellis Lando, told the council that the Planning Commission at its last meeting invalidated its vote on the Marinship Master Plan since the vote did not represent a majority of the commissioners.

Out of eight commissioners, three voted "yes," one "no" and two were absent. Halley said this defeats the motion.

Teachers Discuss Pay In Novato

Administration and trustees of the Novato Unified School District where in the middle last night as teachers talked about salaries for their administrators.

John Weston, chairman of the salary committee of the Novato Teachers Assn., read to the board an association letter and suggested an $18,000 yearly salary for Supt. W. J. J. Smith, now making $13,000 yearly.

Smith said such a figure was "out."

From E. K. Dortmund, a high school teacher, came a letter saying that salaries at the school were "increasingly and appallingly n o n-competitive" and that another administerators' schedule backed by the teachers association for principals would widen the gap between teacher and administration salaries.

EMPLOYMENT UP FOR APRIL, JOBLESS DOWN

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown reported today that California employment rose 67,000 and unemployment declined 81,000 during April.

"Only two other years since World War II have shown a larger decline in unemployment," he said. Brown said a report from Irving Perluss, director of employment, showed the unemployment level dropped from 8.3 per cent to 7 per cent last month.

"This is a heartening sign that our efforts to drive down unemployment in California are hitting home," Brown said. "We will continue to act on every front to bring this level down further."

State Asks Why Job Classification Delay

Three state officials served polite but firm notice on Marin County supervisors yesterday that Marin is last of all counties to give proper job classification in its welfare department and had better do something soon.

The supervisors winced and parried, but with indication they'd give in soon.

Marin County received kind words as to performance of the welfare department, with assurances that its efficiency under Betty L. Presley has attracted national notice.

Miss Presley, who escorted the officials, noted one instance particularly where her inability to classify and pay according to practice elsewhere through the state has caused dissatisfaction.

Five positions were cited as wrongly classified. Though this point wasn't brought out in more than an hour of discussion, with Supervisor William Gnoss finally blocking action at once, the matter involved a total of $116 monthly extra pay.

Gnoss's reason for holding up charge and causing Chairman William D. Fusselman to declare the matter now under advisement while we "try to work it out" was that he was chairman of the pertinent committee and wanted more details.

A. R. Albouze, personnel officer and merit system supervisor for the State Department of Social Welfare, described the state merit system which controls 44 counties including Marin.

All were audited between 1958 and June of 1960 to ascertain compliance with the rules, said Albouze, and "I was a little amazed when told that Marin County was the only remaining county to make necessary alterations . . . I must ask you to effect them as soon as possible. In general Marin has been very cooperative with us."

San Anselmo's Street Sweeper Blasted Again

San Anselmo's street sweeper took another slap last night from an irate citizen who described it as a "mechanical monster" that makes so much noise each morning that his family "almost suffers concussion."

A. R. Wessell of 54 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard asked the city for some relief. "What about the city's noise ordinance?" Wessell demanded.

City councilmen pointed out they have tried to correct the noise by changing the fan. Beyond that, there is nothing they can do short of changing the sweeper for another brand, they said. Mayor Carleton G. E. Little asked City Administrator Douglas Flautt to look into it once again.

Wessell conceded that changing the fan has eliminated the whine, "but it's brought out the rumble. It's a concussion!"

Here are the other actions taken last night:

1. Set for 8 p.m. May 18 a meeting with Supervisor William D. Fusselman to discuss the county's sharing its gasoline tax fund with the city. At the same meeting, city fathers will discuss candidates for the citizen's committee on downtown development.

2. Introduced an ordinance providing for city participation in the State Peace Officers Standards and Training program. Under this program, the state reimburses one-half the cost of training a police officer, if the city meets state standards.

3. Heard from the city administrator that it would be August or September before a new city controller can be hired to succeed Mrs. Anne Grant. In the meantime, Joseph Nolls, a student at Golden Gate Baptist seminary at Strawberry Point, is working at $2.50 per hour.

4. Referred to the planning commission a request by the school district to close Kensington Road between Ross Avenue and Woodland Avenue. Wade Thomas School needs land across the street to meet increasing enrollment, Robert W. Corlett explained.

SUPERVISORS ROUNDUP

Board Approves Private Plan For Richardson Bay Fill

Col. Tom E. Nowell won Marin County supervisors' approval yesterday of plans for a small amount of Richardson Bay fill despite imminent revision of the pier bulkhead line of the master plan.

This was in line with recommendation of Niels Schultz Jr. of the planning commission, who suggested Nowell might fill only on property south of Railroad Avenue and west of Perita Street, holding back on other action until after a June 5 planning meeting when master plan revisions will be made. Nowell expressed willingness to do so.

The supervisors also:

1. Approved an adjustment to permit D. M. Christensen to establish a pharmacy connected with an already approved medical building at 1123-25 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

2. Set for hearing at 2 p.m. May 23 Andre Brothers' petition to reclassify 15,000 square feet from two-family to apartment use north of Belvedere Drive 100 feet east of Reed Boulevard, Strawberry.

3. Decided to skip supervisor meetings May 29 and 30.

4. Approved sale of $110,000 worth of Kentfield School District bonds, with bids to be opened June 13.

5. Awarded a $62,586.40 contract to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael for 9,060 tons of plant mix overlay at $6.90 per ton, lowest of seven bids.

6. Asked public works director Marvin W. Brigham to look into request by Mrs. Grace Geist for more benches on courthouse grounds "and reserve certain ones for ladies only."

7. Set for discussion at 3 p.m. next Tuesday the question of extra payment to Dr. Rafael G. Duffey, county physician, and member of his staff for Nalline tests of former narcotics addicts.

8. Heard from the grand jury that a county public guardian should be appointed, noted confusion in this because the public defender was two years ago given this work on behalf of persons suffering from mental illness, asked more complete check as to what goes on.

Planners Get Tentative Zoning Plan

A tentative zoning plan, dividing the unclassified area of San Rafael east of Highway 101 and north of the Terra Linda Interchange into six zoned areas, was presented to the San Rafael Planning Commission last night by Acting City Planner James Garrett.

Before the meeting was over, the commission had already decided on changing one of the proposed zones.

The proposed zoning plan includes the Marin Professional Center and Commonwealth Light Industrial subdivision. It includes restricted commercial, administrative professional, multiple residential, general commercial, light industrial and two "planned community" areas.

Later in the meeting, Douglas M. Christensen presented a plan for building garden apartments on his 24 acres within the area proposed for zoning. He would keep the trees as a green belt on the hills where the proposed 350 apartment units would be built.

The commission liked the plan, so asked that Garrett's tentative map be changed to zone Christensen's 24 acres for garden apartments instead of "planned community" as shown.

The commission will hold a public hearing on the zone changes at its next meeting.

Also at last night's San Rafael Planning Commission meeting:

1. James Bowler was given architectural approval for a 20-unit apartment house to cost $95,000, on Canal Street adjacent to his present apartments.

2. The planners approved altered plans of Carlisle Rickards to increase the size of his proposed supermarket by 10 feet and eliminate one of the adjoining stores, making five instead of six in his planned shopping center at Belvedere and Vivian Streets in East San Rafael.

3. Robert Chang was granted a use permit for a boat sales business on Francisco Boulevard at Irwin Street, with the provision that he provide parking space for six cars and pave the area for cars and boats.

4. Lloyd Grandi was granted a two-lot subdivision on Fairhills Drive and Oakmont Avenue, with a common driveway onto Oakmont Avenue. Grandi must pave the driveway and put in a sewer, planners decided.

5. Pacific Gas and Electric Co. was granted permission to erect three temporary buildings on property on Lincoln Avenue Extension with a one-year time limit on the buildings.

6. A request by Robert Toquinto to divide property on Miraflores Avenue into two lots was held over for two weeks, pending a survey of the property.

7. Annexation of lands of the San Rafael Newport Co. was held over pending a study to see if other adjoining lands could be annexed at the same time.

8. A use permit requested by Richard Stevenson for duplexes and one triplex on Elizabeth Way, and architectural approval for a shopping center requested by David Glazier for the east side of Medway Road, were dropped because petitioners failed for the second time to appear at a meeting.

The majestic bald eagle, far from being bald, has a handsome head coating of white feathers. Its name may come from the word piebald or from an old definition of bald as white or white streaked.

Planners Get Tentative Zoning Plan

A tentative zoning plan, dividing the unclassified area of San Rafael east of Highway 101 and north of the Terra Linda Interchange into six zoned areas, was presented to the San Rafael Planning Commission last night by Acting City Planner James Garrett.

Before the meeting was over, the commission had already decided on changing one of the proposed zones.

The proposed zoning plan includes the Marin Professional Center and Commonwealth Light Industrial subdivision. It includes restricted commercial, administrative professional, multiple residential, general commercial, light industrial and two "planned community" areas.

Later in the meeting, Douglas M. Christensen presented a plan for building garden apartments on his 24 acres within the area proposed for zoning. He would keep the trees as a green belt on the hills where the proposed 350 apartment units would be built.

The commission liked the plan, so asked that Garrett's tentative map be changed to zone Christensen's 24 acres for garden apartments instead of "planned community" as shown.

The commission will hold a public hearing on the zone changes at its next meeting.

Also at last night's San Rafael Planning Commission meeting:

1. James Bowler was given architectural approval for a 20-unit apartment house to cost $95,000, on Canal Street adjacent to his present apartments.

2. The planners approved altered plans of Carlisle Rickards to increase the size of his proposed supermarket by 10 feet and eliminate one of the adjoining stores, making five instead of six in his planned shopping center at Belvedere and Vivian Streets in East San Rafael.

3. Robert Chang was granted a use permit for a boat sales business on Francisco Boulevard at Irwin Street, with the provision that he provide parking space for six cars and pave the area for cars and boats.

4. Lloyd Grandi was granted a two-lot subdivision on Fairhills Drive and Oakmont Avenue, with a common driveway onto Oakmont Avenue. Grandi must pave the driveway and put in a sewer, planners decided.

5. Pacific Gas and Electric Co. was granted permission to erect three temporary buildings on property on Lincoln Avenue Extension with a one-year time limit on the buildings.

6. A request by Robert Toquinto to divide property on Miraflores Avenue into two lots was held over for two weeks, pending a survey of the property.

7. Annexation of lands of the San Rafael Newport Co. was held over pending a study to see if other adjoining lands could be annexed at the same time.

8. A use permit requested by Richard Stevenson for duplexes and one triplex on Elizabeth Way, and architectural approval for a shopping center requested by David Glazier for the east side of Medway Road, were dropped because petitioners failed for the second time to appear at a meeting.

Record-Breaker Jim Gentile Takes Aim At 'Triple Crown'

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

No matter who you like for the triple crown—Mickey Mantle or Carry Back—it might be a wise idea to keep your eye on a dark horse named Jim Gentile.

Baseball's "railbirds" gradually are becoming convinced the broad-backed Baltimore Oriole first baseman can do it.

Gentile gave them added food for thought yesterday by setting three major league records with a pair of grand slam homers in consecutive innings during a 13-5 victory over Minnesota that led Baltimore into sole possession of third place in the American League.

The 26-year-old Gentile—all his friends call him "Diamond Jim"—drove in nine runs with his two homers and a sacrifice fly so that he now leads the league with 30 RBI's. That gives him six more than Mantle has and his season total of nine home runs is the same as Mantle's.

Given to brooding when he's not hitting, Gentile has been known to moan, "maybe I should have been a truck driver like my father," but the fact of the matter is that he's making a joke of the sophomore jinx with a current batting average of .353 that is third best in the league.

MAJOR RECORDS

Gentile's first homer yesterday came off loser Pedro Ramos (2-2) in the first inning and his second one was hit at the expense of Paul Giel in the second inning. The Orioles' slugger thus became the first man in major league history ever to hit grand slam homers in consecutive times at bat and in consecutive innings. The eight runs he drove in with those two blows earned him another record — most runs driven in over two innings.

Ron Hansen also homered for the Orioles to help Chuck Estrada to his second victory. Bob Allison hit a pair of homers for the Twins and Hal Naragon and Harmon Killebrew hit one apiece.

Elsewhere in the A.L., the Chicago White Sox snapped a seven-game losing streak with a 4-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians; Kansas City beat New York, 5-4; first-place Detroit ran its winning streak to six games with a 7-2 win over Washington in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader, but lost the nightcap, 5-4, and Los Angeles beat Boston, 8-7.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

In the National League, Pittsburgh ended San Francisco's four-game winning streak, 9-6; Milwaukee downed Chicago, 8-5, and Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia, 5-2, in a game called during the sixth inning because of rain, which also postponed the St. Louis-Cincinnati contest.

Bob Buhl pitched a four-hitter and Joe Adcock hit two home runs in the Braves' victory over the Cubs. Buhl (1-2) had his biggest trouble with Ernie Banks, who hit a three-run homer in the first inning and a homer with the bases empty in the sixth. Glen Hobbie suffered his fourth setback against one victory.

The Dodgers' victory over the Phillies moved them to within one game of the league-leading Giants. Don Drysdale picked up his third victory in the rain-abbreviated contest and Art Mahaffey was tagged with his third defeat. Ron Fairly and Norm Larker each homered for the Dodgers.

Novato Clinches Prep Golf Crown Over San Rafael

Bob "Moe" Sparrow, sixth man on Novato High School's golf team, sank a great 25-foot chip shot on the final hole yesterday to gain a tie in his match and give the Hornets a 3½ to 2½ match victory over the San Rafael team at the Marin Golf and Country Club.

It was the ninth straight victory for Coach Jerry Barnacle's linksters to give them the undisputed golf title in the Marin Athletic League.

Greatest golf of the day was turned in by Novato's undefeated number one man Fred O'Bannon, who toured the difficult second nine holes at Marin in 37 strokes, just one over par. He won his match by a 2 and 1 margin. O'Bannon's card showed five pars and two birdies in the windy, rainy round.

Other Novatons who won their matches were Rob Shultz and Al Walters. Shultz had four pars and one birdie in his round of 39 strokes.

McCORMICK FACES BUCS TONIGHT

Classic Race Shaping Up In N.L.

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — One little loss by the San Francisco Giants suddenly has turned the National League race into a dogfight again.

The Giants managed to open up a little daylight on their pursuers by winning eight of the first 10 road contests on their current swing, but last night the Pittsburgh Pirates tallied seven times in the first two innings and then coasted to a rain-sprinkled 9-6 decision at Forbes Field.

Now the standings show only a game and a half between the first place men of Alvin Dark and the fourth place Cincinnati Reds. Los Angeles and Pittsburgh are in second and third as a classic race seems to be under way.

The Giants and Bucs will have at it again tonight with lefty Mike McCormick (2-1) and Bob Friend (4-1) slated to start.

Jack Sanford didn't have it last night and as a result the Giants quickly had it.

The Pirates tallied three in the first off Sanford, who then failed to get anybody out in the second. Jim Duffalo took over and was greeted by a towering double off the bat of Bob Skinner and a single by the red-hot Roberto Clements. The Pirates were ahead 7-0 before the Giants knew what hit them.

It was too bad for the Giants, because they had also brought their hitting shoes with them.

Willie Mays hit a double and a triple in the early going, and Ed Bailey finlaly got the Giants on the scoreboard with a homer in the fifth. They added three more in the fifth with singles by Felipe Alou and Orlando Cepeda doing most of the damage.

By now Eddie Fisher was serving them up for San Francisco and the pesky Pirates salted the game away when Clemente put one out of the park with one aboard in the seventh.

Harvey Haddix pitched the first six frames for the Pirates with the veteran sinker ball artist Clem Labine taking over in the seventh. The Giants got a last gasp pair of scores in the ninth on hits by the second string brigade of Jim Marshall, Matty Alou and Jim Davenport.

Both teams ended up with 13 hits, but the Giants nover could live down those first two innings. Sprinkles of rain were felt off-and-on throughout the contest. As far as the Giants were concerned the raindrops were too little and too late.

Dark Preaches A Pitcher's Legs Are More Important Than His Arm

HANLEY

PITTSBURGH—If corroboration ever were needed for Alvin Dark's oft-repeated statement that a pitcher's legs are more important than his arm, George Witt unintentionally supplied it the other day.

The Pirate pitcher, in his first start of the season because Vernon Law's shoulder was aching, had a perfect game going last Sunday against the Dodgers with one down in the sixth when Charlie Neal spoiled everything with a homer that tied the game 1-1.

In the seventh, Witt retired the first batter but then Wally Moon singled, Norm Larker drilled a 3-1 pitch into the right field seats and Frank Howard followed with a towering shot over the Forbes Field scoreboard in left. That was the ball game.

"I felt fine going into the seventh inning," said Witt. "Then my legs went out from under me and my arm wouldn't do what my mind was telling it. A pitcher must have work and I'd love to have that work in the majors. I didn't have too much time to prove myself."

That a pitcher must have work to stay sharp none will dispute. But, with or without regular work, a pitcher's legs should be strong provided they physically are sound and he faithfully performs the tedious pickup and running exercises to keep them that way.

AT THIS early stage of the 1961 campaign, no pitcher or any other member of a ball team for that matter should be bothered by leg weariness. Witt's admission that his legs went out from under him did not prompt any comment from Danny Murtaugh, but you can bet the Pirate manager made careful note of it.

Most managers take it for granted that members of his team, particularly the utility hands and pitchers, do the necessary track work that hardens leg muscles. Not the rookie Giant manager.

THROUGHOUT THE entire spring encampment in Arizona, Dark personally saw to it that the legs of his pitchers got just about as much work as they could stand. Their arms were under Larry Jansen's supervision and the new Giant pitching coach tested them fully by insisting that every man under his jurisdiction throw both curves and fast balls from the first day of practice.

Jansen knew he had to sell this idea to a staff of major league mound veterans whose concept of spring training from years of experience was to baby their arms for the first week or so, throwing soft, then a little harder and finally real hard, with curves being reserved for the last couple of weeks of training.

But Jansen also knew that his approach to training a pitching staff was not new at all, that it has been going on for years in the minor leagues.

MEANWHILE, Dark, fully subscribing to Jansen's policy, had another surprise in store for the pitchers. As they came off the mound, he escorted them to the outfield and put them through the pickup routine, tossing a baseball first to the right, then to the left, the pitcher retrieving it with a full backbend and straight legs.

Even now with the season one month old, Dark still personally puts his pitchers through this routine in pregame exercises and they know the routine is going to continue for the rest of the season.

Sam Jones turned the Giant clubhouse into roaring laughter, Dark included, the other day when he said:

"I do believe the man is training us to run the ball over the plate."

Thriller! Redwood Hangs On For First League Victory

Redwood High School, proud champion in football and basketball but a have-not in this season's baseball race, snapped a five-game losing slump yesterday with a nerve-tingling 4-3 victory over the Novato Hornets at Albert Field in San Rafael.

Hard-throwing pitcher Rich Brear saved the victory for Redwood by firing a third strike by the batter for the final out as Novato's Jim Scribner was stealing home. Had Brear's pitch been a ball, Scribner would have been safe at home with the tying run!

Brear wound up the game with 10 strikeouts and only one walk in one of his best performances of the year.

However, he had some anxious moments in that seventh inning for Lu Haas doubled and Scribner tripled to pull the Hornets to within a run of Redwood. That's when Brear struck out the final two batters.

Redwood broke up a scoreless duel in the fourth when John Whitney, who had singled, scored later on a throwing error for a 1-0 lead.

Novato came back with two runs in the fifth when Nick Willard doubled and scored on Bob Remley's single. Remley, moved around to third by Sam Young's single to right, stole home with the go-ahead tally.

The Giants came back with the three decisive runs in the sixth on Whitney's two-run single and Jerry Jarcik's perfect squeeze bunt.

Whitney and Haas led all batters with two blows apiece.

Bulldogs Save League Lead With A Rally In The Rain

San Rafael's Bulldogs stood alone atop the Marin Athletic League baseball standings today, thanks to a rain-drenched sixth inning rally and clutch relief pitching of Jack "No-Hit" Sovereign that led to a tough 8-5 victory over the Marin Catholic Wildcats yesterday.

San Rafael's win coupled with Tamalpais High's loss to Drake gave the Bulldogs sole possession of first place with a 6-1 record, a game ahead of Tam's 5-2 mark. Each team has three games to play, including a Tam-San Rafael showdown next Tuesday at Tam.

Marin Catholic, gunning for its fourth straight victory after three early-season losses, was giving the front-running Bulldogs fits through the first five innings yesterday. The Wildcats clawed their way into a 4-4 tie in the bottom of the fifth when a throwing error allowed Jerry DeRosa to score the tying run as rain began pelting the playing field.

Sovereign, who last Friday pitched a no-hitter against Drake, then was called in to relieve starter Ken Becker and big Jack responded by putting out the Marin Catholic fire.

FOUR-RUN RALLY

San Rafael then called on all its batting strength in the top of the sixth inning, fighting a race with fears the game would be called because of the rains which were picking up momentum. The Bulldogs unleashed four hits in the sixth inning for four runs and an all-important victory. An error on Billy Roberts bunt sent home two runs and Rich Curry and Tom Williams drove home one each during the rally. Sovereign, pinch-hitter Jim Costello and Gary Ledson also singled during the uprising.

Marin Catholic fought back for one unearned run in the seventh inning, but Sovereign shut the door as he picked up his fifth league victory.

The sixth and seventh innings were played during a drenching rain.

Roberts and Osborne each had two runs batted in for San Rafael and Harold Ryan and Chris Ahearn ditto for Marin.

Drake Knocks Tamites Out Of League Lead

Nino Geminiani handcuffed Tamalpais High batters on a two-hitter yesterday as his Drake Pirates knocked the Indians out of first place in the Marin Athletic League by an 8-1 margin.

The game, called during the sixth inning by rain, was decided in the first inning when four Tam errors opened the gate for five unearned runs for Drake. Outfielder Lee Malcolm drove home two runs during the rally. The Pirates added two more in the second and final run in the fifth just before the rains came.

Tam's only hits were singles by Dave Perlis in the fourth inning and "Butch" Herr in the fifth, when Tam's lone run scored.

The Pirates, held hitless by San Rafael's Jack Sovereign last Friday at the depth of their losing streak, bounced back with seven safeties yesterday, including three by catcher Mike Bresnan and two by Jerry Ard.

Drake, tournament champion and pre-season favorite to bag its second straight round robin title, now has four victories and three losses, one game behind second-place Tam and two behind San Rafael. With three games to go, the Pirates still have slim hopes for the title.

SOPH PITCHES NO-HITTER FOR REDWOOD JV

Steve White, sophomore righthander at Redwood High School, pitched a no-hit, 8-0 victory over Novato High in a junior varsity baseball game yesterday at Novato.

White struck out six batters, walked five and aided his own cause by slamming a double and two singles in four appearances at bat. He also drove across two runs and scored one.

The 5-foot, 8-inch 140-pound fastballer recorded his second victory of the season against two losses.

Take It Easy On Ball Bats, They May Be Rationed

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Hey, Mickey Mantle, Hank Aaron and the rest of you sluggers—take it easy on those bats! They may have to be rationed.

A partial survey made by the State Conservation Department revealed yesterday that a mystery disease is threatening extinction of New York's famed white ash, which is used in 75 per cent of the major league baseball bats.

The disease of unknown origin is called "Ash Dieback," and it has caused such extensive damage that the conservation department is conduct a research program to develop possible control measures.

Pro Tennis Stars To Conduct Marin Clinics

Three of the four professionals who are to play in Jack Kramer's world championship pro tennis playoff matches at the Cow Palace Saturday night will fly into the Bay Area to give two free net clinics tomorrow —and Marin County gets both of them.

An excellent advance sale in Marin prompted Kramer to send Frank Sedgman, Barry MacKay and Andres Gimeno in to stage clinics at Mill Valley Tennis Club tomorrow at 3 p.m. and at Rafael Racket Club at 5:15.

TWO-DAY LULL

The pros are taking advantage of a two-day lull in their 29-match series to give the clinics, which are open to both youngsters and adults.

Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, the six-time world kingpin, is the fourth member of the troupe. He will fly in Saturday to play Gimeno in the feature match of the evening. MacKay and Sedgman open the show at 8 p.m. A doubles match will conclude the activities.

Their Cow Palace stand is the 21st in the series, the winner of which takes home the world title and $35,000. Second, third and fourth place finishers will get $25,000, $20,000 and $15,000.

Herb Clark, pro-manager of the Belvedere Tennis Club and Bay area business representative for Kramer, announces a good advance sale, especially in Marin County where Lee Hirsch of Tiburon has been helping him.

Tickets, priced from $1.50 to $5, may be purchased from Clark at the Belvedere club.

Cal Poly Teams To Travel By Land In Future

SAN LUIS OBISPO (AP)—California Polytechnic Institute, whose San Luis Obispo campus football team lost 16 men last fall in an air crash, announced yesterday that in future its athletic teams will travel only by land.

The announcement was part of an athletic policy statement issued by President Julian A. McPhee. McPhee said the new policy will go into effect next year at both the San Luis Obispo and Pomona campuses.

Twenty-two persons were killed in the Toledo, Ohio, crash last Oct. 29, following Cal Poly's game with Bowling Green. Sixteen of those killed were Cal Poly players.

McPhee also said Cal Poly teams will be permitted to travel only to states contiguous to California, Arizona, Nevada and Oregon.

SEMI-PROS

Mill Valley Clobbers Marin City

The Mill Valley Merchants semi-pro team clobbered the Marin City All Stars in a practice session Sunday with a barrage of 18 hits that included three over-the-wall homers.

The 18-to-4 victory was brought in by centerfielder Gary Rogers and shortstop Don Palaia, both of San Rafael, and pitcher Tom Leps of Mill Valley. Leps wasn't satisfied with striking out six in a row through the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. He also had to hit a 400-foot, three-run homer. Rogers and Palaia also had homers and three hits apiece.

The Marin City club was held to three hits. One was a double that brought in two of the losing team's four runs.

Merchants manager Bob Selnas aid the next practice game will be held next at 1:30 p.m. Sunday with a San Francisco team at Project 17 in Mill Valley.

A total of 107,532 chukar partridge have been released in the past 10 years into 134 planting sites in Utah.

Fish And Game Will Stock Rodeo Lagoon

The Department of Fish and Game has announced that this week it will stock catchable size trout in Rodeo Lagoon, but that "anglers are reminded that (stocking) is tentative and subject to change, depending upon water and road conditions . . ."

Other fishing areas to be stocked are Anderson, Big Canyon, Kelsy, St. Helena creeks, and Upper Blue Lake, all in Lake County; Big Sur, Carmel Rivers in Monterey County; Lake Merced and North and South lakes in San Francisco County; Chorro Reservoir, San Simeon Lagoon, and Atasacadero Creek in San Luis Obispo County; Gazos and Pescadero creeks, and Bean Hollow Lake in San Mateo County; Coyote River in Santa Clara County, and Corralitos Creek in Santa Cruz County.

Winner Take All, Machen Tells Floyd

SAN JOSE (UPI)—The manager of Eddie Machen yesterday challenged world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson to meet Machen on a winner-take-all basis "in any state that allows such an agreement."

Sid Flaherty said Machen "has never thought of himself as a great fighter. However, after watching Patterson in his last performance against Ingemar Johansson and recalling that the champion has been on the canvas at least 10 times in four of his last five defenses, Machen is content to fight on a winner-take-all basis."

Flaherty has been unable to set up a title fight for his boxer in talks with Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato. He said yesterday he would withdraw as Machen's manager if D'Amato made that a condition for a title fight.

"If Patterson is worried about income tax trouble, he could receive Machen's share of the purse," Flaherty said of his proposal.

Record-Breaker Jim Gentile Takes Aim At 'Triple Crown'

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

No matter who you like for the triple crown—Mickey Mantle or Carry Back—it might be a wise idea to keep your eye on a dark horse named Jim Gentile.

Baseball's "railbirds" gradually are becoming convinced the broad-backed Baltimore Oriole first baseman can do it.

Gentile gave them added food for thought yesterday by setting three major league records with a pair of grand slam homers in consecutive innings during a 13-5 victory over Minnesota that led Baltimore into sole possession of third place in the American League.

The 26-year-old Gentile—all his friends call him "Diamond Jim"—drove in nine runs with his two homers and a sacrifice fly so that he now leads the league with 30 RBI's. That gives him six more than Mantle has and his season total of nine home runs is the same as Mantle's.

Given to brooding when he's not hitting, Gentile has been known to moan, "maybe I should have been a truck driver like my father," but the fact of the matter is that he's making a joke of the sophomore jinx with a current batting average of .353 that is third best in the league.

MAJOR RECORDS

Gentile's first homer yesterday came off loser Pedro Ramos (2-2) in the first inning and his second one was hit at the expense of Paul Giel in the second inning. The Orioles' slugger thus became the first man in major league history ever to hit grand slam homers in consecutive times at bat and in consecutive innings. The eight runs he drove in with those two blows earned him another record — most runs driven in over two innings.

Ron Hansen also homered for the Orioles to help Chuck Estrada to his second victory. Bob Allison hit a pair of homers for the Twins and Hal Naragon and Harmon Killebrew hit one apiece.

Elsewhere in the A.L., the Chicago White Sox snapped a seven-game losing streak with a 4-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians; Kansas City beat New York, 5-4; first-place Detroit ran its winning streak to six games with a 7-2 win over Washington in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader, but lost the nightcap, 5-4, and Los Angeles beat Boston, 8-7.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

In the National League, Pittsburgh ended San Francisco's four-game winning streak, 9-6; Milwaukee downed Chicago, 8-5, and Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia, 5-2, in a game called during the sixth inning because of rain, which also postponed the St. Louis-Cincinnati contest.

Bob Buhl pitched a four-hitter and Joe Adcock hit two home runs in the Braves' victory over the Cubs. Buhl (1-2) had his biggest trouble with Ernie Banks, who hit a three-run homer in the first inning and a homer with the bases empty in the sixth. Glen Hobbie suffered his fourth setback against one victory.

The Dodgers' victory over the Phillies moved them to within one game of the league-leading Giants. Don Drysdale picked up his third victory in the rain-abbreviated contest and Art Mahaffey was tagged with his third defeat. Ron Fairly and Norm Larker each homered for the Dodgers.

Novato Clinches Prep Golf Crown Over San Rafael

Bob "Moe" Sparrow, sixth man on Novato High School's golf team, sank a great 25-foot chip shot on the final hole yesterday to gain a tie in his match and give the Hornets a 3½ to 2½ match victory over the San Rafael team at the Marin Golf and Country Club.

It was the ninth straight victory for Coach Jerry Barnacle's linksters to give them the undisputed golf title in the Marin Athletic League.

Greatest golf of the day was turned in by Novato's undefeated number one man Fred O'Bannon, who toured the difficult second nine holes at Marin in 37 strokes, just one over par. He won his match by a 2 and 1 margin. O'Bannon's card showed five pars and two birdies in the windy, rainy round.

Other Novatons who won their matches were Rob Shultz and Al Walters. Shultz had four pars and one birdie in his round of 39 strokes.

Classic Race Shaping Up In N.L.

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — One little loss by the San Francisco Giants suddenly has turned the National League race into a dogfight again.

The Giants managed to open up a little daylight on their pursuers by winning eight of the first 10 road contests on their current swing, but last night the Pittsburgh Pirates tallied seven times in the first two innings and then coasted to a rain-sprinkled 9-6 decision at Forbes Field.

Now the standings show only a game and a half between the first place men of Alvin Dark and the fourth place Cincinnati Reds. Los Angeles and Pittsburgh are in second and third as a classic race seems to be under way.

The Giants and Bucs will have at it again tonight with lefty Mike McCormick (2-1) and Bob Friend (4-1) slated to start.

Jack Sanford didn't have it last night and as a result the Giants quickly had it.

The Pirates tallied three in the first off Sanford, who then failed to get anybody out in the second. Jim Duffalo took over and was greeted by a towering double off the bat of Bob Skinner and a single by the red-hot Roberto Clements. The Pirates were ahead 7-0 before the Giants knew what hit them.

It was too bad for the Giants, because they had also brought their hitting shoes with them.

Willie Mays hit a double and a triple in the early going, and Ed Bailey finlaly got the Giants on the scoreboard with a homer in the fifth. They added three more in the fifth with singles by Felipe Alou and Orlando Cepeda doing most of the damage.

By now Eddie Fisher was serving them up for San Francisco and the pesky Pirates salted the game away when Clemente put one out of the park with one aboard in the seventh.

Harvey Haddix pitched the first six frames for the Pirates with the veteran sinker ball artist Clem Labine taking over in the seventh. The Giants got a last gasp pair of scores in the ninth on hits by the second string brigade of Jim Marshall, Matty Alou and Jim Davenport.

Both teams ended up with 13 hits, but the Giants never could live down those first two innings. Sprinkles of rain were felt off-and-on throughout the contest. As far as the Giants were concerned the raindrops were too little and too late.

Dark Preaches A Pitcher's Legs Are More Important Than His Arm

HANLEY

PITTSBURGH—If corroboration ever were needed for Alvin Dark's oft-repeated statement that a pitcher's legs are more important than his arm, George Witt unintentionally supplied it the other day.

The Pirate pitcher, in his first start of the season because Vernon Law's shoulder was aching, had a perfect game going last Sunday against the Dodgers with one down in the sixth when Charlie Neal spoiled everything with a homer that tied the game 1-1.

In the seventh, Witt retired the first batter but then Wally Moon singled, Norm Larker drilled a 3-1 pitch into the right field seats and Frank Howard followed with a towering shot over the Forbes Field scoreboard in left. That was the ball game.

"I felt fine going into the seventh inning," said Witt. "Then my legs went out from under me and my arm wouldn't do what my mind was telling it. A pitcher must have work and I'd love to have that work in the majors. I didn't have too much time to prove myself."

That a pitcher must have work to stay sharp none will dispute. But, with or without regular work, a pitcher's legs should be strong provided they physically are sound and he faithfully performs the tedious pickup and running exercises to keep them that way.

AT THIS early stage of the 1961 campaign, no pitcher or any other member of a ball team for that matter should be bothered by leg weariness. Witt's admission that his legs went out from under him did not prompt any comment from Danny Murtaugh, but you can bet the Pirate manager made careful note of it.

Most managers take it for granted that members of his team, particularly the utility hands and pitchers, do the necessary track work that hardens leg muscles. Not the rookie Giant manager.

THROUGHOUT THE entire spring encampment in Arizona, Dark personally saw to it that the legs of his pitchers got just about as much work as they could stand. Their arms were under Larry Jansen's supervision and the new Giant pitching coach tested them fully by insisting that every man under his jurisdiction throw both curves and fast balls from the first day of practice.

Jansen knew he had to sell this idea to a staff of major league mound veterans whose concept of spring training from years of experience was to baby their arms for the first week or so, throwing soft, then a little harder and finally real hard, with curves being reserved for the last couple of weeks of training.

But Jansen also knew that his approach to training a pitching staff was not new at all, that it has been going on for years in the minor leagues.

MEANWHILE, Dark, fully subscribing to Jansen's policy, had another surprise in store for the pitchers. As they came off the mound, he escorted them to the outfield and put them through the pickup routine, tossing a baseball first to the right, then to the left, the pitcher retrieving it with a full backbend and straight legs.

Even now with the season one month old, Dark still personally puts his pitchers through this routine in pregame exercises and they know the routine is going to continue for the rest of the season.

Sam Jones turned the Giant clubhouse into roaring laughter, Dark included, the other day when he said:

"I do believe the man is training us to run the ball over the plate."

Thriller! Redwood Hangs On For First League Victory

Redwood High School, proud champion in football and basketball but a have-not in this season's baseball race, snapped a five-game losing slump yesterday with a nerve-tingling 4-3 victory over the Novato Hornets at Albert Field in San Rafael.

Hard-throwing pitcher Rich Brear saved the victory for Redwood by firing a third strike by the batter for the final out as Novato's Jim Scribner was stealing home. Had Brear's pitch been a ball, Scribner would have been safe at home with the tying run!

Brear wound up the game with 10 strikeouts and only one walk in one of his best performances of the year.

However, he had some anxious moments in that seventh inning for Lu Haas doubled and Scribner tripled to pull the Hornets to within a run of Redwood. That's when Brear struck out the final two batters.

Redwood broke up a scoreless duel in the fourth when John Whitney, who had singled, scored later on a throwing error for a 1-0 lead.

Novato came back with two runs in the fifth when Nick Willard doubled and scored on Bob Remley's single. Remley, moved around to third by Sam Young's single to right, stole home with the go-ahead tally.

The Giants came back with the three decisive runs in the sixth on Whitney's two-run single and Jerry Jarcik's perfect squeeze bunt.

Whitney and Haas led all batters with two blows apiece.

MARIN CATHOLIC BEATEN

Bulldogs Save League Lead With A Rally In The Rain

San Rafael's Bulldogs stood alone atop the Marin Athletic League baseball standings today, thanks to a rain-drenched sixth inning rally and clutch relief pitching of Jack "No-Hit" Sovereign that led to a tough 8-5 victory over the Marin Catholic Wildcats yesterday.

San Rafael's win coupled with Tamalpais High's loss to Drake gave the Bulldogs sole possession of first place with a 6-1 record, a game ahead of Tam's 5-2 mark. Each team has three games to play, including a Tam-San Rafael showdown next Tuesday at Tam.

Marin Catholic, gunning for its fourth straight victory after three early-season losses, was giving the front-running Bulldogs fits through the first five innings yesterday. The Wildcats clawed their way into a 4-4 tie in the bottom of the fifth when a throwing error allowed Jerry DeRosa to score the tying run as rain began pelting the playing field.

Sovereign, who last Friday pitched a no-hitter against Drake, then was called in to relieve starter Ken Becker and big Jack responded by putting out the Marin Catholic fire.

FOUR-RUN RALLY

San Rafael then called on all its batting strength in the top of the sixth inning, fighting a race with fears the game would be called because of the rains which were picking up momentum. The Bulldogs unleashed four hits in the sixth inning for four runs and an all-important victory. An error on Billy Roberts bunt sent home two runs and Rich Curry and Tom Williams drove home one each during the rally. Sovereign, pinch-hitter Jim Costello and Gary Ledson also singled during the uprising.

Marin Catholic fought back for one unearned run in the seventh inning, but Sovereign shut the door as he picked up his fifth league victory.

The sixth and seventh innings were played during a drenching rain.

Roberts and Osborne each had two runs batted in for San Rafael and Harold Ryan and Chris Ahearn ditto for Marin.

Drake Knocks Tamites Out Of League Lead

Nino Geminiani handcuffed Tamalpais High batters on a two-hitter yesterday as his Drake Pirates knocked the Indians out of first place in the Marin Athletic League by an 8-1 margin.

The game, called during the sixth inning by rain, was decided in the first inning when four Tam errors opened the gate for five unearned runs for Drake. Outfielder Lee Malcolm drove home two runs during the rally. The Pirates added two more in the second and final run in the fifth just before the rains came.

Tam's only hits were singles by Dave Perlis in the fourth inning and "Butch" Herr in the fifth, when Tam's lone run scored.

The Pirates, held hitless by San Rafael's Jack Sovereign last Friday at the depth of their losing streak, bounced back with seven safeties yesterday, including three by catcher Mike Bresnan and two by Jerry Ard.

Drake, tournament champion and pre-season favorite to bag its second straight round robin title, now has four victories and three losses, one game behind second-place Tam and two behind San Rafael. With three games to go, the Pirates still have slim hopes for the title.

SOPH PITCHES NO-HITTER FOR REDWOOD JV

Steve White, sophomore righthander at Redwood High School, pitched a no-hit, 8-0 victory over Novato High in a junior varsity baseball game yesterday at Novato.

White struck out six batters, walked five and aided his own cause by slamming a double and two singles in four appearances at bat. He also drove across two runs and scored one.

The 5-foot, 8-inch 140-pound fastballer recorded his second victory of the season against two losses.

Take It Easy On Ball Bats, They May Be Rationed

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Hey, Mickey Mantle, Hank Aaron and the rest of you sluggers—take it easy on those bats! They may have to be rationed.

A partial survey made by the State Conservation Department revealed yesterday that a mystery disease is threatening extinction of New York's famed white ash, which is used in 75 per cent of the major league baseball bats.

The disease of unknown origin is called "Ash Dieback," and it has caused such extensive damage that the conservation department is conducting a research program to develop possible control measures.

Study At Stanford Predicts California Economic Future

MENLO PARK (AP)—Without the intensive spark of one large industry, such as defense supplied in the 1950s, the California economic growth may slow down some in the '60s and '70s but will still be faster than elsewhere in the United States.

That is the gist of a 456-page, three-year study by a 12-man team of economists which was released today by Stanford Research Institute.

The study looked for an average annual increase of 126,300 employees during the '60s and 206,300 in the '70s, with the toal reaching 7.3 million by 1970 and 9.3 million by 1980.

Current employment is approximately six million. The study projected the unemployment average over the next decade as running around 5 per cent in the state. It now is 8.3 per cent in the state and 7.7 in the nation.

The study concluded that by 1970 California should have a population of 19 million and by 1980 the figure should be 24.7 million. The 1960 census placed it at around 15.7 million.

Discussing the possible slowdown in rate of growth, the report said further expansion of defense industries can be expected but it was unikely that the combination of factors producing the 1950s' great upsurge would be repeated.

The analysts felt:

The growth impetus during the 1960s will be more broadly based. The growth will depend principally on expansion in industries supplying the California domestic market.

There will be "import substitution," that is to say production in California of goods formerly brought in from other areas. There also will be changes in consumer demand which favor California industries.

The study said consumer demand charges would include increased demand for education and other services of state and local governments.

It said the South Coast and Sacramento area are expected to rank first and second in the 1960s in percentage growth.

The South Coast is expected to benefit by expansion of missile, electronic and reasearch activities connected with Vandenberg Air Force Base.

The economists looked for rapid growth in the Sacramento area because of increases in state government employment and the regional development of manufacturing.

In order of future percentage growth rates, the next areas listed were San Francisco Bay, San Diego and Los Angeles metropolitan.

The study noted that the Los Angeles area would have by far the greatest absolute growth, accounting for about 60 per cent of the state's total growth.

Bongo Drummer's Case Is Delayed

Bearded, bongo-drum-beating Victor Andrew Gipson, 27, accused of setting fire to his own home last March in Tamalpais Valley, will have to wait another week to hear what two psychiatrists have to say about his sanity.

Gipson was scheduled to go on trial last Wednesday on arson charges. The trial was postponed when he changed his plea from "not guilty" to "not guilty by reason of insanity."

The court last week appointed Dr. Bernard L. Diamond of Ross and Dr. Theo K. Miller of Napa State Hospital to examine Gipson.

Only one of the two reports from the psychiatrists was in Superior Court yesterday, so the proceedings were continued one week.

Marin Masonic Night Set Friday

Members of four Marin Masonic lodges and their families will attend a "Marin Masonic Night" at 8 p.m. Friday in the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

The four lodges are San Rafael, Mill Valley, Fairfax Lodge of Larkspur and Hamilton Lodge of Novato.

Seniors Meeting

The Marin Senior Assn. will meet at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the auditorium of Cook School, San Anselmo. A business meeting, refreshments and games are planned.

High School Choir Concert Set Tonight

San Rafael High School's a cappella choir will present a concert at 8 p.m. tonight in the school auditorium.

The program will include folk and classical music and several compositions by choir director Byron Jones.

Featured on the program will be a girls' trio composed of Janice Randolph, Toni Leisure, Sandra Spurling; a male quartet composed of Gary Summers, Dave Hull, Gary Linscott, Dennis Le Duc, and a number of solo numbers. Dee Dee Haney will dance to the piano accompaniment of James Watkinson.

Tickets will be available at the door.

Money Stolen From Two Locked Desks

Money was taken from two locked desks in San Rafael over the weekend, San Rafael police have reported.

Frances Bahl of 14 Ridgewood Drive, reported $40.50 was taken from her locked desk at Marin County Health Department at 920 Grand Avenue. Charles William Rutland of 82 Marina Court told police $28.55 was taken from a locked desk drawer at his home. Police could find no evidence of forced entry at either place.

Ancient 'Booby Trap' For Heart Patients

NEW YORK (UPI)—Although it sounds incredible events of 110 million to 500 million years ago set up a chemical booby trap which endangers some of the people now living on the central plains of the United States and Canada.

These are persons with heart disease who must not for their health's sake eat or drink anything containing more than mere amounts of sodium. Because of these ancient events, large amounts of sodium can sneak into their diets.

This is the discovery of two biochemists, George B. Elliott and Elizabeth A. Alexander of the Calgary General Hospital in Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

During the period 110 million to 500 million years ago the central plains were repeatedly the bed of a vast sea extending from the Gulf of Mexico north and northwest to the Arctic Sea. There were at least six successive inundations and each one deposited vast amounts of sodium into the bed.

The scientists found out what this can mean to heart patients. Their patients were in good health when released from the Calgary hospital where drinking and cooking water comes from a river and is mountain run-off water with only trace amounts of sodium.

Patients went to farms where drinking and cooking water came from wells. When they became "decompensated" and were returned to the hospital in dangerous conditions.

So the well water was analyzed for sodium content. About half of 300 wells examined showed a sodium concentration of more than 100 parts per million parts and the range was upward to 3,500 parts per million. Only 100 parts per million is considered too much sodium for heart patients.

The well water sodium was mainly sodium nitrate or sodium sulfate. Unhappily those forms of sodium are not nearly as salty to the taste as common salt. That's the booby trap—the patients couldn't taste the sodium.

City Manager Is Receiving Budget Plans

Budget requests from San Rafael's city department heads are being received this week by City Manager Dan E. Andersen.

Andersen said he expects to have the department requests and his recommendations ready for city council study the first week in June. Adoption by the council will follow a series of discussion meetings and public hearings.

The city manager declined to forecast at this point whether there will be a change in the city tax rate of 96 cents per $100 assessed valuation to cover fiscal 1962 operations.

Public Swimming At School Pool

Pro Tennis Stars To Conduct Marin Clinics

Three of the four professionals who are to play in Jack Kramer's world championship pro tennis playoff matches at the Cow Palace Saturday night will fly into the Bay Area to give two free net clinics tomorrow —and Marin County gets both of them.

An excellent advance sale in Marin prompted Kramer to send Frank Sedgman, Barry MacKay and Andres Gimeno in to stage clinics at Mill Valley Tennis Club tomorrow at 3 p.m. and at Rafael Racket Club at 5:15.

TWO-DAY LULL

The pros are taking advantage of a two-day lull in their 29-match series to give the clinics, which are open to both youngsters and adults.

Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, the six-time world kingpin, is the fourth member of the troupe. He will fly in Saturday to play Gimeno in the feature match of the evening. MacKay and Sedgman open the show at 8 p.m. A doubles match will conclude the activities.

Their Cow Palace stand is the 21st in the series, the winner of which takes home the world title and $35,000. Second, third and fourth place finishers will get $25,000, $20,000 and $15,000.

Herb Clark, pro-manager of the Belvedere Tennis Club and Bay area business representative for Kramer, announces a good advance sale, especially in Marin County where Lee Hirsch of Tiburon has been helping him.

Tickets, priced from $1.50 to $5, may be purchased from Clark at the Belvedere club.

SEMI-PROS

Mill Valley Clobbers Marin City

The Mill Valley Merchants semi-pro team clobbered the Marin City All Stars in a practice session Sunday with a barrage of 18 hits that included three over-the-wall homers.

The 18-to-4 victory was brought in by centerfielder Gary Rogers and shortstop Don Palaia, both of San Rafael, and pitcher Tom Leps of Mill Valley. Leps wasn't satisfied with striking out six in a row through the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. He also had to hit a 400-foot, three-run homer. Rogers and Palaia also had homers and three hits apiece.

The Marin City club was held to three hits. One was a double that brought in two of the losing team's four runs.

Merchants manager Bob Selnas aid the next practice game will be held next at 1:30 p.m. Sunday with a San Francisco team at Project 17 in Mill Valley.

A total of 107,532 chukar partridge have been released in the past 10 years into 134 planting sites in Utah.

Fish And Game Will Stock Rodeo Lagoon

The Department of Fish and Game has announced that this week it will stock catchable size trout in Rodeo Lagoon, but that "anglers are reminded that (stocking) is tentative and subject to change, depending upon water and road conditions . . ."

Other fishing areas to be stocked are Anderson, Big Canyon, Kelsy, St. Helena creeks, and Upper Blue Lake, all in Lake County; Big Sur, Carmel Rivers in Monterey County; Lake Merced and North and South lakes in San Francisco County; Chorro Reservoir, San Simeon Lagoon, and Atasacadero Creek in San Luis Obispo County; Gazos and Pescadero creeks, and Bean Hollow Lake in San Mateo County; Coyote River in Santa Clara County, and Corralitos Creek in Santa Cruz County.

Winner Take All, Machen Tells Floyd

SAN JOSE (UPI)—The manager of Eddie Machen yesterday challenged world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson to meet Machen on a winner-take-all basis "in any state that allows such an agreement."

Sid Flaherty said Machen "has never thought of himself as a great fighter. However, after watching Patterson in his last performance against Ingemar Johansson and recalling that the champion has been on the canvas at least 10 times in four of his last five defenses, Machen is content to fight on a winner-take-all basis."

Flaherty has been unable to set up a title fight for his boxer in talks with Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato. He said yesterday he would withdraw as Machen's manager if D'Amato made that a condition for a title fight.

"If Patterson is worried about income tax trouble, he could receive Machen's share of the purse," Flaherty said of his proposal.

Foil Is Versatile In Charcoal Grilling

Charcoal and foil are more than a summer romance. They go together all year for indoor and outdoor cooking. For gourmet results at the grill, heavy duty foil and wood charcoal briquets are a natural team.

Lining the firebox with foil helps reflect heat upward and makes it easy later to dispose of coals when you extinguish them with water. Foil lining also helps add to the life of your grill. Use heavy duty foil for firebox lining and better make it a double thickness if you plan to use many coals. Foil pan can be placed directly on the coals when you baste, to catch the excess. Some cooks like to arrange coals in a circular or oval pattern leaving a hollow in the center; heavy duty turned up foil can be placed in center to catch juices. Your own experiments will tell you the method you like best for your grill and your favorite foods.

Duckling with orange sauce is elegant for a rotisserie meal. In this case you'll want a sizeable foil pan as duck is fatty and basting frequently required. Handle pan with asbestos gloves or change its position with tongs when necessary as you move it to catch drippings.

ROTISSERIE ROASTED DUCKLING WITH ORANGE BARBECUE SAUCE

1 5 lb. eviscerated duckling
1 stalk celery with leaves
2 or 3 sprigs parsley
1 small onion, quartered
½ small orange with skin, cut up
Salt and pepper

Remove pin feathers, excess fat and skin of duck, and rinse. Salt and pepper the cavity and place in it the celery, parsley, onion and orange. Truss securely with skewers and string. Insert the spit through the duck and secure it firmly in position by inserting the holding forks into the duck at either end.

Place the spit in position and set it in motion. Baste every 15 minutes with Orange Barbecue Sauce, using a bulb-type baster or brush. Roast 2 hours in all.

When duck is done, remove to a hot platter. Remove foil drip pan and skim fat from drippings. Pour into a saucepan. Add remaining barbecue sauce and a sliced orange (skin removed). Simmer the juices until sauce is slightly thickened. Add salt to taste.

ORANGE BARBECUE SAUCE

3 oranges
½ cup vinegar
Sprig of rosemary
Sprig of fresh tarragon
¼ cup light brown sugar.
1 tbs. prepared mustard

Peel the thin outer ring from one orange. Squeeze the other two. Add rind and juice to the vinegar with the tarragon, brown sugar and mustard. If fresh tarragon and rosemary are not available, use tarragon vinegar and dried rosemary. Heat almost to the boiling point, but do not boil. Keep hot for 5 minutes; then strain and use. Peel the white membrane from the first orange, slice it and add to sauce just before serving.

A sturdy foil pan can be home-made for this type of barbecuing by using 18 inches wide heavy duty foil. Tear off off a sheet about 5 inches longer than the food on the spit. Fold this in half lengthwise; then turn up edges all around 1½ inches and miter corners to seal them and make the sides firm. Place pan so that juices will fall into it.

Vegetables Gourmet Fare On The Grill

What can you serve with sizzling steak that's spectacular enough to steal the scene? The answer is Onion-Buttered Peas of subtle flavor and Herbed Fries 'n' Onions in a tangy blend of seasonings. Frozen vegetables are used for these doings. The result is elegant dining on any patio.

To serve four adequately, you'll want to pick up at the freezer section of your supermarket one package of frozen peas and two small or one large package of frozen French fries.

Steaks will be sizzled to order over glowing wood charcoal briquets. Accompaniments will be crisp vegetable sticks and cool beverages.

ONION-BUTTERED PEAS

2 tbs. butter
2 tbs. onion soup mix
2 tbs. chopped crisp bacon
1 (10 oz.) package frozen peas

Combine butter, onion soup mix and bacon. Remove frozen peas from the package and place them on a 12-inch square of heavy foil. Spread onion mixture over top of peas and seal foil tightly. Place foil wrapped peas on cooking rack over hot briquets for thirty minutes or until done. Turn if necessary. Serves four.

HERBED FRIES 'N' ONIONS

1 large Bermuda onion, thinly sliced (about 2 cups)
¼ cup butter
1 package (1 lb.) or 2 packages (9 oz. each) frozen French fries
1¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. leaf marjoram
1 to 2 tbs. chopped parsley

Brown onion slices in 2 tablespoons butter, turning as needed to brown evenly. Push onions to side of fry pan. Melt remaining butter in fry pan. Add French fries, salt and marjoram. Brown fries well, turning as needed to brown evenly. Blend onions with French fries. Sprinkle with parsley. Serve immediately. Serves six reasonably, or four generously.

One advantage of an outdoor meal is its informality. But with these epicurean effects, your guest knows no limits. A meal cooked on the charcoal grill can be imaginative, gracious, and spiced with the unexpected. Any food fancier will dote on a feast like this.

ALONG with sizzling steak on the charcoal grill go brilliant vegetables. These are frozen ones to start with. Frozen peas can be seasoned with onion soup and crisp bacon plus butter and cooked in foil packages over wood charcoal briquets. Frozen French fries sprinkled with marjoram and parsley can brown in buttered skillet. Ingredients are simple. Flavors are succulent.

Tempting Dishes Will Be Served On St. Stephen's Tour Tomorrow

On display at the St. Stephens Guild's house tour tomorrow will be six of Belvedere's loveliest homes. But these homes also have well equipped kitchens and from these kitchens come many tempting dishes to be served in the beautifully decorated dining and living rooms.

One of the homes is located on Corinthian Island and is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mantegani. A favorite hors d'oeuvre served by Mrs. Mantegani is stuffed mushrooms.

Wash mushrooms and remove the stem. Mix chopped parsley and garlic with bread crumbs and olive oil until it is the consistency of mustard. Add the stems which have also been chopped fine. Salt and pepper the mushrooms and stuff with the filling. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 10 minutes. This recipe may also be served as part of a dinner.

William E. Steen whose home is perched like an eagle's nest on Belvedere's west cliff, submits a tempting recipe for a fresh coconut three layer cake accompanying it with an interesting background story.

"This recipe has been a favorite in our family for five generations that I know of. We always used it as the dessert for Christmas or other extra special occasions. It is pretty much fool proof for anyone who will follow it exactly. I have made the cake several times and it has always turned out perfectly.

"The original recipe dates back to my great grandmother who lived in the little town of Farsund In southern Norway. She passed it on to my grandmother who brought it to Chicago in about 1880. My grandmother added the fresh coconut frosting. She carried this recipe in her head and, having been a professional cook in her younger years, would not share her recipes with anyone, guarding her secrets with the jealous care typical of so many famous cooks. My mother also carried the recipe in her head until I urged her to commit it to paper."

Grandmother Edwards' Fresh Coconut Three Layer Cake
(A Fifth Generation Recipe)

For the cake:
¼ lb. fresh butter
2 C granulated sugar
4 fresh eggs (beat separated)
1 scant cup of fresh milk
3 C cake flour
2 tsp. vanilla
3 tsp. baking powder

Blend sugar with room temperature butter adding a scant tablespoon of cold water so that sugar and butter cream completely. Separate eggs. Hand beat yolks, add milk and hand beat again. Sift flour twice and measure. Fold in flour and egg-milk mixture, a little at a time, to butter and sugar. Use a mixing spoon for folding and a hand egg beater for beating. Do not use an electric mixer. Beat egg whites by hand until stiff and fold into batter. Add vanilla nad stir. Add baking powder. stir and divide between lightly buttered cake pans and place immediately into preheated 400 degree oven. Bake 30 minutes or until done.

Caution: Be certain that all ingredients are as fresh as possible. Use fresh butter only. Do not use an electric mixer as it will spoil the texture of the cake. This recipe can be cut in half with equal success. This is an execellent basic cake recipe and is practically "fool proof", if all instructions are followed exactly but it is not a "quick cake".

For the Fresh Coconut Frosting:
2 C powdered sugar
4 egg whites
1 tsp vanilla
2 fresh coconuts (shake them —if you hear the milk, they are fresh) Using a hammer or mallet, crack the coconuts open. Remove the white nut meat, pare off the rind and grate the coconut by hand using a fine shredder. Do not use the coconut milk in the frosting. Beat egg whites until stiff and gradually add sugar until thoroughly blended. Add vanilla. Spread frosting on bottom side of bottom layer, sprinkle with one-fifth grated coconut, place frosting side down on cake platter. Spread frosting on top side of bottom layer, sprinkle with one-fifth fresh coconut. Spread frosting on bottom side of middle layer and set in place. Frost top side of middle layer and sprinkle with one-fifth grated coconut. Frost bottom side of top layer and set in place. Frost top and sprinkle with remaining tow-fifths grated coconut.

Do not attempt to frost sides of cake as fresh coconut will not stick. Leave side crusts showing allowing a little frosting to drip over in places to create a tantalizing look. It is best to frost the night before you plan to serve this cake thereby allowing time for the flavor of the fresh coconut to permeate the cake.

The Rafael Racquet Club, around which a development of hillside homes is planned, will be dedicated tomorrow, with San Rafael city officials and the developers participating.

The club, on five acres near the San Rafael-San Anselmo city line above Fifth Avenue, has dining and locker room facilities in its newly completed clubhouse, plus six tennis courts, two swimming pools, and four paved patio areas for outdoor dining and entertaining.

As features of the dedication program, Jack Kramer and his world professional tennis troupe will play an exhibition match against four of Northern California's top junior tennis stars.

Kramer's troupe includes Frank Sedgeman, Australian star; Barry McKay of the United States and Spanish champion Andres Gimeno. They will play against Harvey Klyce, Dick Stockton Jr., Steve Stockton and Reed Witt.

The show, scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m., also will include a synchronized swimming display by Ann Curtis Cuneo, former Olympic champion, and her aquacade.

Mayor John F. McInnis and City Manager Dan E. Andersen will be among officials participating. Hal Wagner, Jack Farrar and William Batey are the developers.

Study At Stanford Predicts California Economic Future

MENLO PARK (AP)—Without the intensive spark of one large industry, such as defense supplied in the 1950s, the California economic growth may slow down some in the '60s and '70s but will still be faster than elsewhere in the United States.

That is the gist of a 456-page, three-year study by a 12-man team of economists which was released today by Stanford Research Institute.

The study looked for an average annual increase of 126,300 employees during the '60s and 206,300 in the '70s, with the toal reaching 7.3 million by 1970 and 9.3 million by 1980.

Current employment is approximately six million. The study projected the unemployment average over the next decade as running around 5 per cent in the state. It now is 8.3 per cent in the state and 7.7 in the nation.

The study concluded that by 1970 California should have a population of 19 million and by 1980 the figure should be 24.7 million. The 1960 census placed it at around 15.7 million.

Discussing the possible slowdown in rate of growth, the report said further expansion of defense industries can be expected but it was unikely that the combination of factors producing the 1950s' great upsurge would be repeated.

The analysts felt:

The growth impetus during the 1960s will be more broadly based. The growth will depend principally on expansion in industries supplying the California domestic market.

There will be "import substitution," that is to say production in California of goods formerly brought in from other areas. There also will be changes in consumer demand which favor California industries.

The study said consumer demand charges would include increased demand for education and other services of state and local governments.

It said the South Coast and Sacramento area are expected to rank first and second in the 1960s in percentage growth.

The South Coast is expected to benefit by expansion of missile, electronic and reasearch activities connected with Vandenberg Air Force Base.

The economists looked for rapid growth in the Sacramento area because of increases in state government employment and the regional development of manufacturing.

In order of future percentage growth rates, the next areas listed were San Francisco Bay, San Diego and Los Angeles metropolitan.

The study noted that the Los Angeles area would have by far the greatest absolute growth, accounting for about 60 per cent of the state's total growth.

Bongo Drummer's Case Is Delayed

Bearded, bongo-drum-beating Victor Andrew Gipson, 27, accused of setting fire to his own home last March in Tamalpais Valley, will have to wait another week to hear what two psychiatrists have to say about his sanity.

Gipson was scheduled to go on trial last Wednesday on arson charges. The trial was postponed when he changed his plea from "not guilty" to "not guilty by reason of insanity."

The court last week appointed Dr. Bernard L. Diamond of Ross and Dr. Theo K. Miller of Napa State Hospital to examine Gipson.

Only one of the two reports from the psychiatrists was in Superior Court yesterday, so the proceedings were continued one week.

Money was taken from two locked desks in San Rafael over the weekend, San Rafael police have reported.

Frances Bahl of 14 Ridgewood Drive, reported $40.50 was taken from her locked desk at Marin County Health Department at 920 Grand Avenue. Charles William Rutland of 82 Marina Court told police $28.55 was taken from a locked desk drawer at his home. Police could find no evidence of forced entry at either place.

Ancient 'Booby Trap' For Heart Patients

NEW YORK (UPI)—Although it sounds incredible events of 110 million to 500 million years ago set up a chemical booby trap which endangers some of the people now living on the central plains of the United States and Canada.

These are persons with heart disease who must not for their health's sake eat or drink anything containing more than mere amounts of sodium. Because of these ancient events, large amounts of sodium can sneak into their diets.

This is the discovery of two biochemists, George B. Elliott and Elizabeth A. Alexander of the Calgary General Hospital in Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

During the period 110 million to 500 million years ago the central plains were repeatedly the bed of a vast sea extending from the Gulf of Mexico north and northwest to the Arctic Sea. There were at least six successive inundations and each one deposited vast amounts of sodium into the bed.

The scientists found out what this can mean to heart patients. Their patients were in good health when released from the Calgary hospital where drinking and cooking water comes from a river and is mountain run-off water with only trace amounts of sodium.

Patients went to farms where drinking and cooking water came from wells. When they became "decompensated" and were returned to the hospital in dangerous conditions.

So the well water was analyzed for sodium content. About half of 300 wells examined showed a sodium concentration of more than 100 parts per million parts and the range was upward to 3,500 parts per million. Only 100 parts per million is considered too much sodium for heart patients.

The well water sodium was mainly sodium nitrate or sodium sulfate. Unhappily those forms of sodium are not nearly as salty to the taste as common salt. That's the booby trap—the patients couldn't taste the sodium.

Susan Brock, a senior, won the prize of French Professors of Northern California and placed fifth in third year French. Shana Goss, a senior, won a third place in fourth year French. Pamela Deual, a sophomore, tied for second place in first year French.

City Manager Is Receiving Budget Plans

Budget requests from San Rafael's city department heads are being received this week by City Manager Dan E. Andersen.

Andersen said he expects to have the department requests and his recommendations ready for city council study the first week in June. Adoption by the council will follow a series of discussion meetings and public hearings.

The city manager declined to forecast at this point whether there will be a change in the city tax rate of 96 cents per $100 assessed valuation to cover fiscal 1962 operations.

Public Swimming At School Pool

County Planners Public Hearing Set Monday On Bel Marin Keys Map

A public hearing on a tentative map of Bel Marin Keys No. 3 will be held as Item 15 on the agenda of the Marin County Planning Commission next Monday.

Bel Marin Keys, which is being subdivided by the M. W. Finley Co., comprises about 163 acres on the former Hanna property known as Marin Meadows Ranch in the Ignacio area. The third unit is south of the first two and the whole development will comprise an unusual water recreation type of living space.

In an A-3 district, the area is to be divided into 146 lots each with 10,000 square feet minimum area of which one-third will be in water. Three new streets are proposed with 52-foot right-of-way, instead of standard 60, for those with 40 feet of paved width.

All lots will be for single-family dwellings. Sewage will be provided by the Novato Sanitary District with water from the North Marin Water District.

Another public hearing will be on application of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for adjustment to permit establishment of a radio microwave repeater station on Middle Peak of Mount Tamalpais.

The station will consist of a 56-foot lattice steel tower and a 14 foot eight inch by 29 feet four inch building. This will be the third item on an agenda starting at 9 a.m.

Marin County Hospital District seeks a use permit for additions to the existing Marin General Hospital, 250 Bon Air Road, Kentfield area. The public hearing on this will be sixteenth item on the agenda.

True heathers do not grow wild in the United States.

Highway 101 To Be Rerouted Near Terra Linda Tomorrow

Highway 101 traffic southbound will be routed over a short detour just north of the Terra Linda interchange to permit construction of the new Gallinas Creek culvert, beginning tomorrow, it was announced yesterday by the state Division of Highways.

Northbound traffic began using two lanes instead of three April 28. A temporary additional lane is being built in the divider adjacent to the third northbound lane to provide two lanes for southbound traffic to bypass construction of the west half of the culvert.

Traffic will follow this pattern until about mid-July, when the pattern will be reversed, with northbound vehicles detouring around construction of the east part of the culvert.

A restricted speed of 45 miles an hour has been established through the construction zone.

The work will cost $125,000 and take about five months. Charles L. Harney Inc. is contractor.

Persian Opens Beauty Shop

An air-conditioned beauty salon, modern in equipment but exotic in decor has been opened by Hooshang Sohrab, Persian-born, and a resident of Marin three years, as the Persian Beauty Salon at 4162 Redwood Highway, north of San Rafael near the Terra Linda overpass.

Even the sign has, additional to English, its equivalent meaning in picturesque flowing Persian script. The interior of the one-story structure is featured by a beam ceiling, decoration in turquoise, black, gold and white, and Persian drapes in various colors.

The beauty treatments are modern, says Sohrab, save that he feels that "the old art of service is being lost and we are trying to bring it back."

Sohrab lives with his family in Novato. Before coming to Marin they were in Los Angeles area for three years, going there from England.

The new Lions district governor is long-time manager of the Marin Linen Supply and sales representative for California General Linen Supply.

Lafayette (Bud) Maynard, a member of the San Rafael Lions Club, will serve as Taylor's cabinet secretary. Maynard is a trainer for Guide Dogs fer the Blind.

West Marin Opening Bids On Additions

The West Marin School District board Monday night announced bids for an addition to West Marin School at Point Reyes Station will be opened May 22.

Added to the school will be two classrooms, two rest rooms, a teachers' workroom, a book room and a storage area. Supt. George Stratton said the trustees hope to have the construction completed by Sept. 1.

The board hired a new teacher for West Marin School, Mrs. Shirley Keilty of Woodacre. Her husband, John, will start a term on the Lagunitas School District board July 1.

Stratton said a public meeting will be held Monday at Tomales High School on unification of the Tomales Joint Union School District.

Marinwood To Get New Resuscitator

A resuscitator will be presented to the Marinwood Community Services District at the next board meeting, June 18.

Tom Eliott, president of the Marinwood Homeowners' Assn., said the association bought the resuscitator as a gift "when it became apparent that the services district did not have the money for this vitally needed equipment."

The purchase was made entirely from membership dues, according to Elliot.

Of the 1,900,000 drivers in Minnesota, 121,845 were involved in accidents during 1960.

DUCKLING WITH orange barbecue sauce . . . a delight to the most discerning gourmet when rotisserie roasted over wood charcoal briquets. To simplify the task, line grill with heavy duty aluminum foil. It reflects heat upward, increases cooking efficiency and keeps grill clean. Form drip pan from foil to catch and hold juices. Foil and charcoal are natural team-mates.

Foil Is Versatile In Charcoal Grilling

Charcoal and foil are more than a summer romance. They go together all year for indoor and outdoor cooking. For gourmet results at the grill, heavy duty foil and wood charcoal briquets are a natural team.

Lining the firebox with foil helps reflect heat upward and makes it easy later to dispose of coals when you extinguish them with water. Foil lining also helps add to the life of your grill. Use heavy duty foil for firebox lining and better make it a double thickness if you plan to use many coals. Foil pan can be placed directly on the coals when you baste, to catch the excess. Some cooks like to arrange coals in a circular or oval pattern leaving a hollow in the center; heavy duty turned up foil can be placed in center to catch juices. Your own experiments will tell you the method you like best for your grill and your favorite foods.

Duckling with orange sauce is elegant for a rotisserie meal. In this case you'll want a sizeable foil pan as duck is fatty and basting frequently required. Handle pan with asbestos gloves or change its position with tongs when necessary as you move it to catch drippings.

ROTISSERIE ROASTED DUCKLING WITH ORANGE BARBECUE SAUCE

1 5 lb. eviscerated duckling
1 stalk celery with leaves
2 or 3 sprigs parsley
1 small onion, quartered
½ small orange with skin, cut up
Salt and pepper

Remove pin feathers, excess fat and skin of duck, and rinse. Salt and pepper the cavity and place in it the celery, parsley, onion and orange. Truss securely with skewers and string. Insert the spit through the duck and secure it firmly in position by inserting the holding forks into the duck at either end.

Place the spit in position and set it in motion. Baste every 15 minutes with Orange Barbecue Sauce, using a bulb-type baster or brush. Roast 2 hours in all.

When duck is done, remove to a hot platter. Remove foil drip pan and skim fat from drippings. Pour into a saucepan. Add remaining barbecue sauce and a sliced orange (skin removed). Simmer the juices until sauce is slightly thickened. Add salt to taste.

ORANGE BARBECUE SAUCE

3 oranges
½ cup vinegar
Sprig of rosemary
Sprig of fresh tarragon
¼ cup light brown sugar.
1 tbs. prepared mustard

Peel the thin outer ring from one orange. Squeeze the other two. Add rind and juice to the vinegar with the tarragon, brown sugar and mustard. If fresh tarragon and rosemary are not available, use tarragon vinegar and dried rosemary. Heat almost to the boiling point, but do not boil. Keep hot for 5 minutes; then strain and use. Peel the white membrane from the first orange, slice it and add to sauce just before serving.

A sturdy foil pan can be home-made for this type of barbecuing by using 18 inches wide heavy duty foil. Tear off off a sheet about 5 inches longer than the food on the spit. Fold this in half lengthwise; then turn up edges all around 1½ inches and miter corners to seal them and make the sides firm. Place pan so that juices will fall into it.

Vegetables Gourmet Fare On The Grill

What can you serve with sizzling steak that's spectacular enough to steal the scene? The answer is Onion-Buttered Peas of subtle flavor and Herbed Fries 'n' Onions in a tangy blend of seasonings. Frozen vegetables are used for these doings. The result is elegant dining on any patio.

To serve four adequately, you'll want to pick up at the freezer section of your supermarket one package of frozen peas and two small or one large package of frozen French fries.

Steaks will be sizzled to order over glowing wood charcoal briquets. Accompaniments will be crisp vegetable sticks and cool beverages.

ONION-BUTTERED PEAS

2 tbs. butter
2 tbs. onion soup mix
2 tbs. chopped crisp bacon
1 (10 oz.) package frozen peas

Combine butter, onion soup mix and bacon. Remove frozen peas from the package and place them on a 12-inch square of heavy foil. Spread onion mixture over top of peas and seal foil tightly. Place foil wrapped peas on cooking rack over hot briquets for thirty minutes or until done. Turn if necessary. Serves four.

HERBED FRIES 'N' ONIONS

1 large Bermuda onion, thinly sliced (about 2 cups)
¼ cup butter
1 package (1 lb.) or 2 packages (9 oz. each) frozen French fries
1¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. leaf marjoram
1 to 2 tbs. chopped parsley

Brown onion slices in 2 tablespoons butter, turning as needed to brown evenly. Push onions to side of fry pan. Melt remaining butter in fry pan. Add French fries, salt and marjoram. Brown fries well, turning as needed to brown evenly. Blend onions with French fries. Sprinkle with parsley. Serve immediately. Serves six reasonably, or four generously.

One advantage of an outdoor meal is its informality. But with these epicurean effects, your guest knows no limits. A meal cooked on the charcoal grill can be imaginative, gracious, and spiced with the unexpected. Any food fancier will dote on a feast like this.

ALONG with sizzling steak on the charcoal grill go brilliant vegetables. These are frozen ones to start with. Frozen peas can be seasoned with onion soup and crisp bacon plus butter and cooked in foil packages over wood charcoal briquets. Frozen French fries sprinkled with marjoram and parsley can brown in buttered skillet. Ingredients are simple. Flavors are succulent.

Tempting Dishes Will Be Served On St. Stephen's Tour Tomorrow

On display at the St. Stephens Guild's house tour tomorrow will be six of Belvedere's loveliest homes. But these homes also have well equipped kitchens and from these kitchens come many tempting dishes to be served in the beautifully decorated dining and living rooms.

One of the homes is located on Corinthian Island and is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mantegani. A favorite hors d'oeuvre served by Mrs. Mantegani is stuffed mushrooms.

Wash mushrooms and remove the stem. Mix chopped parsley and garlic with bread crumbs and olive oil until it is the consistency of mustard. Add the stems which have also been chopped fine. Salt and pepper the mushrooms and stuff with the filling. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 10 minutes. This recipe may also be served as part of a dinner.

William E. Steen whose home is perched like an eagle's nest on Belvedere's west cliff, submits a tempting recipe for a fresh coconut three layer cake accompanying it with an interesting background story.

"This recipe has been a favorite in our family for five generations that I know of. We always used it as the dessert for Christmas or other extra special occasions. It is pretty much fool proof for anyone who will follow it exactly. I have made the cake several times and it has always turned out perfectly.

"The original recipe dates back to my great grandmother who lived in the little town of Farsund in southern Norway. She passed it on to my grandmother who brought it to Chicago in about 1880. My grandmother added the fresh coconut frosting. She carried this recipe in her head and, having been a professional cook in her younger years, would not share her recipes with anyone, guarding her secrets with the jealous care typical of so many famous cooks. My mother also carried the recipe in her head until I urged her to commit it to paper."

Grandmother Edwards' Fresh Coconut Three Layer Cake
(A Fifth Generation Recipe)

For the cake:
¼ lb. fresh butter
2 C granulated sugar
4 fresh eggs (beat separated)
1 scant cup of fresh milk
3 C cake flour
2 tsp. vanilla
3 tsp. baking powder

Blend sugar with room temperature butter adding a scant tablespoon of cold water so that sugar and butter cream completely. Separate eggs. Hand beat yolks, add milk and hand beat again. Sift flour twice and measure. Fold in flour and egg-milk mixture, a little at a time, to butter and sugar. Use a mixing spoon for folding and a hand egg beater for beating. Do not use an electric mixer. Beat egg whites by hand until stiff and fold into batter. Add vanilla nad stir. Add baking powder. stir and divide between lightly buttered cake pans and place immediately into preheated 400 degree oven. Bake 30 minutes or until done.

Caution: Be certain that all ingredients are as fresh as possible. Use fresh butter only. Do not use an electric mixer as it will spoil the texture of the cake. This recipe can be cut in half with equal success. This is an execellent basic cake recipe and is practically "fool proof", if all instructions are followed exactly but it is not a "quick cake".

For the Fresh Coconut Frosting:
2 C powdered sugar
4 egg whites
1 tsp vanilla
2 fresh coconuts (shake them —if you hear the milk, they are fresh) Using a hammer or mallet, crack the coconuts open. Remove the white nut meat, pare off the rind and grate the coconut by hand using a fine shredder. Do not use the coconut milk in the frosting. Beat egg whites until stiff and gradually add sugar until thoroughly blended. Add vanilla. Spread frosting on bottom side of bottom layer, sprinkle with one-fifth grated coconut, place frosting side down on cake platter. Spread frosting on top side of bottom layer, sprinkle with one-fifth fresh coconut. Spread frosting on bottom side of middle layer and set in place. Frost top side of middle layer and sprinkle with one-fifth grated coconut. Frost bottom side of top layer and set in place. Frost top and sprinkle with remaining tow-fifths grated coconut.

Do not attempt to frost sides of cake as fresh coconut will not stick. Leave side crusts showing allowing a little frosting to drip over in places to create a tantalizing look. It is best to frost the night before you plan to serve this cake thereby allowing time for the flavor of the fresh coconut to permeate the cake.

Swimming Pool Safety Discussion Tonight

Owners and operators of swimming pools may learn about "Swimming Pool Sanitation and Safety" tonight at Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo.

A swimming pool seminar, under sponsorship of the Marin County Health Department, will begin with registration at 7 p.m. It will present a program of speakers, demonstrations, and discussions from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

Included in the discussion will be information on legal responsibilities of pool owners, especially with regard to public pools, including apartment house and motel pools. Information on water purification and "trouble shooting" in water chemistry will be presented to meet the needs of large pool operators and maintenance service personnel. In a separate section the questions of private pool owners and small pool operators will be considered.

Representatives of the Marin Red Cross Chapter will discuss and demonstrate safety regulations and equipment and rescue methods. Junior Red Cross volunteers will take registrations and provide coffee to participants.

Vallecito P-TA Elect Officers

Newly elected officers for the 1961-62 school term of the Vallecito Parent-Teacher Assn. in the Dixie School District include the following:

Thomas Scott of 4 Dias Way, president; Bert F. Frazzini of 2236 Juniperberry Drive, first vice president; Charles Warfield Jr., of 643 Louise Avenue, Novato, second vice president; Mrs. William Stone of 630 Bamboo Terrace, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Christopher Allair of 566 Wakerobin Lane, recording secretary and Mrs. Harry Andrewsen of 795 Las Colindas Road, treasurer.

Lt. Col. Albert Adatto of 2244 Juniperberry Drive and Robert S. Winniford of 561 Kernberry Drive, are coordinating council representatives.

Reed District Asking Advice From Parents

Parents of school children in Reed School District will receive questionnaires to determine subjects to be offered in the district's summer school opening June 26 at Reed School, trustees decided Monday night.

A discussion of the 1961-62 preliminary budget report was put off until an adjourned meeting scheduled for next Tuesday at Reed School.

A review of the summer teacher in-service training program in mathematics will be made by a three-man committee to find out reasons for a "limited response" by the teachers.

Supt. Paul R. Stouffer and Curriculum Director George Gregg will report at the next regular meeting on proposed changes in the district's spelling program.

The bus contract with Patchett Transportation Co. was approved and sent to county counsel.

Trustees also voted to employ Seymour Feldman as a science and mathematics teacher in seventh-eighth grades at Reed School.

Corte Madera Sets Hearing On New School

The Corte Madera planning commission Monday night set for May 25 a public hearing on a conditional use permit for Larkspur School District's San Clemente School.

Plans for the school on Paradise Drive, due for completion early next year, did not contain landscaping and proper parking facilities, the commissioners said. Architects for the school district, present at last night's meeting, will report to the district trustees tonight.

Also set for May 25 is a public hearing on rezoning property in the Meadowsweet area owned by Peter S. and Rose Arrigoni. The owners are requesting the property be rezoned from high density multiple to professional and administrative.

The commission advised Brumfield Electric Sign Co. of San Francisco to refer plans for a free-standing sign at the Embee Market at 5651 Paradise Drive back to the zoning administrator with more complete details as to lighting and construction.

Application by Walter and Chloe Dillworth of San Francisco for construction of a duplex at Willow and Serra Avenues was referred to the Board of Design.

Robert LaDow was named new Planning Commission Chairman, and Felix Pioli, Vice Chairman.

Strawberry Stands Pat On Rezoning

Directors of Strawberry Property Owners Assn. Monday night reaffirmed opposition to Samuel R. Neider's proposed rezoning of the Strawberry Point tidelands.

They urged all interested persons to attend a County Planning Commission meeting next Monday when the matter is scheduled for decision.

A proposal by Marin Land Co. to relocate the West Strawberry Drive entrance south of its present location was tabled by the board pending a discussion with the county planning staff. Also tabled was an application from the company for two free-standing signs to read "Harbor Point."

The board decided to seek close liaison with the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in a "mutual community interest," according to secretary Thomas Martin.

John McPhail School Festival Planned

Children attending John McPhail School in Santa Venetia will present a spring dance festival featuring folk dancing for their parent and the public on the school grounds tomorrow at 1:15 p.m.

Refreshments will be available. Chairmen are Mrs. James Clarke and Mrs. Louis Albrecht.

County Planners Public Hearing Set Monday On Bel Marin Keys Map

A public hearing on a tentative map of Bel Marin Keys No. 3 will be held as Item 15 on the agenda of the Marin County Planning Commission next Monday.

Bel Marin Keys, which is being subdivided by the M. W. Finley Co., comprises about 163 acres on the former Hanna property known as Marin Meadows Ranch in the Ignacio area. The third unit is south of the first two and the whole development will comprise an unusual water recreation type of living space.

In an A-3 district, the area is to be divided into 146 lots each with 10,000 square feet minimum area of which one-third will be in water. Three new streets are proposed with 52-foot right-of-way, instead of standard 60, for those with 40 feet of paved width.

All lots will be for single-family dwellings. Sewage will be provided by the Novato Sanitary District with water from the North Marin Water District.

Another public hearing will be on application of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for adjustment to permit establishment of a radio microwave repeater station on Middle Peak of Mount Tamalpais.

The station will consist of a 56-foot lattice steel tower and a 14 foot eight inch by 29 feet four inch building. This will be the third item on an agenda starting at 9 a.m.

Marin County Hospital District seeks a use permit for additions to the existing Marin General Hospital, 250 Bon Air Road, Kentfield area. The public hearing on this will be sixteenth item on the agenda.

True heathers do not grow wild in the United States.

Highway 101 To Be Rerouted Near Terra Linda Tomorrow

Highway 101 traffic southbound will be routed over a short detour just north of the Terra Linda interchange to permit construction of the new Gallinas Creek culvert, beginning tomorrow, it was announced yesterday by the state Division of Highways.

Northbound traffic began using two lanes instead of three April 28. A temporary additional lane is being built in the divider adjacent to the third northbound lane to provide two lanes for southbound traffic to bypass construction of the west half of the culvert.

Traffic will follow this pattern until about mid-July, when the pattern will be reversed, with northbound vehicles detouring around construction of the east part of the culvert.

A restricted speed of 45 miles an hour has been established through the construction zone.

The work will cost $125,000 and take about five months. Charles L. Harney Inc. is contractor.

Persian Opens Beauty Shop

An air-conditioned beauty salon, modern in equipment but exotic in decor has been opened by Hooshang Sohrab, Persian-born, and a resident of Marin three years, as the Persian Beauty Salon at 4162 Redwood Highway, north of San Rafael near the Terra Linda overpass.

Even the sign has, additional to English, its equivalent meaning in picturesque flowing Persian script. The interior of the one-story structure is featured by a beam ceiling, decoration in turquoise, black, gold and white, and Persian drapes in various colors.

The beauty treatments are modern, says Sohrab, save that he feels that "the old art of service is being lost and we are trying to bring it back."

Sohrab lives with his family in Novato. Before coming to Marin they were in Los Angeles area for three years, going there from England.

Marinite Elected To Lions Post

Will C. Taylor of Santa Venetia, member of the Corte Madera Lions Club and a past president of the San Rafael Lions Club, has been elected district governor of Lions International.

Taylor's district runs from the Oregon border south to the Golden Gate Bridge and east to Isleton, Dixon and Rio Vista.

Taylor was deputy district governor and president of the Marin County Assn. of Lions Clubs last year. He is also a former zone chairman and has served on the cabinets of four district governors.

The new Lions district governor is long-time manager of the Marin Linen Supply and sales representative for California General Linen Supply.

Lafayette (Bud) Maynard, a member of the San Rafael Lions Club, will serve as Taylor's cabinet secretary. Maynard is a trainer for Guide Dogs for the Blind.

West Marin Opening Bids On Additions

The West Marin School District board Monday night announced bids for an addition to West Marin School at Point Reyes Station will be opened May 22.

Added to the school will be two classrooms, two rest rooms, a teachers' workroom, a book room and a storage area. Supt. George Stratton said the trustees hope to have the construction completed by Sept. 1.

The board hired a new teacher for West Marin School, Mrs. Shirley Keilty of Woodacre. Her husband, John, will start a term on the Lagunitas School District board July 1.

Stratton said a public meeting will be held Monday at Tomales High School on unification of the Tomales Joint Union School District.

Marinwood To Get New Resuscitator

A resuscitator will be presented to the Marinwood Community Services District at the next board meeting, June 18.

Tom Eliott, president of the Marinwood Homeowners' Assn., said the association bought the resuscitator as a gift "when it became apparent that the services district did not have the money for this vitally needed equipment."

The purchase was made entirely from membership dues, according to Elliot.

Of the 1,900,000 drivers in Minnesota, 121,845 were involved in accidents during 1960.

Ward Austin, College Of Marin Both Have Great Day

It was a memorable day Sunday at College of Marin.

Not only did hundreds gather on the beautiful campus to observe the 35th anniversary of the institution, but that day too, the retiring president of the institution, Ward H. Austin, was honored as Marin County's Man of the Year.

It was a beautiful day for a birthday and a wondrous day for high honors.

All these things combined to emphasize something said here before—WE DON'T HALF APPRECIATE OUR COLLEGE.

Sunday many of the hundreds of persons who attended the anniversary celebration were alumni. Many of them hadn't been back at their alma mater since they graduated 25 or more years ago. Yet when they got back together, it was remarkably happy groups of grads bunched together with the familiar "Remember when we went down to . . . ?" or "Who was it that put that . . . ?"

Back were some of the people who now known better than anyone else can what kind of an education you can get at College of Marin. These grads now had completed their educations; some elsewhere, some hadn't gone on. They now had had an opportunity to be out in the business world, to make a living and start a family.

No longer were they looking on the campus with the rose-colored spectacles of the undergrad or the teaching staff.

You know what their almost unanimous opinion was?

"We got a whale of an education at College of Marin."

Just last month the University of California agreed, pointing out that Marin College transfers had a higher grade point average at Berkeley than any other junior college in the state.

All this is important to our community. For 35 years now we have had a college making its reputation, building toward the future, but at the same time laying its permanent foundations.

Apparently these foundations have been firm. Now as we face the new challenge of an increasing enrollment, a more definite assignment foreseen in the State Master Plan For Higher Education, we can build with confidence.

It was particularly appropo that the Marin County Real Estate Board should select Ward Austin for the Man Of The Year award at this time. Not only has President Austin been devoted to his college, but in addition has found time for the community around him, as a councilman, a mayor, in church, club and professional activities.

We join the county in its applause for Ward Austin and his work. And we hope the county joins us in the growing recognition of the fine educational institution which we support here with our tax dollars.

BITTER ORDEAL FOR FISHERMEN

A peaceful fishing excursion turned into a nightmare of horror for a 37-year-old auto mechanic when his 14-foot rowboat drifted helplessly and unnoticed during a December storm on Long Island Sound.

The bitter ordeal began when he couldn't get his new outboard motor started. All the fuel had leaked out. Strong winds dragged the skiff six miles from shore. High waves wrenched the oars from his hands and half filled the tiny boat with water.

After a harrowing 25 hours, the frightened, exhausted fisherman succeeded in attracting the attention of a Texas-bound oil tanker.

Too weak to climb the ship's ladder, he had to be hauled aboard. After arriving at a Newport, R. I., hospital, the grateful man said: "I was praying constantly that something would show up, that somebody would see me."

In all the storms of life, keep your hope strong by a persevering faith in God. One of the most effective ways to do this is through constant prayer.

"Pray without ceasing. In all things give thanks."

Remarks Baseball Umpires Get Tired Of Hearing All The Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a baseball umpire gets tired of hearing:

"Kill the umpire!"

"You know what happened to vaudeville? Well, give Blinky McGuire five more years behind the plate, and he'll do the same thing to organized baseball."

"I admit Blinky calls them as he sees them. That's the whole trouble. He don't see very many of them."

"Whaddaya mean it's strike three? The guy's only thrown two pitches so far."

"Oh, he's all right except for one thing—he favors the pitcher."

"There's only one thing I really got against him — he favors the batter every time."

"Don't look now, Blinky, but that big fan over by first base is getting ready to throw another pop bottle. Wonder where he gets them all?"

"We'll be glad to sell you the life insurance coverage you requested, but because of certain inherent risks in your calling, we'll have to ask for a higher premium."

"You didn't have to call that last one so dramatic, Blinky. The TV camera wasn't on you that time."

"Okay, Little Boy Blue, bend down and dust the plate. Papa's going to belt the first one over for a homer. That way you won't get a chance to call one wrong."

"No, Mr. McGuire, I don't find any indication of ulcers. However, I would like to make a suggestion. One of my associates specializes in psychiatry, and I think it would be a good idea if you would . . ."

"IN YOUR CASE, Mr. McGuire, I would recommend contact lenses. Then no one would even suspect that . . ."

"Since it was ladies' day, I went to the game myself. And even though I am your wife, Blinky dear, that third strike you called in the eighth inning looked way off to me."

"PUT A MOUSE in a uniform and give him a little authority and right away he begins to act like a big rat."

"I hear you're writing your autobiography, Blinky. Will it be in Braille?"

Increased population of San Rafael township as reported in the 1940 census automatically boosted the local justice court into Class A status, thereby expanding both civil and criminal jurisdiction of the presiding magistrate.

Hugo Newhouse, president of the Golden Gate Bridge District board, said that a cut from the 50-cent toll to 40 cents would mean a deficit and a tax levy of 1½ per cent to make up the loss.

San Rafael public school costs ran to $129.32 per pupil last year, it was revealed—up $12 per pupil from the year previous.

HEY, KIDS, WANNA PUFF?

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Little League Becoming Monster

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

WAR—instead of Play Ball—appears to be the A. F. Marshall plan when he states, "Just what is wrong with wanting to win? Normal adults like to win and Little Leaguers are absolutely dedicated to the idea."

There is nothing wrong with wanting to win, nor is it a misstatement to say that "adults LIKE to win," but it is highly improper and questionable when a person charged with the responsibility of teaching children how to play, instills in their minds the thought that winning is so important that they become "absolutely dedicated" to that cult.

Has Little League now become a hostile contest instead of friendly competition between youngsters. There is considerable difference between the phrases "like to win" and "absolutely dedicated." As an illustration of that difference here is an example: I LIKE to take a drink—I am absolutely dedicated to booze. One indicates a favorable regard, the other indicates an obsession.

It is my thought that parents should control in a more sensible manner that which their 8-year-old sons are being taught. In the March 4, 1955, issue of I-J (portions of which are germane to Carleton Williams' article) I quoted from Little League literature that the aims of that organizations were, "That winning the game is secondary, the moulding of future men is of prime importance."

I believed that the aims of Little League were not being followed then and still believe as Carleton Williams now states: "Baseball is fine—for kids. Let them play it. For fun."

Parents and sponsors of Little League in many instances firmly believe that the program will act as a curb or check on juvenile delinquency. That is fallacy. I doubt if any police department can show in their crime reports that a juvenile delinquency problem exists among children from 8 to 12 years of age. However, there is a trend toward an increase in juvenile delinquency in the age range between 14 and 18 which appears to rise with the increase in Little League activities.

This is the period when parents center their thoughts on little Oscar, who is 12 and a Little Leaguer, and let Willie 14, and Johnnie 16, drift for themselves. Parents may not deem it such, but this comes under the heading of discriminatory practices.

Can there be a connection between Little League and the growing juvenile delinquency problem, indirectly perhaps, but nevertheless a connection. Let us explore the probabilities.

A recent item in the I-J stated that there are 3,100 boys on 200 teams in the Little League program in Marin County. Incidentally, that is more teams than are now in organized baseball in the United States and Mexico. It is considered a conservative estimate to state that this program which revolves around 95 of the 200 teams or about 1,500 boys costs sponsors about $75,000 and operates for three months.

The Little League program practically precludes handicapped boys and boys who deliver or sell newspapers. It bars boys of 13 or over who can be considered retired Little Leaguers. Who takes care of their recreational needs?

Based on Little League rules that permit 7 boys 12 years of age on each team, it is possible that 1,400 boys can become too old for Little League each year. Should they wish to continue playing baseball as a form of recreation, where are the 100 teams that would be necessary. Remember these graduates of a regimented program have for 5 years been dedicated to one thing—winning. They also have been exposed to radio commercialism and exploitation which is not in keeping with the Little League program.

In this connection permit me to quote from the official rules, "Article XVII, Commercialization (a) Exploitation of Little League in any form or for any purpose is prohibited." Further investigation reveals this, "Exploitation of the boys will result in the immediate removal of any franchise."

Before Little League became a platform from which parents could test their tonsils, we had many baseball teams of all ages in Marin County without the regimentation that prevails in Little League, and in most instances the games were played for fun.

As it is not proper to consider boys of 13 years of age washed up as athletes, who is going to take care of their needs after Little League? Who is going to sponsor their activities from 13 to 18?

Those worthy individuals who in the past worked hard to organize teams for the CYO—San Rafael Athletic Club — American Legion — VFW—Pony League — Colts —Babe Ruth League—semi-pro, and other teams, long ago became discouraged by the fact that Little League had milked possible sponsors dry and the best that they could get in the way of support for recreation for older boys was a handshake and sympathy.

As parents of Little Leaguers placed all of their recreational eggs in one basket, it looks like they will have to control the "Frankenstein" that they created.

One hears a great deal of talk these days about socalled "pornographic" literature, but who is to be the judge of what books really deserve banning on that score?

D. H. Lawrence considered Charlotte Bronte's "Jane Eyre" pornographic, though it is now recommended to high school students. On the other hand, Lawrence cried "Unfair" when his own "Lady Chatterley's Lover" was banned. When Thrackeray edited the Cornhill Magazine, he rejected a manuscript by Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Why? It contained the word "harlot"! Pornography's all-time best-seller, "Fanny Hill," hasn't one word your maiden Aunt Emma could blush at. On the other hand, Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales" has dozens of them.

In other words, as George S. Kaufman once remarked in a review of ancient Asiatic wars, "one man's Mede is another man's Persian."

Robin Goodfellow defines a really big industrialist as a man who can delegate all the authority, shift all the blame, and appropriate all the credit.

It's About Time To Take Off On That Porsche Trip To Key West

Dismaying word comes to Marin County from Commerce, Tex., located close to Bug Tussle.

My son-in-law, Bill Dunn, reports that haircuts in Commerce have soared from 75 cents to $1. Commerce is at last living up to its name.

This is a disappointment, as I've been looking forward to another 75-cent haircut. But it won't deter Goulds from departure early Saturday for such distant points.

Purpose of our intended voyage is to keep already basic convictions that there's no place like Marvelous Marin, to which we shall soon return.

EVERYBODY NEEDS a frisk now and then so why not get in early and avoid the rush?

Friends suggest to wife Agnes that we could go by jet. I say "Why put up with airline discourtesy when you can get it from me wholesale? And, as Cap Oko would say, with volume?"

Blue Buster II, our new Porsche, travels with jet speed anyhow. At least when in the desert far from Ted Parnow's merry lads in uniform.

And with some care one can avoid where the truckers eat and find food almost as terrible as on the airplanes.

NEW ORLEANS will be an exception. Agnes must have Antoine's oysters Rockefeller, while I must try again to have the white wine lower than room temperature. I look more like Lucius Beebe now than I did last time, so they may chill my wine finally.

We hope to persevere as far as Key West. That's to report back to Bill Fusselman on the current quality of turtle steak, conch chowder and Key lime pie.

But our main reason for romping off is that all of a sudden everybody has started to take over Kennedys job in Washington. Conversation has gotten pretty terrible.

"WHAT DO YOU think about Laos?" they say. "Aren't you afraid to be going so close to Cuba?"

Shucks, I'll bet they will be talking on the Keys about fishing, not Castro; and I wish Marin County would, too.

An astronaut means naught to me but a guy in a monkey suit taking a hop, skip and jump, same as me. Everything is relative; if I don't go as far as Shepard, neither did Shepard go as far as Gagarin.

ALL RIGHT, let's level. The Goulds have cabin fever.

What has overcome us not for the first time is an itch to roam and rubber, to observe the strange ways of the natives elsewhere.

If those ways are a lot like Marin ways, that will be a valuable scientific discovery. If vice versa, likewise.

Down our Mill Valley horse-trail lives Ed Hun, a scientist who makes his living by watching rats for the Navy. They pay him. I will pay everybody, which makes me a patriot, a billpayer as well as a taxpayer.

Why Kennedy Has Fared So Well With Congress So Far This Session

WASHINGTON — The political question in Washington today is not whether the Kennedy legislative program is making headway in Congress —but why it is faring so well.

The concensus among correspondents is that the President will get most of his legislative requests. This is a far cry from the pre-convention session of Congress in which the Kennedy-Johnson leadership was defeated at nearly every point.

The accumulating success of the Kennedy program with Congress is the more significant because of his close election and the fact that there are fewer Democrats and more Republicans on Capitol Hill than last August.

THE MAJOR measures which have passed or are assured of passing include aid to depressed areas, extended temporary unemployment benefits, increased minimum wage, aid to dependent children, and increased Social Security benefits.

Undoubtedly tough battles for the White House lie ahead. These will involve housing, federal aid to education, the omnibus farm bill (which is a hodge-podge by any standard), medical care for the aged, and the foreign aid bill.

None of these measures will come easily. The medical aid bill may be held over until next year and at this stage there is no telling what will happen to the education bill.

BUT THE DEVELOPING record is substantial. Congress is proving more responsive to the President's requests than his own partisans thought probable.

The reasons, I think, are these:

POWER PRESIDENCY — President Kennedy and Vice President Johnson are finding that leading Congress from the White House is easier than from the floor of the Capitol. Their influence last August was in part dissipated because they were both candidates for the nomination. Also they were contained by President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon, who held their party behind the administration's alternative program.

The result was stalemate; neither party could get a majority for anything.

Now Kennedy has been able to use the powers of the Presidency vigorously and almost continuously—to persuade, to cajole, to coerce, to withhold favors, and to grant them — and he is producing results.

CAUTIOUS PROGRAM — The President is requesting a more moderate program than the Democratic platform which was proclaimed at Los Angeles. This Congress is made up in large part of moderates who welcome Kennedy's relative moderation.

The whole range of the Kennedy welfare and anti-recession measures differs only in degree with proposals advanced by Nixon except at one point. That is the tax-reduction incentives to business to promote plant expansion and modernization which the Eisenhower administration never advocated.

POLITICAL ALIGNMENT— The so-called Southern Democratic-Republican coalition has not had the votes to block the President very much or very often. The White House has been weaning to its side several Southern Democrats who, combined with a bloc of some 15 or 20 Republicans, are making the difference between defeat and passage in the House of Representatives where the administration is weaker.

The White House legislative lobby is busy and usually expert. Kennedy himself is on the telephone to wavering Democratic Congressmen who understand his political language.

THE RESULT of all this is that a Congress, more conservative in its make-up than last year, is substantially amenable to the President thus far. But the margin is narrow. He recently lost a test in the House by one vote and, while the Democratic majority is large, Kennedy's voting majority is small.

This suggests that Congress is setting some boundaries in domestic policy which the White House will find difficult to exceed.

Marin Insuranceman Retires After 41 Years

Norman G. Boyd of 130 Crescent Avenue, Sausalito, general cashier of the America Fore Insurance companies of America Fore Loyalty Group, has retired after 41 years service.

He was honored recently at a testimonial dinner given by 125 of his associates in the group's San Francisco headquarters. Boyd began his insurance career in 1920 with The Continental Insurance Co., parent company of the group.

Swimming Pool Safety Discussion Tonight

Owners and operators of swimming pools may learn about "Swimming Pool Sanitation and Safety" tonight at Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo.

A swimming pool seminar, under sponsorship of the Marin County Health Department, will begin with registration at 7 p.m. It will present a program of speakers, demonstrations, and discussions from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

Included in the discussion will be information on legal responsibilities of pool owners, especially with regard to public pools, including apartment house and motel pools. Information on water purification and "trouble shooting" in water chemistry will be presented to meet the needs of large pool operators and maintenance service personnel. In a separate section the questions of private pool owners and small pool operators will be considered.

Representatives of the Marin Red Cross Chapter will discuss and demonstrate safety regulations and equipment and rescue methods. Junior Red Cross volunteers will take registrations and provide coffee to participants.

Vallecito P-TA Elect Officers

Newly elected officers for the 1961-62 school term of the Vallecito Parent-Teacher Assn. in the Dixie School District include the following:

Thomas Scott of 4 Dias Way, president; Bert F. Frazzini of 2236 Juniperberry Drive, first vice president; Charles Warfield Jr., of 643 Louise Avenue, Novato, second vice president; Mrs. William Stone of 630 Bamboo Terrace, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Christopher Allair of 566 Wakerobin Lane, recording secretary and Mrs. Harry Andrewsen of 795 Las Colindas Road, treasurer.

Lt. Col. Albert Adatto of 2244 Juniperberry Drive and Robert S. Winniford of 561 Kernberry Drive, are coordinating council representatives.

Reed District Asking Advice From Parents

Parents of school children in Reed School District will receive questionnaires to determine subjects to be offered in the district's summer school opening June 26 at Reed School, trustees decided Monday night.

A discussion of the 1961-62 preliminary budget report was put off until an adjourned meeting scheduled for next Tuesday at Reed School.

A review of the summer teacher in-service training program in mathematics will be made by a three-man committee to find out reasons for a "limited response" by the teachers.

Supt. Paul R. Stouffer and Curriculum Director George Gregg will report at the next regular meeting on proposed changes in the district's spelling program.

The bus contract with Patchett Transportation Co. was approved and sent to county counsel.

Trustees also voted to employ Seymour Feldman as a science and mathematics teacher in seventh-eighth grades at Reed School.

Corte Madera Sets Hearing On New School

The Corte Madera planning commission Monday night set for May 25 a public hearing on a conditional use permit for Larkspur School District's San Clemente School.

Plans for the school on Paradise Drive, due for completion early next year, did not contain landscaping and proper parking facilities, the commissioners said. Architects for the school district, present at last night's meeting, will report to the district trustees tonight.

Also set for May 25 is a public hearing on rezoning property in the Meadowsweet area owned by Peter S. and Rose Arrigoni. The owners are requesting the property be rezoned from high density multiple to professional and administrative.

The commission advised Brumfield Electric Sign Co. of San Francisco to refer plans for a free-standing sign at the Embee Market at 5651 Paradise Drive back to the zoning administrator with more complete details as to lighting and construction.

Application by Walter and Chloe Dillworth of San Francisco for construction of a duplex at Willow and Serra Avenues was referred to the Board of Design.

Robert LaDow was named new Planning Commission Chairman, and Felix Pioli, Vice Chairman.

Strawberry Stands Pat On Rezoning

Directors of Strawberry Property Owners Assn. Monday night reaffirmed opposition to Samuel R. Neider's proposed rezoning of the Strawberry Point tidelands.

They urged all interested persons to attend a County Planning Commission meeting next Monday when the matter is scheduled for decision.

A proposal by Marin Land Co. to relocate the West Strawberry Drive entrance south of its present location was tabled by the board pending a discussion with the county planning staff. Also tabled was an application from the company for two free-standing signs to read "Harbor Point."

The board decided to seek close liaison with the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in a "mutual community interest," according to secretary Thomas Martin.

John McPhail School Festival Planned

Children attending John McPhail School in Santa Venetia will present a spring dance festival featuring folk dancing for their parent and the public on the school grounds tomorrow at 1:15 p.m.

Refreshments will be available. Chairmen are Mrs. James Clarke and Mrs. Louis Albrecht.

Ward Austin, College Of Marin Both Have Great Day

It was a memorable day Sunday at College of Marin.

Not only did hundreds gather on the beautiful campus to observe the 35th anniversary of the institution, but that day too, the retiring president of the institution, Ward H. Austin, was honored as Marin County's Man of the Year.

It was a beautiful day for a birthday and a wondrous day for high honors.

All these things combined to emphasize something said here before—WE DON'T HALF APPRECIATE OUR COLLEGE.

Sunday many of the hundreds of persons who attended the anniversary celebration were alumni. Many of them hadn't been back at their alma mater since they graduated 25 or more years ago. Yet when they got back together, it was remarkably happy groups of grads bunched together with the familiar "Remember when we went down to . . . ?" or "Who was it that put that . . . ?"

Back were some of the people who now known better than anyone else can what kind of an education you can get at College of Marin. These grads now had completed their educations; some elsewhere, some hadn't gone on. They now had had an opportunity to be out in the business world, to make a living and start a family.

No longer were they looking on the campus with the rose-colored spectacles of the undergrad or the teaching staff.

You know what their almost unanimous opinion was?

"We got a whale of an education at College of Marin."

Just last month the University of California agreed, pointing out that Marin College transfers had a higher grade point average at Berkeley than any other junior college in the state.

All this is important to our community. For 35 years now we have had a college making its reputation, building toward the future, but at the same time laying its permanent foundations.

Apparently these foundations have been firm. Now as we face the new challenge of an increasing enrollment, a more definite assignment foreseen in the State Master Plan For Higher Education, we can build with confidence.

It was particularly appropo that the Marin County Real Estate Board should select Ward Austin for the Man Of The Year award at this time. Not only has President Austin been devoted to his college, but in addition has found time for the community around him, as a councilman, a mayor, in church, club and professional activities.

We join the county in its applause for Ward Austin and his work. And we hope the county joins us in the growing recognition of the fine educational institution which we support here with our tax dollars.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

BITTER ORDEAL FOR FISHERMEN

A peaceful fishing excursion turned into a nightmare of horror for a 37-year-old auto mechanic when his 14-foot rowboat drifted helplessly and unnoticed during a December storm on Long Island Sound.

The bitter ordeal began when he couldn't get his new outboard motor started. All the fuel had leaked out. Strong winds dragged the skiff six miles from shore. High waves wrenched the oars from his hands and half filled the tiny boat with water.

After a harrowing 25 hours, the frightened, exhausted fisherman succeeded in attracting the attention of a Texas-bound oil tanker.

Too weak to climb the ship's ladder, he had to be hauled aboard. After arriving at a Newport, R. I., hospital, the grateful man said: "I was praying constantly that something would show up, that somebody would see me."

In all the storms of life, keep your hope strong by a persevering faith in God. One of the most effective ways to do this is through constant prayer.

"Pray without ceasing. In all things give thanks."

(I Thessalonians 5:17, 18)

In You, do I trust, O Jesus, in both fair weather and foul.

Remarks Baseball Umpires Get Tired Of Hearing All The Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a baseball umpire gets tired of hearing:

"Kill the umpire!"

"You know what happened to vaudeville? Well, give Blinky McGuire five more years behind the plate, and he'll do the same thing to organized baseball."

"I admit Blinky calls them as he sees them. That's the whole trouble. He don't see very many of them."

"Whaddaya mean it's strike three? The guy's only thrown two pitches so far."

"Oh, he's all right except for one thing—he favors the pitcher."

"There's only one thing I really got against him — he favors the batter every time."

"Don't look now, Blinky, but that big fan over by first base is getting ready to throw another pop bottle. Wonder where he gets them all?"

"We'll be glad to sell you the life insurance coverage you requested, but because of certain inherent risks in your calling, we'll have to ask for a higher premium."

"You didn't have to call that last one so dramatic, Blinky. The TV camera wasn't on you that time."

"Okay, Little Boy Blue, bend down and dust the plate. Papa's going to belt the first one over for a homer. That way you won't get a chance to call one wrong."

"No, Mr. McGuire, I don't find any indication of ulcers. However, I would like to make a suggestion. One of my associates specializes in psychiatry, and I think it would be a good idea if you would . . ."

"IN YOUR CASE, Mr. McGuire, I would recommend contact lenses. Then no one would even suspect that . . ."

"Since it was ladies' day, I went to the game myself. And even though I am your wife, Blinky dear, that third strike you called in the eighth inning looked way off to me."

"PUT A MOUSE in a uniform and give him a little authority and right away he begins to act like a big rat."

"I hear you're writing your autobiography, Blinky. Will it be in Braille?"

"Gee, I wonder what happened to the map of Cuba that was there . . . ?"

20 YEARS AGO

Increased population of San Rafael township as reported in the 1940 census automatically boosted the local justice court into Class A status, thereby expanding both civil and criminal jurisdiction of the presiding magistrate.

Hugo Newhouse, president of the Golden Gate Bridge District board, said that a cut from the 50-cent toll to 40 cents would mean a deficit and a tax levy of 1½ per cent to make up the loss.

San Rafael public school costs ran to $129.32 per pupil last year, it was revealed—up $12 per pupil from the year previous.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

WAR—instead of Play Ball—appears to be the A. F. Marshall plan when he states, "Just what is wrong with wanting to win? Normal adults like to win and Little Leaguers are absolutely dedicated to the idea."

There is nothing wrong with wanting to win, nor is it a misstatement to say that "adults LIKE to win," but it is highly improper and questionable when a person charged with the responsibility of teaching children how to play, instills in their minds the thought that winning is so important that they become "absolutely dedicated" to that cult.

Has Little League now become a hostile contest instead of friendly competition between youngsters. There is considerable difference between the phrases "like to win" and "absolutely dedicated." As an illustration of that difference here is an example: I LIKE to take a drink—I am absolutely dedicated to booze. One indicates a favorable regard, the other indicates an obsession.

It is my thought that parents should control in a more sensible manner that which their 8-year-old sons are being taught. In the March 4, 1955, issue of I-J (portions of which are germane to Carleton Williams' article) I quoted from Little League literature that the aims of that organizations were, "That winning the game is secondary, the moulding of future men is of prime importance."

I believed that the aims of Little League were not being followed then and still believe as Carleton Williams now states: "Baseball is fine—for kids. Let them play it. For fun."

Parents and sponsors of Little League in many instances firmly believe that the program will act as a curb or check on juvenile delinquency. That is fallacy. I doubt if any police department can show in their crime reports that a juvenile delinquency problem exists among children from 8 to 12 years of age. However, there is a trend toward an increase in juvenile delinquency in the age range between 14 and 18 which appears to rise with the increase in Little League activities.

This is the period when parents center their thoughts on little Oscar, who is 12 and a Little Leaguer, and let Willie 14, and Johnnie 16, drift for themselves. Parents may not deem it such, but this comes under the heading of discriminatory practices.

Can there be a connection between Little League and the growing juvenile delinquency problem, indirectly perhaps, but nevertheless a connection. Let us explore the probabilities.

A recent item in the I-J stated that there are 3,100 boys on 200 teams in the Little League program in Marin County. Incidentally, that is more teams than are now in organized baseball in the United States and Mexico. It is considered a conservative estimate to state that this program which revolves around 95 of the 200 teams or about 1,500 boys costs sponsors about $75,000 and operates for three months.

The Little League program practically precludes handicapped boys and boys who deliver or sell newspapers. It bars boys of 13 or over who can be considered retired Little Leaguers. Who takes care of their recreational needs?

Based on Little League rules that permit 7 boys 12 years of age on each team, it is possible that 1,400 boys can become too old for Little League each year. Should they wish to continue playing baseball as a form of recreation, where are the 100 teams that would be necessary. Remember these graduates of a regimented program have for 5 years been dedicated to one thing—winning. They also have been exposed to radio commercialism and exploitation which is not in keeping with the Little League program.

In this connection permit me to quote from the official rules, "Article XVII, Commercialization (a) Exploitation of Little League in any form or for any purpose is prohibited." Further investigation reveals this, "Exploitation of the boys will result in the immediate removal of any franchise."

Before Little League became a platform from which parents could test their tonsils, we had many baseball teams of all ages in Marin County without the regimentation that prevails in Little League, and in most instances the games were played for fun.

As it is not proper to consider boys of 13 years of age washed up as athletes, who is going to take care of their needs after Little League? Who is going to sponsor their activities from 13 to 18?

Those worthy individuals who in the past worked hard to organize teams for the CYO—San Rafael Athletic Club — American Legion — VFW—Pony League — Colts —Babe Ruth League—semi-pro, and other teams, long ago became discouraged by the fact that Little League had milked possible sponsors dry and the best that they could get in the way of support for recreation for older boys was a handshake and sympathy.

As parents of Little Leaguers placed all of their recreational eggs in one basket, it looks like they will have to control the "Frankenstein" that they created.

BENNETT CERF

One hears a great deal of talk these days about socalled "pornographic" literature, but who is to be the judge of what books really deserve banning on that score?

D. H. Lawrence considered Charlotte Bronte's "Jane Eyre" pornographic, though it is now recommended to high school students. On the other hand, Lawrence cried "Unfair" when his own "Lady Chatterley's Lover" was banned. When Thrackeray edited the Cornhill Magazine, he rejected a manuscript by Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Why? It contained the word "harlot"! Pornography's all-time best-seller, "Fanny Hill," hasn't one word your maiden Aunt Emma could blush at. On the other hand, Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales" has dozens of them.

In other words, as George S. Kaufman once remarked in a review of ancient Asiatic wars, "one man's Mede is another man's Persian."

Robin Goodfellow defines a really big industrialist as a man who can delegate all the authority, shift all the blame, and appropriate all the credit.

It's About Time To Take Off On That Porsche Trip To Key West

Dismaying word comes to Marin County from Commerce, Tex., located close to Bug Tussle.

My son-in-law, Bill Dunn, reports that haircuts in Commerce have soared from 75 cents to $1. Commerce is at last living up to its name.

This is a disappointment, as I've been looking forward to another 75-cent haircut. But it won't deter Goulds from departure early Saturday for such distant points.

Purpose of our intended voyage is to keep already basic convictions that there's no place like Marvelous Marin, to which we shall soon return.

EVERYBODY NEEDS a frisk now and then so why not get in early and avoid the rush?

Friends suggest to wife Agnes that we could go by jet. I say "Why put up with airline discourtesy when you can get it from me wholesale? And, as Cap Oko would say, with volume?"

Blue Buster II, our new Porsche, travels with jet speed anyhow. At least when in the desert far from Ted Parnow's merry lads in uniform.

And with some care one can avoid where the truckers eat and find food almost as terrible as on the airplanes.

NEW ORLEANS will be an exception. Agnes must have Antoine's oysters Rockefeller, while I must try again to have the white wine lower than room temperature. I look more like Lucius Beebe now than I did last time, so they may chill my wine finally.

We hope to persevere as far as Key West. That's to report back to Bill Fusselman on the current quality of turtle steak, conch chowder and Key lime pie.

But our main reason for romping off is that all of a sudden everybody has started to take over Kennedys job in Washington. Conversation has gotten pretty terrible.

"WHAT DO YOU think about Laos?" they say. "Aren't you afraid to be going so close to Cuba?"

Shucks, I'll bet they will be talking on the Keys about fishing, not Castro; and I wish Marin County would, too.

An astronaut means naught to me but a guy in a monkey suit taking a hop, skip and jump, same as me. Everything is relative; if I don't go as far as Shepard, neither did Shepard go as far as Gagarin.

ALL RIGHT, let's level. The Goulds have cabin fever.

What has overcome us not for the first time is an itch to roam and rubber, to observe the strange ways of the natives elsewhere.

If those ways are a lot like Marin ways, that will be a valuable scientific discovery. If vice versa, likewise.

Down our Mill Valley horse-trail lives Ed Hun, a scientist who makes his living by watching rats for the Navy. They pay him. I will pay everybody, which makes me a patriot, a billpayer as well as a taxpayer.

Why Kennedy Has Fared So Well With Congress So Far This Session

WASHINGTON — The political question in Washington today is not whether the Kennedy legislative program is making headway in Congress —but why it is faring so well.

The concensus among correspondents is that the President will get most of his legislative requests. This is a far cry from the pre-convention session of Congress in which the Kennedy-Johnson leadership was defeated at nearly every point.

The accumulating success of the Kennedy program with Congress is the more significant because of his close election and the fact that there are fewer Democrats and more Republicans on Capitol Hill than last August.

THE MAJOR measures which have passed or are assured of passing include aid to depressed areas, extended temporary unemployment benefits, increased minimum wage, aid to dependent children, and increased Social Security benefits.

Undoubtedly tough battles for the White House lie ahead. These will involve housing, federal aid to education, the omnibus farm bill (which is a hodge-podge by any standard), medical care for the aged, and the foreign aid bill.

None of these measures will come easily. The medical aid bill may be held over until next year and at this stage there is no telling what will happen to the education bill.

BUT THE DEVELOPING record is substantial. Congress is proving more responsive to the President's requests than his own partisans thought probable.

The reasons, I think, are these:

POWER PRESIDENCY — President Kennedy and Vice President Johnson are finding that leading Congress from the White House is easier than from the floor of the Capitol. Their influence last August was in part dissipated because they were both candidates for the nomination. Also they were contained by President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon, who held their party behind the administration's alternative program.

The result was stalemate; neither party could get a majority for anything.

Now Kennedy has been able to use the powers of the Presidency vigorously and almost continuously—to persuade, to cajole, to coerce, to withhold favors, and to grant them — and he is producing results.

CAUTIOUS PROGRAM — The President is requesting a more moderate program than the Democratic platform which was proclaimed at Los Angeles. This Congress is made up in large part of moderates who welcome Kennedy's relative moderation.

The whole range of the Kennedy welfare and anti-recession measures differs only in degree with proposals advanced by Nixon except at one point. That is the tax-reduction incentives to business to promote plant expansion and modernization which the Eisenhower administration never advocated.

POLITICAL ALIGNMENT— The so-called Southern Democratic-Republican coalition has not had the votes to block the President very much or very often. The White House has been weaning to its side several Southern Democrats who, combined with a bloc of some 15 or 20 Republicans, are making the difference between defeat and passage in the House of Representatives where the administration is weaker.

The White House legislative lobby is busy and usually expert. Kennedy himself is on the telephone to wavering Democratic Congressmen who understand his political language.

THE RESULT of all this is that a Congress, more conservative in its make-up than last year, is substantially amenable to the President thus far. But the margin is narrow. He recently lost a test in the House by one vote and, while the Democratic majority is large, Kennedy's voting majority is small.

This suggests that Congress is setting some boundaries in domestic policy which the White House will find difficult to exceed.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, May 10, the 130th day of the year with 235 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1865, Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States, was captured and arrested.

In 1869, Governor Leland Stanford of California drove a golden spike into the last railway tie at Promontory Point, Utah, completing the first transcontinental railway in America.

In 1948, the United States government seized all the railroads in the nation to forestall a national strike.

In 1960, the world's largest submarine, the nuclear powered Triton, surfaced off Delaware after completing an 84-day round the world trip submerged.

A thought for today: American poet Walt Whitman said: "Once fully enslaved, no nation, state, city of this earth, ever afterward resumes its liberty."

Marin Water Ski Manufacturer Awarded Top Prize

Reinforced Plastics Division of the Society of the Plastics Industry has awarded Kimball Manufacturing Corporation of San Rafael first prize for sporting goods excellency for the company's new line of plastic water skis, it was announced at the annual conference in Chicago.

Kimball is a molder of fiberglass products. The company pioneered and commercially introduced fiberglass water skis, the first major departure from conventional wooden skis. The new skis—faster and more durable—are becoming increasingly popular because they offer three major improvements over conventional skis: they are safer, practically indestructible and provide a minimum of friction with the water.

Kimball fiberglass water skis are 5½ feet long and seven inches wides—best proven size for skier as well as providing utmost maneuverability required by the pull of today's marine engines. They weigh less than six pounds, compared to approximately 8½ pounds for conventional types. The engineered fiberglass skis have a full rocker bottom and both ends are tapered for improved ride and control.

The varying hare, or snowshoe rabbit, is one of the fastest animals in the forest. It can run more than 30 miles an hour.

Otis Brown and Frank King to be chaplain; Jean Lestenquet to succeed himself as finance officer; David Hamm, incumbent, and Robert Dill to be sergeant at arms, and Bernard Clancy, incumbent, to be historian.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, May 10, the 130th day of the year with 235 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1865, Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States, was captured and arrested.

In 1869, Governor Leland Stanford of California drove a golden spike into the last railway tie at Promontory Point, Utah, completing the first transcontinental railway in America.

In 1948, the United States government seized all the railroads in the nation to forestall a national strike.

In 1960, the world's largest submarine, the nuclear powered Triton, surfaced off Delaware after completing an 84-day round the world trip submerged.

A thought for today: American poet Walt Whitman said: "Once fully enslaved, no nation, state, city of this earth, ever afterward resumes its liberty."

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

A Drive-In Cleaners For Novato, And A Hobby Ideal For Everyone

Kenneth W. Rogers who divides his living time between Black Point and San Francisco where he owns and operates Roger's Cleaners is in the process of getting a new establishment ready for opening at 7380 Redwood Highway, Novato. He'll call it Novato Drive-In Cleaners and Laundry. It should be in business on or before the 15th of the month.

Rogers will install up-to-date cleaning equipment and do all his own work on the spot; later may go in for pick-up and delivery service.

He's been in the cleaning business for 29 years with 14 years at his San Francisco place, and will operate the Novato establishment himself.

WILLIAM TENDLER, partner in Tendler and Rometti's Cabinet Shop, 33 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley has a hobby of mosaic tables and believes in tempting others to build them by his example.

He has just completed one with 3,000 separate pieces which add up to an interesting theme on fishes. After drawing the design freehand on wood it took him 25 days, working six or seven hours a day to put in the tiles, but he thinks it should encourage would-be mosaic artists to spend a little time developing their own ideas.

Anyway, it beats working a jigsaw puzzle, he says, and you have something creative when you get through with it.

INSURANCE COUNSELORS Clifford S. Lund and Associates are now properly installed in their new offices at 1418 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, with three times as much space as they had at 912 Grand Avenue.

They took an old residence and remodeled it into business quarters. Public accountant Harry Ketjen also has his office in the building.

Besides Lund, the staff consists of Chris Jenkins, life agency supervisor, Bill Hatcher specializing in casualty and Eric Wilkinson and Robert R. Thomas who work both fields. Thomas is a recent addition to the office; was formerly with United Moving and Storage, Larkspur.

Lund and Jenkins are both past presidents of the Marin Life Underwriters Association.

SMALL MANUFACTURERS in Marin County interested in first-hand information on doing business with the Federal government may find it worth while to attend a procurement counseling conference tomorrow at the Clark Hotel in Stockton.

The conference is being sponsored by the Small Business Administration, the Department of Defense and the Stockton Chamber of Commerce, but outsiders are welcome. Last March, 347 prime government contracts valued at more than 15 million dolalrs went to small businesses in California.

Information will be provided on government buying methods, the SBA procurement program, steps necessary to get placed on bidders' lists and other details.

Further information on the conference can be secured at the Small Business Administration offices, 525 Market Street, San Francisco.

THIRD ANNUAL Pacific Coast Builders Conference and Exhibit will be held at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco June 6, 7 and 8.

Featured on the three-day program will be a clinic for small bidders, discussions dealing with investors and customers, selling and merchandising, rentals, mortgage financing and land development and planning, plus tours and entertainment events.

Field Service Needs Homes For Students

The American Field Service committee needs homes for foreign students who will attend San Rafael High School next fall.

The home selection committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Goff, to date has received only one completed application from a family willing to take an exchange student into its home.

There have been several other inquiries, Goff said, but no others have made application. The high school has had two exchange students this year. The committee doesn't know how many will be sent here next year, Goff said, but more applications from families are needed.

A selection committee in New York matches foreign students with compatible families, so a larger number of applications makes the job easier, Goff noted.

Paul E. Mason, business manager, said the burglar smashed a window 48 by 72 inches in the students' store near the candy counter. He said it would cost $250 to replace the window.

Job Placement Reaches All-Time High For Marin

Job pjacements reached an all-time high and unemployment dropped during April, announced Ed Ayer, manager of the San Rafael branch of the state Department of Employment.

The month's number of job placements in San Rafael office was 459, erasing the previous high of 404 of last July. Of the 914 new applications for work, 475 were students seeking part-time and summer employment.

Unemployment insurance claims decreased during the month from 1,238 in March to 1,023 in April. The total continued claims for the month were 4,200 compared to 5,557 in March. This is the first decrease in claims load from the previous month since October last year, Ayer said.

The port of Buffalo, N. Y., is closer to most Scandinavian ports than are the ports of New York, Philadelphia or Baltimore.

REDWOOD P-TA members working on plans for Saturday's dessert-fashion show admire one of the handsome new red robes to be worn in future by members of the Redwood Choir. Left to right, they are Mrs. Harding McPhun, fashion coordinator; Mrs. John Southmayd, a member of the decorations committee, and Mrs. Henry Skinner, general chairman. Appearing as model is DeAnn Hickman, Redwood senior, who will have a double role at the event. She will be one of the models in the fashion parade and also will appear in her usual role as choir accompanist. (Independent-Journal photos)

'Round-The-Clock' Marin Styles To Be Seen At Redwood Show

Delectable teen fashions for round-the-clock wear in Marin will be paraded at the dessert-fashion show, "Melody in Fashion," to be presented by the Redwood High School P-TA at 1 p.m. Saturday in the school gymnasium.

Twenty Redwood girls will model the newest costumes for active and spectator sports, daytime wear, going-to-the-city, and evening parties.

The dessert-fashion show will be the third event of its kind to be given by the Redwood P-TA, and is expected to be attended by a large crowd of students, P-TA members, and their guests. The audience will include many mother-daughter groups, since the party will take place the day before Mother's Day. Several grammar schools whose students go to Redwood are to be represented by large groups of eighth grade girls interested in seeing the fashion show, according to Mrs. Henry Skinner, general chairman.

"Please make your reservations at once," urges Mrs. Skinner. "If your party will include seven or more, you may reserve a table by contacting Mrs. Edward Detrick, 231 Poplar Drive, Kentfield. Individual tickets are available at the Redwood office and from area representatives."

Preparations for the event will go into high gear this week, with the models holding many rehearsals and the various committees making final plans. Colorful decorations are planned in keeping with the "Melody in Fashion" theme.

In addition to the fashion parade, the program will include several numbers by the Redwood Choir, composed of 50 Redwood boys and girls and directed by Arthur Wigell of the school music department. Proceeds of the event will go to the fund to provide robes for the choir, and samples of the new robes will be modeled.

Also appearing on the program will be the Crew Men, a trio of talented Redwood boys who sing folk songs in the style made popular by the Kingston Trio and other groups. Members of the Crew Men are Mike Spencer, Peter Allen, and Clay Wilson.

The program by the choir and trio will follow the serving of dessert, and the fashion parade will follow.

Parsonettes To Present Program

The Parsonettes from San Francisco Theological Seminary will present a program entitled "From Heart to Heart" at the meeting tomorrow of the San Anselmo Presbyterian Women's Guild.

The Parsonettes are wives of students at the seminary. Their program about Christian witness will provide a glimpse of what the delegates to the United Presbyterian Women's meeting in Purdue will see this June.

Those participating in the program will be Mesdames Jack Depone, Doug Baer, Lyle Baird, and Richard Gillespie. Mrs. John Zombo will provide the music, singing in her native tongue of Bulu. She will be accompanied by Mrs. LeRoy Smith.

World Service Chairman Mrs. William McGough announces that the annual summer offering for medical missions will be taken at this meeting. Luncheon will be served at noon before the program and business meeting by the Morning Circle under Mrs. Harold Joslin.

POOLS FOR AQUACADE REHEARSAL NOW IN USE THROUGHOUT MARIN

Rehearsals for the Marin County Ballet Aquacade, to be held this year on June 3 and 4 at the Ann Curtis Cuneo School of Swim in Terra Linda, require the use of a number of local swimming pools for the semi-weekly practice sessions.

Mrs. Terres Ronneberg, swim coordinator of the popular swim-dance extravaganza, speaks for committee members of the entire Aquacade when she expresses gratitude for the generous use of these pools. Over 150 girls are rehearsing their precision numbers simultaneously throughout the area.

In Kent Woodlands the following pools are in use: those owned by Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Schmitz, Mr. and Mrs. George Schirmer, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gilboy; in Ross, the E. J. Mahoney pool is used.

Pi Beta Phi Holds Founders' Luncheon

Marin County Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi celebrated its annual Founders' Day recently at a luncheon at Tiburon Tommy's. Pi Beta Phi was founded in 1867 and was the first sorority. Two years later, in 1869, the organization, known as I.C. sorosis, became a national one and received its present name.

The luncheon began with a scenic social hour on Tommy's deck overlooking the bay and the city. After a Polynesian lunch, the candle lighting ceremony in remembrance of the 12 founders was performed by the president, Mrs. Dan A. Anderson, the vice president, Mrs. Burton K. Bergstrom, and the incoming president, Mrs. Warren R. Perry. Mrs. Anderson read letters commemorating the day from the national alumnae organization and especially welcomed the two Golden Arrow members present, Mrs. Charles Schneider and Mrs. Eugene Robinson.

Those responsible for organizing the luncheon were Mesdames Marion Scott, Charles Stuart, Robin Hobart, G. von Kaesborg, John Buresh and D. B. Parrish.

An announcement was made of the installation of the 105th chapter of Pi Beta Phi at Mississippi Southern College, Hattiesburg, Miss. The new chapter, Mississippi Alpha, was installed the weekend of April 9 by Mrs. William H. Mansfield, national president of Pi Beta Phi; Mrs. Kent Morgan, national vice president, and Pi Beta Phi Lambda Province officers.

Present at the luncheon were Mesdames Anderson, Perry, Bergstrom, Stuart, Schneider, Robinson, Parrish, von Kaesborg, Hobart, and Mesdames R. E. Johnston, W. L. Berzman, M. B. Peterson, W. H. Tyler III, R. C. Morgan, J. P. Wilbee, D. H. Brokaw, Boyd Quinn, F. T. Fogarty, R. H. Northfield, William Hagens, John Herrmann, Calvin Friar, Richard Fagerstrom, Henry Cole, George Torney, and Daniel Milkalak.

The next meeting, a swimming-luncheon is to be held May 31 at the home of Mrs. Michael Hogan, 500 Lovell Ave., Mill Valley, when the new officers will be installed.

Election, Talk Slated For Club Meet Tomorrow

Election of officers and a talk by Dr. Shau Wing Chan, author, scholar and lecturer, on "The U. S. and Communist China," will be highlights of tomorrow's home-day meeting of the Outdoor Art Club.

President Mrs. Philip T. Smith has invited as honored guests presidents of the women's clubs in Marin that are members of the Golden Gate District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. Chan has been professor of Chinese studies in the department of Asiatic and Slavic studies, Stanford University, since 1938. He has taught in Chinese universities as well as the University of Utah and Pomona College.

He has served as consultant to the historical section of the Asia Foundation, Stanford Research Institute, and the International Secretariat, United Nations Conference in San Francisco, 1945. He was director of the China Research project at Stanford University during 1955-56 and is now executive head, department of Asian languages, at Stanford.

Third Grand Council Fire Set Friday For District I

When the traditional call of "Wohelo" rings through the Ruby Scott Auditorium of Tamalpais High School on Friday, May 12, at 8 p.m., it will mark the beginning of the third annual Grand Council Fire of the Camp Fire Girls' District I, and the culmination of the district's activities during the Golden Jubilee Year of Camp Fire.

As they respond to the summons of the Wohelo Call, led by Mrs. Doris Thurston, the girls will be echoing the response of girls all over the country since Camp Fire was founded 50 years ago by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick, for the Council Fire ceremony has been little changed as it has been handed down through generations of Camp Fire Girls.

After the girls have filed in procession into the hall, there to pledge their allegiance to the Flag and to reaffirm their Camp Fire Law, they will witness the lighting of the Fire, symbolizing Work, Health and Love, by three members of Mrs. Helen Jackson's Camp Fire Group of Marin City—Terrie Harris, Gwendolyn Jackson and Deborah Turner.

Each group has constructed a seven-foot tepee bearing its group name and group symbols, in keeping with the Indian-lore tradition of Camp Fire. When the groups have taken their places in front of the tepees, and have answered to the roll call, the girls will join in singing "The Call of the Fire," and will be greeted by Mrs. J. W. Culmer, leader's chairman. This will be followed by a talk on camping by Mrs. Paul Talbot of San Anselmo.

Blue Birds who are not otherwise participating in the Council Fire, but who will make up a special part of the audience, will recite the Blue Bird Wish. Following this, Mrs. Edward Zeller, president of the Marin County Council of Camp Fire Girls, will give recognition to those girls who have completed Camp Fire ranks during the year. Mrs. Dennis Molloy, Field Director for District I, will present other special awards, including those to girls selling substantial numbers of mints in the recent Mint Sale.

The Wohelo Fire will be extinguished by Lovertta Elders, Geraldine Grayson and Linda Hendricks, also of Mrs. Jackson's group, and the Council Fire will be concluded as all the girls join in singing "Now Our Camp Fire Fadeth."

The Grand Council Fire Committee consists of Mrs. Harold Bright, chairman; Mrs. K. W. Robin and Mrs. William Pemberton.

Dance Club Has Farewell Dinner Party

"From Alaska to San Diego" was the theme of the recent farewell party for two member couples of the Hardly Able Folk Dance Club. Honored at the San Rafael home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kane were Mr. and Mrs. David Kendall of San Anselmo, who are leaving for a year in Alaska, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunstan of Belvedere-Tiburon, who are moving to San Diego.

Club members came dressed as gold miners, pioneers, dance hall girls and gamblers. Cocktails were served by a replica of the San Diego zoo. Barbecued "grizzly bear" steaks and a potluck dinner were served. Entertainment included the showing of color motion pictures of Alaska and group singing.

At a short business meeting after dinner James Smith, club president, named Roy Drescher and Mesdames Albert Heinrich and Alfred Everson as a committee to nominate officers for the coming year. Mr. Smith appointed on the committee for outdoor decorations for the California Folk Dance Festival in Marin in July Messrs. and Mesdames Scott Tilden, Leslie L. Hennessey, A. R. Lubersky, Everson, Drescher and Kane.

Program chairman Mrs. Hubert James announces a panel discussion will be moderated by Archer Forsyth with panel members being two foreign students at Tamalpais High School, Amparo Huici-Casal from Spain and Ahmet Gucuyener from Turkey; Francie Oman, Tam High student who spent a year in Italy; and Mrs. Charles Putney, Ahmet's Mill Valley "mother."

Alice To Greet Guild Guests At Style Show

Models will enter "Through the Looking Glass." Parish children have been asked to model as well as participate in skits in keeping with the Alice in Wonderland theme.

General chairman Mrs. Paul Allsman has appointed the following committee chairmen: Mesdames Raymond Lynch, tickets; L. R. Peterson, reservations; Thomas O. Foudy, refreshments; Frank Buscher, decorations; Ed Gratonik, posters; Henry Schubart, music; Kelly Wheeler, fashion coordinator; Stuart Pritchett, assistant coordinator and Robert Nadolski, waitresses. George Canby is in charge of properties.

Hartzell P-TA Plans Meeting Tomorrow

"Music to Enjoy!" is the theme of the annual music program to be presented by the Oliver Hartzell P-TA at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Don Krueger is music chairman. There will be instrumental and vocal selections.

This will be the last meeting this year, and the whole family is invited.

Refreshments will be served by the sixth grade room mothers.

Auxiliary 313 Juinors Package Cards For Institute

A photo showing the small class of students in a country church, sitting on the floor and studying by the light of a single oil lamp was also viewed by the juniors of the American Legion Auxiliary.

For their project of remembering hospitalized children at the Sonoma State Hospital, junior members collected 57 Golden Books of children's favorite stories and scrap books.

Juniors were also commended by the Volunteer Service department of Sonoma State Hospital by letter in April for their project of supply individually wrapped tooth brushes for that facility.

Following the luncheon get-together of juniors at the home of their senior counselor, Mrs. Francis M. Fugate in Corte Madera, the annual Auxiliary's Junior Jury Poll was conducted.

A Bible institute in Kyungju, Korea, will soon be receiving several hundred used Christmas cards packaged by junior members of Twin Cities Unit 313 at their recent meeting.

The institute s letter of appreciation telling juniors how Korean students use the cards to print Bible verses in Korean and sent to their friends was read

Friends Of Arequipa Model Fashion Firsts For Summer

"Fashion Firsts for Summer" were pleasingly pretty, cleverly classic, and simply smart as shown by a San Rafael shop at a recent Wednesday Informally Yours fashion luncheon at Bob's of Marin when the Friends of Arequipa sponsored the benefit affair to aid their financial grant fund.

Mrs. William Blair was chairman of the luncheon with fashions co-ordinated by Sara Campbell and modeled by 11 Friends of Arequipa, whose members donate many hours of service at Lucas Valley Hospital and the tuberculosis terrace of Ross Hospital.

First in the parade of fashions at the luncheon benefit was Mrs. Edwin Christie. Elaine elegant modeling a bright blue linen sheath, the white bodice trimmed in blue.

Next in the style parade, Mrs. Walter Moreno. Roberta radiant in orange and beige. The two piece outfit has a beige skirt, orange top and sleeveless short jacket.

The following model was Mrs. James Conley. Dorothy distinctive showing a sun dress of pink and white checks, the full skirt with a half over skirt of white lace and the hemline in luge scallops.

Stepping from the viewing stand in white kid pumps with rose-bud detail loaned from a San Rafael shoe shop, Mrs. Roderick Stevenson. Janet jaunty wearing a cocktail frock of white embroidered silk organza with an extremely full skirt.

Promenading among the members and guests of the Friends of Arequipa Mrs. Ross Pignaz. Ruth resplendent garbed in a black lace sheath dinner dress with long sleeves and a square neckline.

Pausing at a table to show her gown, was Mrs. Richard Basco. Margie modish modeling a chalk white silk sheath trimmed in emerald iridescent sequins and matching sweater bound in emerald with sequin applique.

Answering questions regarding her ensemble, Mrs. Charles Rosenbaum Jr. Lita lovely as the "mother of the bride" in a blue lace and silk sheath. Her large brimmed straw hat was trimmed in the same soft blue and red, red roses carried in a spray accented the garden wedding ensemble.

The Marin chapter of Hadassah will be welcomed on Wednesday, May 17 for a fashion luncheon benefit at Bob's of Marin.

Reservations for the May 17 luncheon and fashion show may be made with chairmen Mrs. Dan Jackson or Mrs. Louis Roth and by calling Bob's of Marin.

Fashion Focus To Honor Women Of B'nai B'rith

"Daisies Do Tell," fashionably speaking, on Tuesday at Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon when B'nai Brith Women of Marin weave a daisy chain of delightful summer fashions from an equally delightful San Anselmo fashion shop, the newest women's specialty shop in Marin.

In fact, daisies do tell a great deal on Tuesday, especially when the daisy dots the "I" in the name of this recently-opened Marin venture that greets new faces from a San Anselmo home charmingly converted into a dress shop with daisy decor and a daisy color scheme.

On Tuesday, eight attractive members of B'nai Brith women will be proving that daisies tell summer secrets as well—such as who is wearing the trim Jack Winter pants, the new Petti swimwear, or the Ann Fogarty cotton, all fashion names at the sign of the San Anselmo daisy.

Sharing fashion honors with Marin's newest smart shop will be a new San Rafael hair salon, creating fresh, feminine summer coiffures for the B'nai Brith models.

Like one long daisy chain, B'nai Brith has stretched to all corners of the world—to the children's home near Jerusalem for war terrorized children to the National Jewish Home in Denver for asthmatic children, as well as vocation services, youth activities and good works abroad and at home in Marin.

"Daisies Do Tell" fashionably on Tuesday at 12:30 with the luncheon planned for public enjoyment and reservations made by calling Rickeys.

Good Housekeeping Guarantees*
New Stepped-Up Detergent for Automatic Dishwashers
America's leading chemical laboratory for automatic dishwasher products has made a remarkable discovery. Here, scientists have found a combination of two costly chemicals that work together as "perfect partners" to end spotting and filming of glasses.
FINISH, the only dishwasher detergent containing this new combination of chemicals, was submitted to Good Housekeeping. It was checked every which way, from chemical analysis to performance under the combat conditions of Good Housekeeping Institute's home service center. Thus, Good Housekeeping satisfied itself that stepped-up FINISH is a quality product living up to its claims and proudly granted it the Good Housekeeping Seal.
This same stepped-up FINISH is now available in stores everywhere. There is no increase in price. Try it. You'll agree, you've never seen glasses so clean before.

A Drive-In Cleaners For Novato, And A Hobby Ideal For Everyone

Kenneth W. Rogers who divides his living time between Black Point and San Francisco where he owns and operates Roger's Cleaners is in the process of getting a new establishment ready for opening at 7380 Redwood Highway, Novato. He'll call it Novato Drive-In Cleaners and Laundry. It should be in business on or before the 15th of the month.

Rogers will install up-to-date cleaning equipment and do all his own work on the spot; later may go in for pick-up and delivery service.

He's been in the cleaning business for 29 years with 14 years at his San Francisco place, and will operate the Novato establishment himself.

WILLIAM TENDLER, partner in Tendler and Rometti's Cabinet Shop, 33 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley has a hobby of mosaic tables and believes in tempting others to build them by his example.

He has just completed one with 3,000 separate pieces which add up to an interesting theme on fishes. After drawing the design freehand on wood it took him 25 days, working six or seven hours a day to put in the tiles, but he thinks it should encourage would-be mosaic artists to spend a little time developing their own ideas.

Anyway, it beats working a jigsaw puzzle, he says, and you have something creative when you get through with it.

INSURANCE COUNSELORS Clifford S. Lund and Associates are now properly installed in their new offices at 1418 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, with three times as much space as they had at 912 Grand Avenue.

They took an old residence and remodeled it into business quarters. Public accountant Harry Ketjen also has his office in the building.

Besides Lund, the staff consists of Chris Jenkins, life agency supervisor, Bill Hatcher specializing in casualty and Eric Wilkinson and Robert R. Thomas who work both fields. Thomas is a recent addition to the office; was formerly with United Moving and Storage, Larkspur.

Lund and Jenkins are both past presidents of the Marin Life Underwriters Association.

SMALL MANUFACTURERS in Marin County interested in first-hand information on doing business with the Federal government may find it worth while to attend a procurement counseling conference tomorrow at the Clark Hotel in Stockton.

The conference is being sponsored by the Small Business Administration, the Department of Defense and the Stockton Chamber of Commerce, but outsiders are welcome. Last March, 347 prime government contracts valued at more than 15 million dolalrs went to small businesses in California.

Information will be provided on government buying methods, the SBA procurement program, steps necessary to get placed on bidders' lists and other details.

Further information on the conference can be secured at the Small Business Administration offices, 525 Market Street, San Francisco.

THIRD ANNUAL Pacific Coast Builders Conference and Exhibit will be held at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco June 6, 7 and 8.

Featured on the three-day program will be a clinic for small bidders, discussions dealing with investors and customers, selling and merchandising, rentals, mortgage financing and land development and planning, plus tours and entertainment events.

Field Service Needs Homes For Students

The American Field Service committee needs homes for foreign students who will attend San Rafael High School next fall.

The home selection committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Goff, to date has received only one completed application from a family willing to take an exchange student into its home.

There have been several other inquiries, Goff said, but no others have made application. The high school has had two exchange students this year. The committee doesn't know how many will be sent here next year, Goff said, but more applications from families are needed.

A selection committee in New York matches foreign students with compatible families, so a larger number of applications makes the job easier, Goff noted.

Thief Smashes Window At Baptist Seminary

A thief broke a $250 window at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary at Strawberry Point to steal about $2 worth of candy, a seminary official reported to sheriff's deputies Monday.

Paul E. Mason, business manager, said the burglar smashed a window 48 by 72 inches in the students' store near the candy counter. He said it would cost $250 to replace the window.

Mill Valley WSCS May Garden Tea To Feature Gowns

"May Garden Tea" is the theme of the tea and silent bazaar to be given by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mill Valley Methodist Church on Friday, May 19, at 2:30 p.m.

According to Mrs. Clyde Butterfield, president, those serving on her committee are Mesdames Curtis Klein, Dean Walton, Rudolph Dressler, Robert Best, Percy Bosanko and George Miller.

Wedding gowns ranging from the year 1895 to the present will be modeled by women of the church. In keeping with this theme and garden-like setting a "wedding cake" will be served in addition to other refreshments.

Circle members will be given an opportunity at this time to present their offerings saved up throughout the year that would have otherwise gone into the additional time, effort and expense of a fund-raising bazaar.

For entertainment there will be music by the Bellva-Dears, ladies' barbershop quartet from the Sweet Adelines' Chorus, consisting of Apna Brown, Sue Webb, Shirley Blair and Pat Crowell. They will present a program of old-time medleys.

Mrs. Dressler, refreshment committee chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames Ray Mefford, Bosanko, Henry Tieck and Herbert Kennedy.

400 Enroll For Ross Program

Four hundred youngsters residing in the Ross community enrolled for the Summer Activities Program last week, according to Mrs. Ross Turney, chairman of the planning group.

Some of the courses offered in the program still have openings, and registration may be made by telephoning Mrs. Edward J. Neumeier, director.

Students may still enroll for photography, which will be offered in the afternoons from June 26 to July 12 daily.

Girls who will be in the sixth grade next fall or other grades above the sixth may still enroll in cooking, which will be taught by Miss Virginia Shattuck of the PG&E staff in the afternoons for two weeks beginning July 10.

There are openings in typing, which is offered daily for five weeks in the morning. Dressmaking can accommodate a few girls.

Enrollments in tennis and swimming have been heavy, but the second session, July 13-28, has openings in all categories. Students may enroll in the second session of Junior Life-Saving, which is scheduled from July 17-28.

The four courses in nature study and art, music, stories, and dance are already full and a waiting list is being taken in case of drop-outs.

Power Of Women Shown By P-TA, North Marin Council Told

The power of women in a community was clearly demonstrated recently when more than 125 members and special guests gathered together for a luncheon and meeting at Rickey's Rancho Rafael to witness the installation ceremonies of the North Marin Parent-Teacher Association Council's newly elected officers, as well as to honor outgoing officers and chairmen.

Mrs. Malcolmn Finley, Fourteenth District president, and installing officer, commented on the growth of the North Marin Council, stated that the P-TA was founded by "a woman who looked around her, didn't like what she saw, and decided to do something about it." She pointed out that while many reforms concerning child welfare and education might have happened anyway, more happened because of the P-TA organization.

Taking over for outgoing president, Mrs. Charles Ridgeway is Mrs. George' Pelmear. Her executive board includes Mrs. Roy Kanoff, first vice president; W. J. J. Smith, second vice president; Mrs. James Sturken, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Haught, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Coniglio, treasurer; John Laycock, auditor; Mrs. James Studley, historian and Mrs. Robert Money, parliamentarian.

Newly-appointed chairmen, introduced by Mrs. Pelmear are: Mesdames Roy Kanoff, audio-visual education; John Coulter, character and spiritual life; Hugh Drown, child and public health; Walter Haught, civil defense; George Whitten, dental health; Ray Monson, Founders' Day; Robert Eby, home reading and library service; Charles Ridgeway, honorary life membership; Earl Marshall, hospitality; J. S. Wright, international relations; Tony Quintana, juvenile protection; Albert Budde, legislation; Patrick Owens, membership; Rex Rolle, mental health; Robert Kone, music; M. Feldstein, nutrition and school lunch; Ralph Graeber, parent-teacher information course; Robert Money, parent-teacher magazines; Louis Graxiola, publicity; W. J. Groves, recreation; Harold Marsh, room representatives; Arthur Olson, safety; William Dougherty, school education; Gene Williams, special education; Walter Panholzer, student welfare and Peter Ferrarese, well-baby clinic.

REDWOOD P-TA members working on plans for Saturday's dessert-fashion show admire one of the handsome new red robes to be worn in future by members of the Redwood Choir. Left to right, they are Mrs. Harding McPhun, fashion coordinator; Mrs. John Southmayd, a member of the decorations committee, and Mrs. Henry Skinner, general chairman. Appearing as model is DeAnn Hickman, Redwood senior, who will have a double role at the event. She will be one of the models in the fashion parade and also will appear in her usual role as choir accompanist. (Independent-Journal photos)

'Round-The-Clock' Marin Styles To Be Seen At Redwood Show

Delectable teen fashions for round-the-clock wear in Marin will be paraded at the dessert-fashion show, "Melody in Fashion," to be presented by the Redwood High School P-TA at 1 p.m. Saturday in the school gymnasium.

Twenty Redwood girls will model the newest costumes for active and spectator sports, daytime wear, going-to-the-city, and evening parties.

The dessert-fashion show will be the third event of its kind to be given by the Redwood P-TA, and is expected to be attended by a large crowd of students, P-TA members, and their guests. The audience will include many mother-daughter groups, since the party will take place the day before Mother's Day. Several grammar schools whose students go to Redwood are to be represented by large groups of eighth grade girls interested in seeing the fashion show, according to Mrs. Henry Skinner, general chairman.

"Please make your reservations at once," urges Mrs. Skinner. "If your party will include seven or more, you may reserve a table by contacting Mrs. Edward Detrick, 231 Poplar Drive, Kentfield. Individual tickets are available at the Redwood office and from area representatives."

Preparations for the event will go into high gear this week, with the models holding many rehearsals and the various committees making final plans. Colorful decorations are planned in keeping with the "Melody in Fashion" theme.

In addition to the fashion parade, the program will include several numbers by the Redwood Choir, composed of 50 Redwood boys and girls and directed by Arthur Wigell of the school music department. Proceeds of the event will go to the fund to provide robes for the choir, and samples of the new robes will be modeled.

Also appearing on the program will be the Crew Men, a trio of talented Redwood boys who sing folk songs in the style made popular by the Kingston Trio and other groups. Members of the Crew Men are Mike Spencer, Peter Allen, and Clay Wilson.

The program by the choir and trio will follow the serving of dessert, and the fashion parade will follow.

Parsonettes To Present Program

The Parsonettes from San Francisco Theological Seminary will present a program entitled "From Heart to Heart" at the meeting tomorrow of the San Anselmo Presbyterian Women's Guild.

The Parsonettes are wives of students at the seminary. Their program about Christian witness will provide a glimpse of what the delegates to the United Presbyterian Women's meeting in Purdue will see this June.

Those participating in the program will be Mesdames Jack Depone, Doug Baer, Lyle Baird, and Richard Gillespie. Mrs. John Zombo will provide the music, singing in her native tongue of Bulu. She will be accompanied by Mrs. LeRoy Smith.

World Service Chairman Mrs. William McGough announces that the annual summer offering for medical missions will be taken at this meeting. Luncheon will be served at noon before the program and business meeting by the Morning Circle under Mrs. Harold Joslin.

Pi Beta Phi Holds Founders' Luncheon

Marin County Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi celebrated its annual Founders' Day recently at a luncheon at Tiburon Tommy's. Pi Beta Phi was founded in 1867 and was the first sorority. Two years later, in 1869, the organization, known as I.C. sorosis, became a national one and received its present name.

The luncheon began with a scenic social hour on Tommy's deck overlooking the bay and the city. After a Polynesian lunch, the candle lighting ceremony in remembrance of the 12 founders was performed by the president, Mrs. Dan A. Anderson, the vice president, Mrs. Burton K. Bergstrom, and the incoming president, Mrs. Warren R. Perry. Mrs. Anderson read letters commemorating the day from the national alumnae organization and especially welcomed the two Golden Arrow members present, Mrs. Charles Schneider and Mrs. Eugene Robinson.

Those responsible for organizing the luncheon were Mesdames Marion Scott, Charles Stuart, Robin Hobart, G. von Kaesborg, John Buresh and D. B. Parrish.

An announcement was made of the installation of the 105th chapter of Pi Beta Phi at Mississippi Southern College, Hattiesburg, Miss. The new chapter, Mississippi Alpha, was installed the weekend of April 9 by Mrs. William H. Mansfield, national president of Pi Beta Phi; Mrs. Kent Morgan, national vice president, and Pi Beta Phi Lambda Province officers.

Present at the luncheon were Mesdames Anderson, Perry, Bergstrom, Stuart, Schneider, Robinson, Parrish, von Kaesborg, Hobart, and Mesdames R. E. Johnston, W. L. Berzman, M. B. Peterson, W. H. Tyler III, R. C. Morgan, J. P. Wilbee, D. H. Brokaw, Boyd Quinn, F. T. Fogarty, R. H. Northfield, William Hagens, John Herrmann, Calvin Friar, Richard Fagerstrom, Henry Cole, George Torney, and Daniel Milkalak.

The next meeting, a swimming-luncheon is to be held May 31 at the home of Mrs. Michael Hogan, 500 Lovell Ave., Mill Valley, when the new officers will be installed.

Election, Talk Slated For Club Meet Tomorrow

Election of officers and a talk by Dr. Shau Wing Chan, author, scholar and lecturer, on "The U. S. and Communist China," will be highlights of tomorrow's home-day meeting of the Outdoor Art Club.

President Mrs. Philip T. Smith has invited as honored guests presidents of the women's clubs in Marin that are members of the Golden Gate District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. Chan has been professor of Chinese studies in the department of Asiatic and Slavic studies, Stanford University, since 1938. He has taught in Chinese universities as well as the University of Utah and Pomona College.

He has served as consultant to the historical section of the Asia Foundation, Stanford Research Institute, and the International Secretariat, United Nations Conference in San Francisco, 1945. He was director of the China Research project at Stanford University during 1955-56 and is now executive head, department of Asian languages, at Stanford.

Third Grand Council Fire Set Friday For District I

When the traditional call of "Wohelo" rings through the Ruby Scott Auditorium of Tamalpais High School on Friday, May 12, at 8 p.m., it will mark the beginning of the third annual Grand Council Fire of the Camp Fire Girls' District I, and the culmination of the district's activities during the Golden Jubilee Year of Camp Fire.

As they respond to the summons of the Wohelo Call, led by Mrs. Doris Thurston, the girls will be echoing the response of girls all over the country since Camp Fire was founded 50 years ago by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick, for the Council Fire ceremony has been little changed as it has been handed down through generations of Camp Fire Girls.

After the girls have filed in procession into the hall, there to pledge their allegiance to the Flag and to reaffirm their Camp Fire Law, they will witness the lighting of the Fire, symbolizing Work, Health and Love, by three members of Mrs. Helen Jackson's Camp Fire Group of Marin City—Terrie Harris, Gwendolyn Jackson and Deborah Turner.

Each group has constructed a seven-foot tepee bearing its group name and group symbols, in keeping with the Indian-lore tradition of Camp Fire. When the groups have taken their places in front of the tepees, and have answered to the roll call, the girls will join in singing "The Call of the Fire," and will be greeted by Mrs. J. W. Culmer, leader's chairman. This will be followed by a talk on camping by Mrs. Paul Talbot of San Anselmo.

Blue Birds who are not otherwise participating in the Council Fire, but who will make up a special part of the audience, will recite the Blue Bird Wish. Following this, Mrs. Edward Zeller, president of the Marin County Council of Camp Fire Girls, will give recognition to those girls who have completed Camp Fire ranks during the year. Mrs. Dennis Molloy, Field Director for District I, will present other special awards, including those to girls selling substantial numbers of mints in the recept Mint Sale.

The Wohelo Fire will be extinguished by Lovertta Elders, Geraldine Grayson and Linda Hendricks, also of Mrs. Jackson's group, and the Council Fire will be concluded as all the girls join in singing "Now Our Camp Fire Fadeth."

The Grand Council Fire Committee consists of Mrs. Harold Bright, chairman; Mrs. K. W. Robin and Mrs. William Pemberton.

Alice To Greet Guild Guests At Style Show

Alice, the Hatter, the March Hare and all the Wonderland creatures will be on hand to greet the guests of St. Hilary's Women's Guild at a toddler-to-teen fashion show on Saturday, May 20. Brunch will be served at 11 a.m. and the affair will be held at the Southern Marin Recreation Center.

Models will enter "Through the Looking Glass." Parish children have been asked to model as well as participate in skits in keeping with the Alice in Wonderland theme.

General chairman Mrs. Paul Allsman has appointed the following committee chairmen: Mesdames Raymond Lynch, tickets; L. R. Peterson, reservations; Thomas O. Foudy, refreshments; Frank Buscher, decorations; Ed Gratonik, posters; Henry Schubart, music; Kelly Wheeler, fashion coordinator; Stuart Pritchett, assistant coordinator and Robert Nadolski, waitresses. George Canby is in charge of properties.

Dance Club Has Farewell Dinner Party

"From Alaska to San Diego" was the theme of the recent farewell party for two member couples of the Hardly Able Folk Dance Club. Honored at the San Rafael home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kane were Mr. and Mrs. David Kendall of San Anselmo, who are leaving for a year in Alaska, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunstan of Belvedere-Tiburon, who are moving to San Diego.

Club members came dressed as gold miners, pioneers, dance hall girls and gamblers. Cocktails were served by a replica of the San Diego zoo. Barbecued "grizzly bear" steaks and a potluck dinner were served. Entertainment included the showing of color motion pictures of Alaska and group singing.

At a short business meeting after dinner James Smith, club president, named Roy Drescher and Mesdames Albert Heinrich and Alfred Everson as a committee to nominate officers for the coming year. Mr. Smith appointed on the committee for outdoor decorations for the California Folk Dance Festival in Marin in July Messrs. and Mesdames Scott Tilden, Leslie L. Hennessey, A. R. Lubersky, Everson, Drescher and Kane.

Johnson-Hayes Rites Held In Sausalito

Betty Jo Hayes and Richard Vernon Johnson Jr., both of Mill Valley, were married Saturday, May 6, in 6:30 p.m. rites at the First Baptist Church in Sausalito.

Rev. B. C. Woodle officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who has been living in Mill Valley with her grandmother, Mrs. Tempi Seymore, was given in marriage by her father, Odell Hayes of Bakersfield.

For the ceremony, attended by some 70 guests, the altar was decorated with spring flowers.

Betty Jo recited her vows wearing a ballerina length gown with white lace bodice having a square neckline and short sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil was held by a crown of sequins, and she wore full length white gloves and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Timothy Powell of San Jose, who was attired in a pink dress and carried pink carnations. Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vernon Johnson of Mill Valley, was Welton C. Logan of Moffat Field, and ushers were Craig Counselman of the U. S. Coast Guard, and Jerry Brock of Strawberry.

Both the bride's grandmother and mother wore lavender ensembles and white hats, and the mother of the bridegroom was attired in a blue lace dress and blue hat. Each had a corsage of white carnations.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Gertie Hayes of Fresno; an aunt, Mrs. Willie Rightnour of Madera, and an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayes of Pleasanton, Calif.

The reception was held in the community hall of the church. The wedding cake was decorated on top with miniature bride and bridegroom and flanked with arrangements of white flowers and candelabra containing white candles.

The bride, who is a senior at Tamalpais High School, will continue living with her grandmother until after graduation, when she plans to join her husband, who is stationed with the U. S. Navy at Moffat Field.

The bridegroom attended Tamalpais High School before he entered service with the U. S. Navy.

Will Styles Of The 20's Roar Back?

"This is our ideal," gushed a woman's magazine in the Twenties. "Gone are the busts, the hips, the curves of yesteryear. Woman's figure is the exclamation point of the world!"

Today, as if the women didn't have enough to ponder about with culottes, the Jackie look and liquid diets, along comes the Paris haute couture in a flap about the flapper.

It's going to be the Roaring Twenties all over again, whoop some extroverts, gleefully eyeing the flat-bosomed, low-waisted, flared-hem silhouette dominating the Paris collections.

But cooler—if unshingled—heads are bound to prevail. Most experts agree fashion is geared to go only forward. It can be seized with nostalgia, influenced by the past, inspired by a recollection (in Paris' case, by a movie on the Twenties), but what emerges is a new silhouette designed for the contemporary woman.

If we women are going to be flappers, we'll be new, 1961 kind of flappers, not the Twenties version the same magazine described thusly:

"... Eyebrows plucked to a thread, hair skinned severely back—smooth, straight and shiny—face hard and brilliant as a poster—a portrait of fashion today. Only three decades from the Age of Innocence to This Freedom!

We're now more than three decades from That Freedom. And you can bet your old tin lizzy that the movies of the Twenties — modes and manners—still are going to look pretty funny to us on television, flapper revival or no flapper revival.

Crown Of Daisies

London fashion writers came away from the recent spring fashion shows wondering whether some of the hats were more for talking about than wearing. One hat was a crown of daisies with straw cascading from the roots to cover face, head and neck.

Methodist Society Luncheon To Have Polynesian Theme

Mrs. Frank Wesel is general chairman of the annual spring luncheon presented by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the San Rafael Methodist Church. The time and date set for the affair is noon on May 17, in Turley Hall.

A Polynesian theme will be carried out in the decorations. The program will be presented by the Nani Iolani Polynesian Dance Group from the Southern Marin Recreation Center. They will present ancient Hawaiian implement and Tahitian dancing. The dancers are Mesdames George Berticezich, Gerald Frellson, John Del Mar, Melvin Gautier, and Harold Green.

Other chairmen of this event are Mrs. Clayton Nelson, menu; Mrs. Wesley Howland, decorations; and Mrs. William Lehmann, tickets. Guests are cordially invited and ticktes may be secured from Mrs. Lehmann.

Arranger Symposium Set June 6 At Center

A professional flower arrangers' symposium will be sponsored by the Decorations Guild at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross June 6.

"Prelude to Summer" will present well known Bay Area arrangers and flower show judges demonstrating two arrangements each on the outdoor Northgate stage starting at 2 p.m.

The following arrangers will appear:

Mesdames Everett Brown, member of the Green Valley Country Club, Vallejo; Evelyn Clark of Berkeley; Bernardine Henderson, Oakland; Victor Guilder, former president of the Guild, San Anselmo; and Mrs. Tuckey.

Mrs. Brown is an instructor in flower show schools for the National Council of State Garden Clubs, she is instructor for color and flower arrangement in the Vallejo public schools and teaches privately at the Travis Air Force Base, Fairfield. She was the California representative in Newark, New York last year for the annual Jackson-Perkins Rose Festival. She lived many years in Hawaii and the Orient and has collected many Oriental art treasures. She is working for her Masters degree from the Ohara school in Tokyo. Her talents include mastery of period arrangements as well as modern. Mrs. Brown is former state chairman for shows given by members for California Garden Clubs.

General chairman of the event is Mrs. A. F. Reznicek, Kentfield with Mrs. C. J Bergstrom of Fairfax, acting as assistant

Tickets for the symposium and refreshments may be obtained at the Marin Art and Garden Center office.

Auxiliary 313 Juinors Package Cards For Institute

For their project of remembering hospitalized children at the Sonoma State Hospital, junior members collected 57 Golden Books of children's favorite stories and scrap books.

Juniors were also commended by the Volunteer Service department of Sonoma State Hospital by letter in April for their project of supply individually wrapped tooth brushes for that facility.

A Bible institute in Kyungju, Korea, will soon be receiving several hundred used Christmas cards packaged by junior members of Twin Cities Unit 313 at their recent meeting.

The institute's letter of appreciation telling juniors how Korean students use the cards to print Bible verses in Korean and sent to their friends was read

Friends Of Arequipa Model Fashion Firsts For Summer

"Fashion Firsts for Summer" were pleasingly pretty, cleverly classic, and simply smart as shown by a San Rafael shop at a recent Wednesday Informally Yours fashion luncheon at Bob's of Marin when the Friends of Arequipa sponsored the benefit affair to aid their financial grant fund.

Mrs. William Blair was chairman of the luncheon with fashions co-ordinated by Sara Campbell and modeled by 11 Friends of Arequipa, whose members donate many hours of service at Lucas Valley Hospital and the tuberculosis terrace of Ross Hospital.

First in the parade of fashions at the luncheon benefit was Mrs. Edwin Christie. Elaine elegant modeling a bright blue linen sheath, the white bodice trimmed in blue.

Next in the style parade, Mrs. Walter Moreno. Roberta radiant in orange and beige. The two piece outfit has a beige skirt, orange top and sleeveless short jacket.

The following model was Mrs. James Conley. Dorothy distinctive showing a sun dress of pink and white checks, the full skirt with a half over skirt of white lace and the hemline in huge scallops.

Stepping from the viewing stand in white kid pumps with rose-bud detail loaned from a San Rafael shoe shop, Mrs. Roderick Stevenson. Janet jaunty wearing a cocktail frock of white embroidered silk organza with an extremely full skirt.

Promenading among the members and guests of the Friends of Arequipa Mrs. Ross Pignaz. Ruth resplendent garbed in a black lace sheath dinner dress with long sleeves and a square neckline.

Pausing at a table to show her gown, was Mrs. Richard Basco. Margie modish modeling a chalk white silk sheath trimmed in emerald iridescent sequins and matching sweater bound in emerald with sequin applique.

Answering questions regarding her ensemble, Mrs. Charles Rosenbaum Jr. Lita lovely as the "mother of the bride" in a blue lace and silk sheath. Her large brimmed straw hat was trimmed in the same soft blue and red, red roses carried in a spray accented the garden wedding ensemble.

The Marin chapter of Hadassah will be welcomed on Wednesday, May 17 for a fashion luncheon benefit at Bob's of Marin.

Reservations for the May 17 luncheon and fashion show may be made with chairmen Mrs. Dan Jackson or Mrs. Louis Roth and by calling Bob's of Marin.

Marin Women

Fashion Focus To Honor Women Of B'nai B'rith

"Daisies Do Tell," fashionably speaking, on Tuesday at Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon when B'nai Brith Women of Marin weave a daisy chain of delightful summer fashions from an equally delightful San Anselmo fashion shop, the newest women's specialty shop in Marin.

In fact, daisies do tell a great deal on Tuesday, especially when the daisy dots the "I" in the name of this recently-opened Marin venture that greets new faces from a San Anselmo home charmingly converted into a dress shop with daisy decor and a daisy color scheme.

On Tuesday, eight attractive members of B'nai Brith women will be proving that daisies tell summer secrets as well—such as who is wearing the trim Jack Winter pants, the new Petti swimwear, or the Ann Fogarty cotton, all fashion names at the sign of the San Anselmo daisy.

Sharing fashion honors with Marin's newest smart shop will be a new San Rafael hair salon, creating fresh, feminine summer coiffures for the B'nai Brith models.

Like one long daisy chain, B'nai Brith has stretched to all corners of the world—to the children's home near Jerusalem for war terrorized children to the National Jewish Home in Denver for asthmatic children, as well as vocation services, youth activities and good works abroad and at home in Marin.

"Daisies Do Tell" fashionably on Tuesday at 12:30 with the luncheon planned for public enjoyment and reservations made by calling Rickeys.

The 13-year-old won the Bay Area San Francisco News-Call Bulletin Spelling Bee. She will receive a week's tour while in the capital. She has received a set of encyclopedias for herself and free use of the Encyclopedia Company's educational films for one year for her school, according to Principal Dominic Bobbio.

The sales staff is entirely volunteer, each Guild and Auxiliary member devoting one day a month as a sales person.

On May 26, The Bargain Box celebrates its 10th anniversary, to be held on the Grape Festival Grounds at 2:30 p.m. The price of admission will be a piece of bric-a-brac, to be priced and sold that same day. All receipts will go to the support of the Sunny Hills Home.

Good Housekeeping Guarantees*
New Stepped-Up Detergent for Automatic Dishwashers
America's leading chemical laboratory for automatic dishwasher products has made a remarkable discovery. Here, scientists have found a combination of two costly chemicals that work together as "perfect partners" to end spotting and filming of glasses.
FINISH, the only dishwasher detergent containing this new combination of chemicals, was submitted to Good Housekeeping. It was checked every which way, from chemical analysis to performance under the combat conditions of Good Housekeeping Institute's home service center. Thus, Good Housekeeping satisfied itself that stepped-up FINISH is a quality product living up to its claims and proudly granted it the Good Housekeeping Seal.
This same stepped-up FINISH is now available in stores everywhere. There is no increase in price. Try it. You'll agree, you've never seen glasses so clean before.
You've never seen glasses SO CLEAN before!

When May's Fine Weather Arrives, The Hookey Season Is Here Again

These are lovely May days. Soft breezes blow. The sky is blue. Flowers are bursting into bloom.

In other words, folks, this is hookey season.

Did you ever play hookey from school, on a nice day in May? Don't answer that! Instead think back to your own childhood. I've been making the rounds with one of my friends, a hookey cop. He goes after the kids who prefer swimming to studying at this time of year.

We crawled under a fence, and through a hedge. We came out beside a well-known juvenile watering place. Five naked boys gasped when they saw us. Five naked boys departed hastily, in five different directions. They vanished like magic.

We did not chase them. We knew they'd come back. You can't go far without clothes, can you?

One by one they returned. They gave fake names. That's part of the game. A look at their billfolds cleared that up. Then they said they were from a private school. It was a special holiday, they claimed, and they were excused from classes. We asked the name of the new principal at the private school. They looked blank. Then they confessed.

They seemed glad to be telling the truth at last. We delivered them to their real principal. He punished them. We phoned their parents. They promised some spankings. Those boys will not play hookey again this spring.

But next year? Who can tell? May days will be lovely. Once again they may prefer swimming to studying.

(Q) My son has nightmares. They started when our baby girl was born. Can jealousy cause nightmares?

K. N.

(A) Yes. Any strain can cause nightmares. Try to reassure your boy in every way possible. Spend time regularly with him alone. Let him see that you love him dearly. Have your husband do the same. Then the nightmares may stop.

Larkspur Man Gets 1 To 5 For Car Theft

A former Larkspur restaurant operator, suspected of bigamy, was sentenced to a prison term of one to five years for car theft, in Marin Superior Court Monday.

George Francis Gay Jr., 28, who ran a restaurant at 1125 Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur until last year, was convicted of stealing his second wife's car last October.

Gay has a prior record, including a grand larceny conviction in Florida in 1952.

Because of the prison sentence for car theft, a bigamy charge pending against Gay was dismissed yesterday on recommendation of the district attorney.

Gay has a wife in Portland, Maine, according to Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales. While this marriage was still in effect, he married Alice Florence Shepherd of Larkspur last July. Last October, she complained to police that Gay had disappeared with her 1952 car.

Marinwood Sewers Getting Cleaned

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District has started cleaning of sewers in the Marinwood area but water service is not expected to be materially affected in spite of precautionary notice, the district office announced.

About one-quarter of the district lines are cleaned annually by a Los Angeles firm under contract. A rubber ball attached to a cable is forced through the pipe by a weight of water behind it and accumulated debris is thus removed.

District officials said about 20,000 feet of district sewers were cleaned in the Santa Venetia area within the last 10 days without apparent inconvenience to water users.

Mumps, Measles Lead Marin Disease List

Mumps and measles continued to lead the list of communicable diseases reported this week by the Marin County Health Department, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer.

There were 19 cases of mumps and 18 of measles reported. There were also nine cases of strep infections, four of syphilis and one of tuberculosis reported.

'Working-Over' For Proposed Tiburon City

The proposed city of Tiburon received a thorough working-over at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula chamber of commerce. No action was taken by the 18 members present "until it can be discussed further."

William H. Rafter presented the pro-incorporation view, concluding with, "It's a long way from here to San Rafael and we are all sick and tired of it . . . we want local control."

Speaking against incorporation was Robert A. Sterling, who prophesied a "fumbling, broken-down wreck of a city council if the two special districts were eliminated and the city administered them."

Declared Sterling:

"We will lose 10 volunteer commissioners whose yearly salaries are $1,800 and will have to replace them with $29,000 worth of paid help."

Retorted Benton J. Bostick:

"We can't assume that the city council members will be imbeciles . . . We have a high I.Q in this area." Rafter agreed with him.

There was much discussion on the eastern peninsula's population and assessed evaluation vs. the western end, with chamber President William S. Johnstone saying: "The proposed incorporated area presents a socio-economic inequity . . . the eastern end is like Belvedere in its marine living and the western end has always been considered closer to Mill Valley."

Fred F. Zelinsky, owner of large Tiburon business district properties, said:

"I have had two meetings with downtown property owners pleading for me to join with them annexing our property into Belvedere to defeat incorporation and its taking over of our revenue." He declined to reveal any names and added, "I am not anxious to defeat the incorporation proposal."

This statement prompted county planning commissioner Felix M. Warburg to add, "There are a good many people in Belvedere who would relish the opportunity to reduce their taxes by annexing the (Tiburon) business district."

The chamber also dropped its proposed "censorship" of Fred Mantegani for his circulation of a petition protesting the opening of a liquor store in Tiburon.

Members were informed that the Elephant Rock memorial fishing platform fund was still $1,000 shy of its goal.

Highway 101 Re-Routing Topic Of KTIM Program

Re-routing of Highway 101 through Novato will be discussed on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Participating in the discussion will be Novato Mayor Wayne Womack; William Kirk, a resident of Rudnick Highlands, a residential area through which the re-routing might pass, and Peter Ferrarese and Dr. Daniel Augney, co-chairmen of the Novato Chamber of Commerce highway committee.

Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer will direct questions telephoned by listeners to the panelists. The program will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Drunken Driver Given Five Days

Milton D. Martin, 21, of the 1850th Airways and Air Communication Service, Hamilton Air Force Base, must spend five days in jail and pay $263 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Martin yesterday for driving while intoxicated along the Highway 101 service road at Ignacio on April 14. Martin had a prior conviction last December.

Kelsey Loyd Webb, 39, of Fairfield drew a $210 fine and six months probation for his first drunken driving offense. Webb was caught on Highway 101 on April 30.

TEMPLE FACES INUNDATION

This temple to Isis at Philae, south of Aswan, is involved in President Kennedy's proposal for U. S. contribution to preserve ancient temples and monuments on the upper Nile. They face inundation by the Aswan Dam now under construction.

Sea Water Conversion System Is Explained

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A new idea in the scientific hunt for economic conversion of sea water into fresh water was described yesterday by two General Electric engineers.

They said this "thin film distillation process" shows dramatic advances over previous processes in heat transfer efficiency.

They said the new system also provides a simple, positive means for controlling scale formation—a major obstacle in sea water distillation.

Richard K. Fairley of Schenectady, N.Y., manager of engineering applications, said first testing of the process outside G.E. laboratories will start in July at Annapolis under a $45,000 Navy contract.

The Navy research contract is aimed at developing improved sea water converters for submarines and surface ships. The single tube test unit for the Navy will produce 1,200 gallons of fresh water daily.

Ralph E. Anderson of Burlington, Vt., where a pilot distillation plant is being developed, said G.E. has proposed a 37,000 gallons a day pilot plant for testing by the Department of Interior's Office of Saline Water.

The process idea is this:

A thin film of sea water about one-thousandth of an inch thick—is laid on the walls of the evaporating cylinder by wiper blades rotating about 200 revolutions a minute.

The film evaporates as it is heated by condensing steam on the outer fluted surfaces of the evaporating cylinder.

The film evaporates quickly, without boiling or bubbling. This minimizes carryover of salt particles into the vapor. The product vapor is condensed into high purity water.

Downwash of brine and wiper action in the evaporation tube prevents scaling.

Fairley predicted commercial production of water converting plants within the next 10 years.

Bilking Suspects Held Over For Superior Court

Two men, accused of trying to bilk two elderly sisters in San Anselmo of $800, were held to answer in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court bound the two men over to the higher court. Vernon G. Lawson, 24, and J. B. Moody, 35, both of Sacramento, will appear in superior court Monday for attempted grand theft.

Asst. Police Chief Sam N. Serio of San Anselmo said the two men are suspected of getting an $800 check from Emma F. and Josefa Daniel, 81 and 86 years old, of 101 Ross Avenue for home repairs during the last five years. Serio said there is no evidence that the work was done on the house.

The bail, previously set at $2,625 each, was lowered to $1,050 each.

Many Districts 'Over Top' For Concert Series

Many districts have gone "over the top" in the current Marin Music Chest summer concert series subscription drive, according to Mrs. Samuel Archibald, Music Chest president.

Areas that have exceeded last year's quota, and their chairmen, include: Belvedere, Mrs. Arline Guilfoyle; Del Mesa, Mrs. Patricia Oyster; Greenbrae, Mrs. Daniel Polak; Kent Woodlands, Mrs. John Wolfe; Sleepy Hollow, Mrs. Stephen Pinson; College Park, Mrs. Richard Casey; Hilldale, Mrs. Howard Ellis; Homestead, Mrs. Kurt Schlesinger. San Rafael districts and chairmen include Southern Heights, Mrs. Anna Dooley; Bret Harte, Mrs. Robt. Houston; San Pablo Road, Mrs. Earl Barnt.

Solicitation in districts closes next Monday. However, Music Chest headquarters at Hoy's, 1133 Fourth Street, will remain open until the end of the month.

Youth's Liquor Supply Probed

The Marin district attorney's office is investigating allegations by an 18-year-old Petaluma youth that his San Rafael boss provided him with whiskey and beer on the job last Friday.

The drinks led to the arrest of Norman Orin Cable, who works for a fence company in San Rafael. Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court fined Cable $158 and suspended the youth's driving privilege for 90 days for drunken driving. Cable was caught as he drove north on Highway 101 after work Friday.

Judge Wilson asked Deputy Atty. P. Roy Vallarino to investigate Cable's allegations against his boss.

"It's a complicated case," said Vallarino. "The youth says he was provided liquor by his employer, and the employer says the youth caused a disturbance and wants to file a complaint against him. We are looking into the matter."

Stinson Wild Flower Show Over Weekend

There were 1,013 visitors to the Stinson Beach wild flower show Saturday and Sunday at Stinson Beach.

The show, the fourth annual, had more than 500 varieties of flowers displayed. Proceeds of $705 will go toward completion of the Stinson Beach Community Chapel, according to Mrs. Edward E. Leary.

Fire Season Restrictions

The fire season and restrictions on open burning begin Monday in the Novato Fire District.

Under fire season regulations all fires must be out by noon each day and fire permits are required for barbecue pits.

Incinerators should have a clear area of bare earth for at least 10 feet in diameter around them and should have no holes larger than a quarter inch, Fire Chief George Cavallero noted. A faucet and 50 feet of hose should be close by incinerator fires and an adult should be in attendance at all types of controlled burning.

PT&T Planning Dial Equipment At New Building

Installation of dial switching equipment has started at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s new building in Professional Center Parkway in north San Rafael.

J. J. Nichols, Marin telephone manager, said the company expects the equipment will be ready to go into service in October.

The one-story, 125-by-73-foot structure, and the equipment it will house, represents a $1,100,000 investment, Nichols said. It will provide additional service and extra phone numbers to serve the growing north San Rafael area, he said.

Facilities for direct distance dialing will be housed in the new office. Customers with the phone number prefix GReenfield 9 will be served from the building.

Mill Valley WSCS May Garden Tea To Feature Gowns

"May Garden Tea" is the theme of the tea and silent bazaar to be given by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mill Valley Methodist Church on Friday, May 19, at 2:30 p.m.

According to Mrs. Clyde Butterfield, president, those serving on her committee are Mesdames Curtis Klein, Dean Walton, Rudolph Dressler, Robert Best, Percy Bosanko and George Miller.

Wedding gowns ranging from the year 1895 to the present will be modeled by women of the church. In keeping with this theme and garden-like setting a "wedding cake" will be served in addition to other refreshments.

Circle members will be given an opportunity at this time to present their offerings saved up throughout the year that would have otherwise gone into the additional time, effort and expense of a fund-raising bazaar.

For entertainment there will be music by the Bellva-Dears, ladies' barbershop quartet from the Sweet Adelines' Chorus, consisting of Anna Brown, Sue Webb, Shirley Blair and Pat Crowell. They will present a program of old-time medleys.

Mrs. Dressler, refreshment committee chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames Ray Mefford, Bosanko, Henry Tieck and Herbert Kennedy.

400 Enroll For Ross Program

Four hundred youngsters residing in the Ross community enrolled for the Summer Activities Program last week, according to Mrs. Ross Turney, chairman of the planning group.

Some of the courses offered in the program still have openings, and registration may be made by telephoning Mrs. Edward J. Neumeier, director.

Students may still enroll for photography, which will be offered in the afternoons from June 26 to July 12 daily.

Girls who will be in the sixth grade next fall or other grades above the sixth may still enroll in cooking, which will be taught by Miss Virginia Shattuck of the PG&E staff in the afternoons for two weeks beginning July 10.

There are openings in typing, which is offered daily for five weeks in the morning. Dressmaking can accommodate a few girls.

Enrollments in tennis and swimming have been heavy, but the second session, July 13-28, has openings in all categories. Students may enroll in the second session of Junior Life-Saving, which is scheduled from July 17-28.

The four courses in nature study and art, music, stories, and dance are already full and a waiting list is being taken in case of drop-outs.

MODELING TWO of the wedding gowns to be shown at the May 19 "May Garden Tea" and silent bazaar are two members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mill Valley Methodist Church, which is sponsoring the event. Left, Mrs. Belman Maddox is wearing a handmade wedding gown of 1895 and Mrs. Horton Hinshaw models her own in a style of the 1950's. (Independent-Journal photo)

Power Of Women Shown By P-TA, North Marin Council Told

The power of women in a community was clearly demonstrated recently when more than 125 members and special guests gathered together for a luncheon and meeting at Rickey's Rancho Rafael to witness the installation ceremonies of the North Marin Parent-Teacher Association Council's newly elected officers, as well as to honor outgoing officers and chairmen.

Mrs. Malcolmn Finley, Fourteenth District president, and installing officer, commented on the growth of the North Marin Council, stated that the P-TA was founded by "a woman who looked around her, didn't like what she saw, and decided to do something about it." She pointed out that while many reforms concerning child welfare and education might have happened anyway, more happened because of the P-TA organization.

Taking over for outgoing president, Mrs. Charles Ridgeway is Mrs. George' Pelmear. Her executive board includes Mrs. Roy Kanoff, first vice president; W. J. J. Smith, second vice president; Mrs. James Sturken, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Haught, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Coniglio, treasurer; John Laycock, auditor; Mrs. James Studley, historian and Mrs. Robert Money, parliamentarian.

Newly-appointed chairmen, introduced by Mrs. Pelmear are: Mesdames Roy Kanoff, audio-visual education; John Coulter, character and spiritual life; Hugh Drown, child and public health; Walter Haught, civil defense; George Whitten, dental health; Ray Monson, Founders' Day; Robert Eby, home reading and library service; Charles Ridgeway, honorary life membership; Earl Marshall, hospitality; J. S. Wright, international relations; Tony Quintana, juvenile protection; Albert Budde, legislation; Patrick Owens, membership; Rex Rolle, mental health; Robert Kone, music; M. Feldstein, nutrition and school lunch; Ralph Graeber, parent-teacher information course; Robert Money, parent-teacher magazines; Louis Graxiola, publicity; W. J. Groves, recreation; Harold Marsh, room representatives; Arthur Olson, safety; William Dougherty, school education; Gene Williams, special education; Walter Panholzer, student welfare and Peter Ferrarese, well-baby clinic.

Special guests present were trustees of the Novato Unified School District; Dr. Virgil Hollis, Marin County superintendent of schools; members of the Novato Unified School District.

Johnson-Hayes Rites Held In Sausalito

Betty Jo Hayes and Richard Vernon Johnson Jr., both of Mill Valley, were married Saturday, May 6, in 6:30 p.m. rites at the First Baptist Church in Sausalito.

Rev. B. C. Woodle officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who has been living in Mill Valley with her grandmother, Mrs. Tempi Seymore, was given in marriage by her father, Odell Hayes of Bakersfield.

For the ceremony, attended by some 70 guests, the altar was decorated with spring flowers.

Betty Jo recited her vows wearing a ballerina length gown with white lace bodice having a square neckline and short sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil was held by a crown of sequins, and she wore full length white gloves and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Timothy Powell of San Jose, who was attired in a pink dress and carried pink carnations. Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vernon Johnson of Mill Valley, was Welton C. Logan of Moffat Field, and ushers were Craig Counselman of the U. S. Coast Guard, and Jerry Brock of Strawberry.

Both the bride's grandmother and mother wore lavender ensembles and white hats, and the mother of the bridegroom was attired in a blue lace dress and blue hat. Each had a corsage of white carnations.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Gertie Hayes of Fresno; an aunt, Mrs. Willie Rightnour of Madera, and an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayes of Pleasanton, Calif.

The reception was held in the community hall of the church. The wedding cake was decorated on top with miniature bride and bridegroom and flanked with arrangements of white flowers and candelabra containing white candles.

The bride, who is a senior at Tamalpais High School, will continue living with her grandmother until after graduation, when she plans to join her husband, who is stationed with the U. S. Navy at Moffat Field.

The bridegroom attended Tamalpais High School before he entered service with the U. S. Navy.

Will Styles Of The 20's Roar Back?

"This is our ideal," gushed a woman's magazine in the Twenties. "Gone are the busts, the hips, the curves of yesteryear. Woman's figure is the exclamation point of the world!"

Today, as if the women didn't have enough to ponder about with culottes, the Jackie look and liquid diets, along comes the Paris haute couture in a flap about the flapper.

It's going to be the Roaring Twenties all over again, whoop some extroverts, gleefully eyeing the flat-bosomed, low-waisted, flared-hem silhouette dominating the Paris collections.

But cooler—if unshingled—heads are bound to prevail. Most experts agree fashion is geared to go only forward. It can be seized with nostalgia, influenced by the past, inspired by a recollection (in Paris' case, by a movie on the Twenties), but what emerges is a new silhouette designed for the contemporary woman.

If we women are going to be flappers, we'll be new, 1961 kind of flappers, not the Twenties version the same magazine described thusly:

"... Eyebrows plucked to a thread, hair skinned severely back—smooth, straight and shiny—face hard and brilliant as a poster—a portrait of fashion today. Only three decades from the Age of Innocence to This Freedom!

We're now more than three decades from That Freedom. And you can bet your old tin lizzy that the movies of the Twenties — modes and manners—still are going to look pretty funny to us on television, flapper revival or no flapper revival.

Crown Of Daisies

London fashion writers came away from the recent spring fashion shows wondering whether some of the hats were more for talking about than wearing. One hat was a crown of daisies with straw cascading from the roots to cover face, head and neck.

Methodist Society Luncheon To Have Polynesian Theme

Mrs. Frank Wesel is general chairman of the annual spring luncheon presented by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the San Rafael Methodist Church. The time and date set for the affair is noon on May 17, in Turley Hall.

A Polynesian theme will be carried out in the decorations. The program will be presented by the Nani Iolani Polynesian Dance Group from the Southern Marin Recreation Center. They will present ancient Hawaiian implement and Tahitian dancing. The dancers are Mesdames George Berticezich, Gerald Frellson, John Del Mar, Melvin Gautier, and Harold Green.

Other chairmen of this event are Mrs. Clayton Nelson, menu; Mrs. Wesley Howland, decorations; and Mrs. William Lehmann, tickets. Guests are cordially invited and ticktes may be secured from Mrs. Lehmann.

Arranger Symposium Set June 6 At Center

A professional flower arrangers' symposium will be sponsored by the Decorations Guild at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross June 6.

"Prelude to Summer" will present well known Bay Area arrangers and flower show judges demonstrating two arrangements each on the outdoor Northgate stage starting at 2 p.m.

Each artist, according to Mrs. Robert L. Tuckey, president of the Guild, will interpret her own distinctive style in floral decoration from the Oriental to the Provincial motif.

The following arrangers will appear:

Mesdames Everett Brown, member of the Green Valley Country Club, Vallejo; Evelyn Clark of Berkeley; Bernardine Henderson, Oakland; Victor Guilder, former president of the Guild, San Anselmo; and Mrs. Tuckey.

Mrs. Brown is an instructor in flower show schools for the National Council of State Garden Clubs, she is instructor for color and flower arrangement in the Vallejo public schools and teaches privately at the Travis Air Force Base, Fairfield. She was the California representative in Newark, New York last year for the annual Jackson-Perkins Rose Festival. She lived many years in Hawaii and the Orient and has collected many Oriental art treasures. She is working for her Masters degree from the Ohara school in Tokyo. Her talents include mastery of period arrangements as well as modern. Mrs. Brown is former state chairman for shows given by members for California Garden Clubs.

General chairman of the event is Mrs. A. F. Reznicek, Kentfield with Mrs. C. J Bergstrom of Fairfax, acting as assistant

Tickets for the symposium and refreshments may be obtained at the Marin Art and Garden Center office.

The girls are Maren Anderson, Debbie Day, Lynne Eltringham, Jenny Fairfax, Janet Guastavino, Cathy Hall, Emily Hansen, Barbara Norton, Colleen O'Hara, Cynthia Smith, Wendy Smolak, and Mary Thomson.

Dear Cy and Nan,
We have just about completed the 2 bedrooms, 2 bath home that perches on that secluded tree-studded lot. The plank floors and used brick make the outside oak by the deck, part of the home. A compact stainless steel electric kitchen only adds to the enjoyment of the whole picture. We tried to develop something different and unusual and still keep the price below a tract home. This home can easily be finished into a 4 bedroom, 3 bath. We are asking $24,950.

When May's Fine Weather Arrives, The Hookey Season Is Here Again

These are lovely May days. Soft breezes blow. The sky is blue. Flowers are bursting into bloom.

In other words, folks, this is hookey season.

Did you ever play hookey from school, on a nice day in May? Don't answer that! Instead think back to your own childhood. I've been making the rounds with one of my friends, a hookey cop. He goes after the kids who prefer swimming to studying at this time of year.

We crawled under a fence, and through a hedge. We came out beside a well-known juvenile watering place. Five naked boys gasped when they saw us. Five naked boys departed hastily, in five different directions. They vanished like magic.

We did not chase them. We knew they'd come back. You can't go far without clothes, can you?

One by one they returned. They gave fake names. That's part of the game. A look at their billfolds cleared that up. Then they said they were from a private school. It was a special holiday, they claimed, and they were excused from classes. We asked the name of the new principal at the private school. They looked blank. Then they confessed.

They seemed glad to be telling the truth at last. We delivered them to their real principal. He punished them. We phoned their parents. They promised some spankings. Those boys will not play hookey again this spring.

But next year? Who can tell? May days will be lovely. Once again they may prefer swimming to studying.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) My son has nightmares. They started when our baby girl was born. Can jealousy cause nightmares?

K. N.

(A) Yes. Any strain can cause nightmares. Try to reassure your boy in every way possible. Spend time regularly with him alone. Let him see that you love him dearly. Have your husband do the same. Then the nightmares may stop.

Larkspur Man Gets 1 To 5 For Car Theft

A former Larkspur restaurant operator, suspected of bigamy, was sentenced to a prison term of one to five years for car theft, in Marin Superior Court Monday.

George Francis Gay Jr., 28, who ran a restaurant at 1125 Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur until last year, was convicted of stealing his second wife's car last October.

Gay has a prior record, including a grand larceny conviction in Florida in 1952.

Because of the prison sentence for car theft, a bigamy charge pending against Gay was dismissed yesterday on recommendation of the district attorney.

Gay has a wife in Portland, Maine, according to Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales. While this marriage was still in effect, he married Alice Florence Shepherd of Larkspur last July. Last October, she complained to police that Gay had disappeared with her 1952 car.

Marinwood Sewers Getting Cleaned

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District has started cleaning of sewers in the Marinwood area but water service is not expected to be materially affected in spite of precautionary notice, the district office announced.

About one-quarter of the district lines are cleaned annually by a Los Angeles firm under contract. A rubber ball attached to a cable is forced through the pipe by a weight of water behind it and accumulated debris is thus removed.

District officials said about 20,000 feet of district sewers were cleaned in the Santa Venetia area within the last 10 days without apparent inconvenience to water users.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

'Working-Over' For Proposed Tiburon City

The proposed city of Tiburon received a thorough working-over at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula chamber of commerce. No action was taken by the 18 members present "until it can be discussed further."

William H. Rafter presented the pro-incorporation view, concluding with, "It's a long way from here to San Rafael and we are all sick and tired of it . . . we want local control."

Speaking against incorporation was Robert A. Sterling, who prophesied a "fumbling, broken-down wreck of a city council if the two special districts were eliminated and the city administered them."

Declared Sterling:

"We will lose 10 volunteer commissioners whose yearly salaries are $1,800 and will have to replace them with $29,000 worth of paid help."

Retorted Benton J. Bostick:

"We can't assume that the city council members will be imbeciles . . . We have a high I.Q in this area." Rafter agreed with him.

There was much discussion on the eastern peninsula's population and assessed evaluation vs. the western end, with chamber President William S. Johnstone saying: "The proposed incorporated area presents a socio-economic inequity . . . the eastern end is like Belvedere in its marine living and the western end has always been considered closer to Mill Valley."

Fred F. Zelinsky, owner of large Tiburon business district properties, said:

"I have had two meetings with downtown property owners pleading for me to join with them annexing our property into Belvedere to defeat incorporation and its taking over of our revenue." He declined to reveal any names and added, "I am not anxious to defeat the incorporation proposal."

This statement prompted county planning commissioner Felix M. Warburg to add, "There are a good many people in Belvedere who would relish the opportunity to reduce their taxes by annexing the (Tiburon) business district."

The chamber also dropped its proposed "censorship" of Fred Mantegani for his circulation of a petition protesting the opening of a liquor store in Tiburon.

Members were informed that the Elephant Rock memorial fishing platform fund was still $1,000 shy of its goal.

Highway 101 Re-Routing Topic Of KTIM Program

Re-routing of Highway 101 through Novato will be discussed on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Participating in the discussion will be Novato Mayor Wayne Womack; William Kirk, a resident of Rudnick Highlands, a residential area through which the re-routing might pass, and Peter Ferrarese and Dr. Daniel Augney, co-chairmen of the Novato Chamber of Commerce highway committee.

Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer will direct questions telephoned by listeners to the panelists. The program will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Drunken Driver Given Five Days

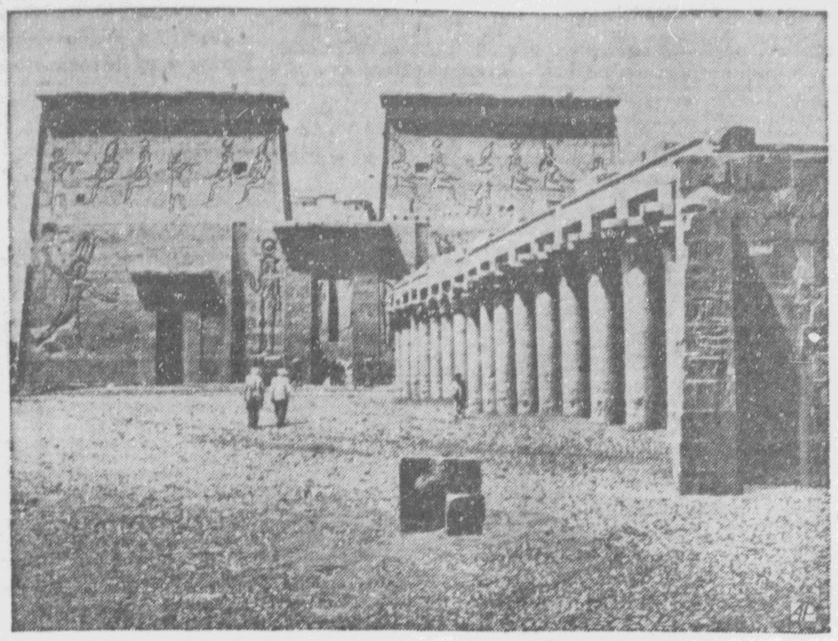
Milton D. Martin, 21, of the 1850th Airways and Air Communication Service, Hamilton Air Force Base, must spend five days in jail and pay $263 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Martin yesterday for driving while intoxicated along the Highway 101 service road at Ignacio on April 14. Martin had a prior conviction last December.

Kelsey Loyd Webb, 39, of Fairfield drew a $210 fine and six months probation for his first drunken driving offense. Webb was caught on Highway 101 on April 30.

After Operation

George N. Walker, counselor at St. Vincent's School for Boys in San Rafael, was reported in "satisfactory condition" at Marin General Hospital today following an operation Monday. Walker lives at 37 Locke Lane, Mill Valley.



TEMPLE FACES INUNDATION

This temple to Isis at Philae, south of Aswan, is involved in President Kennedy's proposal for U. S. contribution to preserve ancient temples and monuments on the upper Nile. They face inundation by the Aswan Dam now under construction.

Sea Water Conversion System Is Explained

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A new idea in the scientific hunt for economic conversion of sea water into fresh water was described yesterday by two General Electric engineers.

They said this "thin film distillation process" shows dramatic advances over previous processes in heat transfer efficiency.

They said the new system also provides a simple, positive means for controlling scale formation—a major obstacle in sea water distillation.

Richard K. Fairley of Schenectady, N.Y., manager of engineering applications, said first testing of the process outside G.E. laboratories will start in July at Annapolis under a $45,000 Navy contract.

The Navy research contract is aimed at developing improved sea water converters for submarines and surface ships. The single tube test unit for the Navy will produce 1,200 gallons of fresh water daily.

Ralph E. Anderson of Burlington, Vt., where a pilot distillation plant is being developed, said G.E. has proposed a 37,000 gallons a day pilot plant for testing by the Department of Interior's Office of Saline Water.

The process idea is this:

A thin film of sea water about one-thousandth of an inch thick—is laid on the walls of the evaporating cylinder by wiper blades rotating about 200 revolutions a minute.

The film evaporates as it is heated by condensing steam on the outer fluted surfaces of the evaporating cylinder.

The film evaporates quickly, without boiling or bubbling. This minimizes carryover of salt particles into the vapor. The product vapor is condensed into high purity water.

Downwash of brine and wiper action in the evaporation tube prevents scaling.

Fairley predicted commercial production of water converting plants within the next 10 years.

Bilking Suspects Held Over For Superior Court

Two men, accused of trying to bilk two elderly sisters in San Anselmo of $800, were held to answer in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court bound the two men over to the higher court, Vernon G. Lawson, 24, and J. B. Moody, 35, both of Sacramento, will appear in superior court Monday for attempted grand theft.

Asst. Police Chief Sam N. Serio of San Anselmo said the two men are suspected of getting an $800 check from Emma F. and Josefa Daniel, 81 and 86 years old, of 101 Ross Avenue for home repairs during the last five years. Serio said there is no evidence that the work was done on the house.

The bail, previously set at $2,625 each, was lowered to $1,050 each.

Many Districts 'Over Top' For Concert Series

Many districts have gone "over the top" in the current Marin Music Chest summer concert series subscription drive, according to Mrs. Samuel Archibald, Music Chest president.

Areas that have exceeded last year's quota, and their chairmen, include: Belvedere, Mrs. Arline Guilfoyle; Del Mesa, Mrs. Patricia Oyster; Greenbrae, Mrs. Daniel Polak; Kent Woodlands, Mrs. John Wolfe; Sleepy Hollow, Mrs. Stephen Pinson; College Park, Mrs. Richard Casey; Hilldale, Mrs. Howard Ellis; Homestead, Mrs. Kurt Schlesinger. San Rafael districts and chairmen include Southern Heights, Mrs. Anna Dooley; Bret Harte, Mrs. Robt. Houston; San Pablo Road, Mrs. Earl Barnt.

Solicitation in districts closes next Monday. However, Music Chest headquarters at Hoy's, 1133 Fourth Street, will remain open until the end of the month.

I-J Readers Requesting Needlecraft Patterns

Readers of the Independent-Journal requested 2,321 dress and needlecraft patterns from King Features Syndicate in 1960, Harold Schneider, manager of the syndicate pattern department, has reported. A total of 620 reguest were made in the first quarter of the year.

This good response reflects a trend in the pattern field across the country, Schneider said. He noted that this is a period of intensive home-sewing and needlecraft.

Labor-Management Course Completed

Walter M. Laidlaw of 938 Greenhill Road, Mill Valley, yesterday was graduated from a course in labor-management at University of San Francisco. He was awarded a certificate for completion of the course at a dinner held in San Francisco.

Youth's Liquor Supply Probed

The Marin district attorney's office is investigating allegations by an 18-year-old Petaluma youth that his San Rafael boss provided him with whiskey and beer on the job last Friday.

The drinks led to the arrest of Norman Orin Cable, who works for a fence company in San Rafael. Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court fined Cable $158 and suspended the youth's driving privilege for 90 days for drunken driving. Cable was caught as he drove north on Highway 101 after work Friday.

Judge Wilson asked Deputy Atty. P. Roy Vallarino to investigate Cable's allegations against his boss.

"It's a complicated case," said Vallarino. "The youth says he was provided liquor by his employer, and the employer says the youth caused a disturbance and wants to file a complaint against him. We are looking into the matter."

Stinson Wild Flower Show Over Weekend

There were 1,013 visitors to the Stinson Beach wild flower show Saturday and Sunday at Stinson Beach.

The show, the fourth annual, had more than 500 varieties of flowers displayed. Proceeds of $705 will go toward completion of the Stinson Beach Community Chapel, according to Mrs. Edward E. Leary.

Marin YMCA Sign-Ups For Summer Set

The YMCA of Marin has announced that registration for summer camping will be taken Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the "Y" office at 1009 Irwin Street, San Rafael

Four types of camp programs will be offered to boys and girls of various age levels, said Louis Albrecht, executive secretary of the local "Y."

Vagabond day camp for boys from 7 to 11 years will open the camping season. Four two-week sessions will be held in Deer Park Canyon near Fairfax as follows: June 19-30, July 3-14, July 17-28 and July 31-Aug. 11. Activities will include crafts, group games, story-telling, singing, hut building, nature study. Campers will go swimming three afternoons weekly in private pools, with instruction given by counselors trained in the Red Cross life saving program. There will be trips to the zoo and Golden Gate Park in San Francisco, Tomales Bay State Park, and a Marin lake.

For boys in the 9-to-13 age group, 10 days of residence camping is offered in the Santa Cruz Mountains at Camp Tolowa. The dates are July 28-Aug. 6. The facilities include a large, heated pool for swimming. Activities include crafts, archery, hiking, cook-outs, campfire programs every night.

A new summer program for teen-age boys and girls offered by the YMCA or Marin will be a teen-age work camp, also at the Y campsite in the Santa Cruz Mountains near La Honda. This is open to sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Fire Season Restrictions

The fire season and restrictions on open burning begin Monday in the Novato Fire District.

Under fire season regulations all fires must be out by noon each day and fire permits are required for barbecue pits.

Incinerators should have a clear area of bare earth for at least 10 feet in diameter around them and should have no holes larger than a quarter inch, Fire Chief George Cavallero noted. A faucet and 50 feet of hose should be close by incinerator fires and an adult should be in attendance at all types of controlled burning.

Air Research Award Won By Marinite

Norris N. Murray of Novato has won an "Outstanding Achievement" award from the Air Research and Development Command at Andrews Air Force Base, Md.

His work for the command is secret. Murray is a civilian employed by a division of Sierra Engineering Co., working on research and development in the aerospace project. He formerly was employed by H. Koch and Sons, Corte Madera. His wife and son, Walter, reside at 1523 Buchanan Street, Novato.

Talk On Vandalism

Inspector Harvey Teague, juvenile officer in the Marin County sheriff's office, will speak on "Guarding Against Vandalism" at the Almonte Improvement Club meeting at 7:30 p.m., May 17, in the clubhouse, Lark Lane and Wisteria Way.

PT&T Planning Dial Equipment At New Building

Installation of dial switching equipment has started at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s new building in Professional Center Parkway in north San Rafael.

J. J. Nichols, Marin telephone manager, said the company expects the equipment will be ready to go into service in October.

The one-story, 125-by-73-foot structure, and the equipment it will house, represents a $1,100,000 investment, Nichols said. It will provide additional service and extra phone numbers to serve the growing north San Rafael area, he said.

Facilities for direct distance dialing will be housed in the new office. Customers with the phone number prefix GReenfield 9 will be served from the building.

A senior general agriculture major, Youngclaus has figured largely in student activities during his four years at Fresno State and at the same time has maintained a B-minus grade average and farmed 20 acres of cotton and corn on the San Joaquin River.

Dear Cy and Nan,
We have just about completed the 2 bedrooms, 2 bath home that perches on that secluded tree-studded lot. The plank floors and used brick make the outside oak by the deck, part of the home. A compact stainless steel electric kitchen only adds to the enjoyment of the whole picture. We tried to develop something different and unusual and still keep the price below a tract home. This home can easily be finished into a 4 bedroom, 3 bath. We are asking $24,950.

Dear Nan - Cy,

Dear Cy,
This Oak Ave. hacienda sits secluded, like a rock on the purple Appenines. Nan would have plenty of room to toss a meal together in this spotless kitchen and serve your voracious appetite in a charming dining area. There are 3 neat bedrooms plus a tremendous view and besides, it's brand new. Priced at $23,400.

Performing Arts Group Officers Told

Winifred Baker, assistant professor of music at Dominican College and director of the Winifred Baker Chorale, has been elected president of the board of the newly founded Marin Festival of Performing Arts.

The organization, which has filed for incorporation as a non-profit institution, will present what it hopes will be the first of an annual series of festivals of performing arts on June 2, 3 and 4.

Wilbur F. Russell, associate professor of music at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, is executive vice president.

Charles Meacham, concertmaster of the Marin Symphony and founder of the Marin Arts Quartet, has been named vice president in charge of music. Dick Ford, founder and head of the Dick Ford Dancers, vice president in charge of dance; Robaline Meacham, well known Marin County pianist, vice president in charge of drama.

Pianist Faith Yost France is secretary, and Jess France, Marin County head of York and Co., is treasurer and financial counsel. Other members of the board are William Walsh, William Baker and Dick Ivan Oberholtzer.

Organ Soloist Program Set For Seminary

Fourteen-year-old Russell Taylor will play a program of organ music Sunday at 3 p.m. in Montgomery Chapel of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

Russell is a con of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor of Mill Valley. He appeared as soloist in the January concert of the Marin Youth Orchestra under Hugo Rinaldi.

Sunday's program will feature works from the three choral collections of J. S. Bach, the Schubler Chorales, the Oregelbuchlein, the Great Eighteen Chorales, as well as the Concerto for Organ in G Major. From the Romantic period he will play three chorales by Johannes Brahms, and will conclude with the contemporary festive postlude, "Dankt, Dankt, Nu Allen God" by Cor Kee of Holland.

The program is open to the public without charge.

About 27 cents out of every consumer dollar goes for housing. Food accounts for 22 cents; travel, 12 cents; clothing, 10 cents; and health and recreation, six cents each.

CHARLES MEACHAM
Violin soloist

Final Baroque Concert Of Season Sunday

The San Rafael Baroque String Orchestra under Hugo Rinaldi will give its fourth and final concert of the season Sunday at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall of Dominican College, San Rafael.

The major work will be Vivaldi's "Four Seasons," with violinist Charles Meacham of Mill Valley as soloist.

Meacham is a graduate of the University of California and received his master of arts degree from Mills College, where he later taught violin as a member of the faculty. Principal of the second violin section of the San Francisco Symphony and Opera, and concertmaster of the Marin Symphony Orchestra, he is the founder and first violin of the Marin Arts Quartet, which will play its fourth season in June at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

A second major composition will be the Concerto in C minor for Oboe and Orchestra by Benedetto Marcello, with Miss Jean Stevens as soloist. Miss Stevens, who is a teacher of wind instruments in the San Rafael school system, is a graduate of the University of California and studied with the noted oboist Bert Gassman.

She will appear later in the program as a soloist in William Barlow's "The Winter's Passed."

Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" will conclude the concert.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The orchestra is sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department in association with the music department of Dominican College and the Symphony Guild of Marin.

In College Musical

Michael W. Leibert, junior dramatic art student at Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Leibert of 5 Edgewater Road, Belvedere, was cast in the role of Shipochin in "Pop-off," an original musical presented this month at the Whitman Theater.

Medics Back Speed Up Of Salk Shots

Directors of the Marin Medical Society Monday gave full support to recommendations by the State Department of Public Health and the Marin County Health Department for speeding up the usual schedule of Salk vaccinations to protect against paralytic polio.

Public health authorities are suggesting an interval of one to two weeks between first and second shots, and one month between second and third shots.

(The usual schedule calls for an interval of one month between the frist two shots and of seven to twelve months between second and third shots.)

Dr. Russell Klein, society president, explained that because paralytic polio is still occurring in California (332 cases in 1960), all persons of any age who haven't had at least three Salk shots should do so as soon as possible before the "polio season" gets underway.

All who have completed their three shots a year or more ago should have a fourth shot now, Dr. Klein said.

Those who have three shots under the accelerated schedule should have a fourth shot before June 1, 1962, for full protection before the 1962 polio season.

Dr. Klein warned against waiting for the new oral polio vaccine. Public health officials do not expect it to be available in any significant amounts in 1961.

Vaccinations may be arranged with private physicians or at the county health department, 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Appreciation

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Contractor Erle Bucheit, appreciative of cooperation from youngsters during construction at Roosevelt School, expresses his thanks in a practical way. He bought ice cream for everyone at the school.

17TH CENTURY CONCERT—Carrie Teel, San Francisco pianist, will be guest artist with the Blockflute Players in a program of 17th century music to be presented at 8 p.m. Friday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Mission Avenue and Court Street, San Rafael.

Explorer To Discuss South American Trip

Gerald Conners, explorer and naturalist, will show and discuss a film of an adventurous South America trip before the Marin Nature Group in a special program at 8 p.m. Friday in Room 40, College of Marin.

Conners went from the Andes mountains in Colombia by raft down the Rio Arata to its mouth, then walking 100 miles into Panama and sailing with San Blas Indians along the shores of the Caribbean.

LET DAD DO IT

. . . On Mother's Day

Let Dad fix the dinner. He's a Steak specialist, anyway. He mixes a mean salad, too. DAD—A WORD OF WARNING! Better shop at Mother's favorite store. That's Drake Market. She's been feeding you well—and keeping the budget in hand at the same time while buying here. You'll enjoy shopping our store, too. It's quick, easy and everyone is friendly. You don't need to be an expert to recognize the good buys, either.

Performing Arts Group Officers Told

Winifred Baker, assistant professor of music at Dominican College and director of the Winifred Baker Chorale, has been elected president of the board of the newly founded Marin Festival of Performing Arts.

The organization, which has filed for incorporation as a non-profit institution, will present what it hopes will be the first of an annual series of festivals of performing arts on June 2, 3 and 4.

Wilbur F. Russell, associate professor of music at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, is executive vice president.

Charles Meacham, concertmaster of the Marin Symphony and founder of the Marin Arts Quartet, has been named vice president in charge of music. Dick Ford, founder and head of the Dick Ford Dancers, vice president in charge of dance; Robaline Meacham, well known Marin County pianist, vice president in charge of drama.

Pianist Faith Yost France is secretary, and Jess France, Marin County head of York and Co., is treasurer and financial counsel. Other members of the board are William Walsh, William Baker and Dick Ivan Oberholtzer.

Organ Soloist Program Set For Seminary

Fourteen-year-old Russell Taylor will play a program of organ music Sunday at 3 p.m. in Montgomery Chapel of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

Russell is a con of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor of Mill Valley. He appeared as soloist in the January concert of the Marin Youth Orchestra under Hugo Rinaldi.

Sunday's program will feature works from the three choral collections of J. S. Bach, the Schubler Chorales, the Oregelbuchlein, the Great Eighteen Chorales, as well as the Concerto for Organ in G Major. From the Romantic period he will play three chorales by Johannes Brahms, and will conclude with the contemporary festive postlude, "Dankt, Dankt, Nu Allen God" by Cor Kee of Holland.

The program is open to the public without charge.

About 27 cents out of every consumer dollar goes for housing. Food accounts for 22 cents; travel, 12 cents; clothing, 10 cents; and health and recreation, six cents each.

CHARLES MEACHAM
Violin soloist

Final Baroque Concert Of Season Sunday

The San Rafael Baroque String Orchestra under Hugo Rinaldi will give its fourth and final concert of the season Sunday at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall of Dominican College, San Rafael.

The major work will be Vivaldi's "Four Seasons," with violinist Charles Meacham of Mill Valley as soloist.

Meacham is a graduate of the University of California and received his master of arts degree from Mills College, where he later taught violin as a member of the faculty. Principal of the second violin section of the San Francisco Symphony and Opera, and concertmaster of the Marin Symphony Orchestra, he is the founder and first violin of the Marin Arts Quartet, which will play its fourth season in June at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

A second major composition will be the Concerto in C minor for Oboe and Orchestra by Benedetto Marcello, with Miss Jean Stevens as soloist. Miss Stevens, who is a teacher of wind instruments in the San Rafael scnool system, is a graduate of the University of California and studied with the noted oboist Bert Gassman.

She will appear later in the program as a soloist in William Barlow's "The Winter's Passed."

Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" will conclude the concert.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The orchestra is sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department in association with the music department of Dominican College and the Symphony Guild of Marin.

In College Musical

Medics Back Speed Up Of Salk Shots

Directors of the Marin Medical Society Monday gave full support to recommendations by the State Department of Public Health and the Marin County Health Department for speeding up the usual schedule of Salk vaccinations to protect against paralytic polio.

Public health authorities are suggesting an interval of one to two weeks between first and second shots, and one month between second and third shots.

(The usual schedule calls for an interval of one month between the frist two shots and of seven to twelve months between second and third shots.)

Dr. Russell Klein, society president, explained that because paralytic polio is still occurring in California (332 cases in 1960), all persons of any age who haven't had at least three Salk shots should do so as soon as possible before the "polio season" gets underway.

All who have completed their three shots a year or more ago should have a fourth shot now, Dr. Klein said.

Those who have three shots under the accelerated schedule should have a fourth shot before June 1, 1962, for full protection before the 1962 polio season.

Dr. Klein warned against waiting for the new oral polio vaccine. Public health officials do not expect it to be available in any significant amounts in 1961.

Vaccinations may be arranged with private physicians or at the county health department, 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

17TH CENTURY CONCERT —Carrie Teel, San Francisco pianist, will be guest artist with the Blockflute Players in a program of 17th century music to be presented at 8 p.m. Friday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Mission Avenue and Court Street, San Rafael.

Explorer To Discuss South American Trip

Gerald Conners, explorer and naturalist, will show and discuss a film of an adventurous South America trip before the Marin Nature Group in a special program at 8 p.m. Friday in Room 40, College of Marin.

Conners went from the Andes mountains in Colombia by raft down the Rio Arata to its mouth, then walking 100 miles into Panama and sailing with San Blas Indians along the shores of the Caribbean.
